Hearts Will Throb At Party Tonight In Dining Hall

'Y' Invites Students To Valentine Fete; Will Start At 7.45

By Dan Cupid

Come follow me to the Valentine Party in the dining hall at 7:45 tonight. Leave all the world to its babblings of this and that to indulge in the well-known game of heart throbs. But first, your admission charge—15 cents.

From the time you get there, if you get there (and the "Y" hopes you'll get there), group games will be played. If no one becomes entangled in the decorations, a combination folk and barn dance will ensue.

Of course there will be refreshments followed by the delivery of Valentines to those deserving ones (should've said twos). And the climax will be awarding of a super-special prize. Will you, won't you, will you, won't you come to the Valentine Party?

Albrightian Staff To Meet At 1 P. M.

The Albrightian staff will meet in room 103 at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Assignments will be given for next week's issue.

Junior-Senior Addresses To Be Presented April 3

The date for the Junior-Senior oratorical contest has been changed to April 3rd. The date of the Junior contest is, however, still February 27th. Juniors planning to enter this contest should give their names to Professor Harding immediately.

Sophs, Frosh To Dance Feb. 21

Plan 3½ Hour Party For Orioles' Home

The twelfth, fourteenth, and twenty-second have always been highspots on the February calendar, but this year the sophomores are highlighting another date—the twenty-first—with their Soph-Frosh party-dance.

The party-dance, which is not a dance with entertainment thrown in for those who don't dance but an informal party with dancing thrown in for those who do dance, will be held at the Orioles' Home on Eighth Street, from 8:30 to 12 P. M.

Those three and a half hours will be dedicated to FUN, with entertainment, refreshments, and dancing. A committee will sell tickets, at fifty cents each. One member of each couple must be either a Frosh or a Soph.

'Steering' Committee For Student Council Named By Rusbosin

President Appoints New Leaders For Second Semester

New committees for the second semester were announced by Vincent Rusbosin, president of Student Council, at a meeting of the student legislature on Monday afternoon.

The newly-appointed committee chairmen and their assistants are: Social activities, Natalie Brant and Ray Swett; school spirit, Waldo Eshelman and Winfield Morgan; freshman orientation, Woodrow Witmer and Jane Louise Haupt; constitutional, Dennis Strawbridge and Ray Hain; chapel, James Bryce and Olen Boyer; dining hall, Carl Yoder and Donald Buxton; campus, John Boardman and Robert Kinginger.

Rusbosin also announced the creation of a Student Council executive committee to act as a "steering" committee for the student government. The members are Seymour Mendelsohn, vice-president; Dorothy Gaul, secretary-treasurer; Vincent Rusbosin, president, and Mrs. Anna H. Smith, faculty adviser.

Need Gym, Chapel Dr. Masters Tells College Trustees

Also Wants More Room For Library Program; Dr. Klein Reports

If the suggestions made by President Dr. Harry V. Masters to trustees of the college are translated into action, Albright will have a new gymnasium, a chapel-auditorium, and additional space for library activities.

Speaking to the trustees at their annual meeting here on Wednesday, Dr. Masters stressed the need for these three additions to the college. It was Dr. Master's yearly report, summaries of their work during 1940 were also presented by the Rev. Dr. Warren J. Klein, president emeritus, head of the endowment work, and by Bishop John S. Stamm, Harrisburg, president of the Evangelical School of Theology.

In an optimistic report on the theology school, Bishop Stamm suggested a financial adjustment plan that would make possible separate incorporation of the school of theology.

Three Ways to Collect.

A three-fold program for obtaining contributions for the college and the school of theology was presented by the Rev. Dr. Klein. It included: 1—Collection of unpaid subscriptions in the city of Reading and the Evangelical Church; 2—Acquisition of the balance of the Annie M. Pfeiffer subscription of $250,000 and liquidation of the entire indebtedness of Albright College; and 3—Continued emphasis on annuities and bequests.

The time limit on matching Mrs. Pfeiffer's grant has been extended to 1942, the Rev. Dr. Klein said. One-half of the grant has been paid to date, he announced.

The plan for raising funds by living endowments, as outlined by the Rev. Dr. Klein, calls for contributions each year over a period of five or ten years by alumni of the college and the seminary.

ABC Invited To Bankers' Meeting

Federal Reserve Official Will Speak On 'Gold'

Members of the Albright Business Club have been invited to attend a meeting of the Reading Chapter of the American Institute of Banking on next Tuesday, to hear C. A. Sienkiewicz, assistant vice president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia.

The affair will be held in the Wyomissing Club, starting at 6:30 o'clock. The banker's subject will be "The Effect of Gold in Our Credit System."

Musical entertainment will be provided by the Albright College male quartet. More than 150 bankers from Berks County are expected to attend.

Letter To Editor

(The following letter does not necessarily express the opinions of the Albrightian staff.)

By CUSTOM MAID.

Dear Editor:

I'm back again. This time it's about the new rule on bell-ringing at the end of classes. Why is it that we students never are satisfied when we have something good?

Last semester, and for many semesters before that, the perennial howl arose from the student body about certain profs who snobbed the final bell, keeping the restless studes balancing tensely on the edge of their seats waiting for the "that's all."

When this semester started, a new setup was introduced in which a warning bell rings three minutes before the class ends. The theory was that summaries could be made, conclusions drawn, and the lid could be capped on the day's lesson during that time.

But what happens. The minute the warning signal sounds, notebooks begin to snap, texts bang shut with a "come-on-prof-get-it-over-with" attitude, the drones begin to rise, and the poor prof gets the squeeze play.

I'm not a professor. I'm a student. I have not been promised an "A" for writing this letter, even though I could use one. It just doesn't seem fair to me that we don't give our instructors a chance to show that they will be fair with us.

'Steering' Committee

Change Meeting Date

In order not to conflict with faculty meetings and give the members of the faculty committee on student activities a chance to attend council meetings, the sessions will be held the second and fourth Monday of every month hereafter.

Natalie Brant announced the next council dance for Saturday, April 26. Friday night, April 25, has been given to the Junior Class for its prom.

A motion was passed to add a small sum of money to the administration grant to send three council representatives to Penn State College next week to attend the convention of the Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Student Council Association.

Friends, on Monday evening, February 10, you either witnessed or passed up one of the greatest scientific achievements presented upon the Albright campus in many a year, we are sure. If you were present, you experienced an educational presentation which marks the high point in scientific interests and values thus far attained in the present academic year at Albright. The occasion, though given well-warranted publicity, seems to have been overlooked by many persons who to their sad regret now realize their mistake. Those who were not present may think the attention given in this column to the Skull and Bones meeting on Monday evening is undeserved. Those who attended, however, surely must agree that Dr. Glenn Delbert's presentation of the films on a Caesarian operation, treatment of a fracture of the femur, skin grafting, and a post-mortem deserves the whole-hearted acclaim of us all.

Dr. Delbert presented a film showing a Caesarian operation in color photography. The entire procedure was so vividly presented that one felt his own presence in the operating room. To those who, because of certain unstable conditions, passed into the realm of unconsciousness during the projecting, we can only say, if ever there was a time which warranted swooning, this was one of the times. Many a one sat shocked and aghast as the surgeon made his incision into the abdomen of the negro mother and bared the inner body cavity. All were amazed to behold the emergence of the little "pickaninny" into the world through a way which "man" himself had invented for the preservation of the life of the fetus and the alleviation of terrific pains to the suffering mother.

We wish to congratulate Dr. Glenn Delbert, our own school physician, on his masterpiece in science and photography. We suggest that the films be shown again for the benefit of those who were absent.

Dr. Delbert also presented pictures of the treatment of a fracture of the hip bone into which were driven metal pegs to hold the broken parts together.

Another presentation was one of the doctor's own cases in which he successfully grafted skin from a woman's thigh onto her leg to heal up a cavity formed by an ulcer.

After presenting a set of beautiful shots of waterfalls in the Pocomo as an interlude, Dr. Delbert screened the last film, one which he obtained from another doctor, on a post-mortem examination. Although this reel was shot in black and white, it still possessed the stark realism of the morgue. As one saw the doctor empty the body cavities of its vital organs, one just realized why the strict training of the doctor and the nurse is justified.

We would like to urge Dr. Delbert to prepare more such films of unique cases in the medical profession and present them here for our approval. Their educational value, we feel, merits this act.

GEORGE'S GOOFY GAB

Love (for) Lorn.

What could be more appropriate than to have an Advice Column make its initial appearance on Valentine's Day! Oh Mush... Today's the day of hearts and flowers... of Cupid and arrows... and with it have come several letters, seeking help from the Vice of Experience... The first pitiable, saddening letter reads:

Dear Mr. Gab:

For 49 years, 11 months, and 26 days I have been engaged to a man who I love very much. We have been very happy but now things seem to be different. Suddenly he has stopped wearing red and green plaid shirts and orange and purple striped socks. And now yesterday he even went out and bought a neck tie. Do you think he no longer cares for me? Should I give up my red woolen stockings and perhaps even my beautiful yellow turtle neck sweater? Please help me because I don't know what to do anymore.

Anxious.

Dear Anxious:

Don't be so anxious. He cares for you very much, depending on the amount of lavender in that tie he bought. By all means give up your red woolen stockings... Don't forget clothes make the man, so watch what you wear... By the way, did you ever SEE a turtle neck?

X-slurp Number 2:

Dear Mr. Goofygab:

Your fame as an advisor to those caught in the tenacles of amorosness has reached into our little village of L'Amour and so I, embraced by love's inestimable joy, write to you for light on my love life's deepest problem.

The object of my affection, Mr. Goofygab, is a 39-year-old singer-midget who is taking voice lessons in Hollywood with the teacher of Deanna Durbin. All went well in our relationship 'till one day my vocalizing singer midget laid down an ultimatum. I, to, must scoldy voice—or all is over between us.

I have not slept since last Saturday because I can't sing a note and see my life's joy slip away, as it were, like the strains of some elusive melody, never to be recaptured. Can you, Mr. Goofygab... will you... open your wide wealth of experience, point out to me the influence of vocal collaborations on boy-girl relationships? And can you, I trust, suggest a throat spray which will enable me to sing best tenor? (She deposes second bass, my normal shower-room range.)

Yours in the bonds of love,
Alfredo Smltero.

Dear Mono:

Don't let her kid you, Stinky. Remember—Two can sing as jeepy as one. As for that throat spray, try this one: One ounce of dust from the Chapel steps mixed with two glasses of water from the ivy bowls in the Lie-berry plus a pound of ground from the field twist the Science Hall and the Angel Factory. This will make you a land tenure.

And finally, I received this questionable Valentine:

To George — the Goofy Gab (I don't know why I printed that)
"To my Sweetheart on Valentine's Day

I need not tell You, Sweetheart Mine, That You're my only Valentine
And yet I do;

The Snoopers

By Anne Onymous

Those two Romeos of the Frosh Dorm, namely Hastings and Mertz, were seen strolling down the main stem. That's one way of spending a quiet Sunday evening.

What's this we hear about Ginny Black's new interest in playwrighting — or did someone say "playwright"??

Kathie Taylor keeps the fems guessing every time the boy friend from Washington, D. C. arrives for a dinner date.

Albright was well represented at the F. and M.-Muhlenberg basketball game — Something new on the Saturday night date book.

Jane Redcay is being torn between two loves, piano lessons in her home town and —??? here in Reading!!!

Have you met Saul's cousin, Pauline? This newest addition to the '44 class comes from South Africa and has captured everybody's fancy with her English accent.

Bill McKinney waiting for June (and not the one that follows May.)

Here and there at the Student Council Dance:

... Welcomed back: Helen Hain and Jane Buttorf both in their "same sweet self."

... Dwight Dundore and Al Falcone giving their all for Janet and Kitty, super special fans.

... Marge and Vince—significant of campus "old faithfuls".

Blondie Fleisher has gone ga-ga over one of the junior girls. He goes to anatomy class "Whit-moyer" enthusiasm every day.

Ginny Jackson "ray-diating" with happiness when Mac came to town last weekend.

Jerry Felter still seems to be "Ruther Smithen".

It seems that one of the sophs (C. B.) has become very friendly with the milkman.

"Happy Valentine's Day."

For now's the day when folks reveal To those they love just how they feel, And I LOVE YOU.

Tell me what I can do about it?"

Dear Unrequited:

My, my, I never knew you cared. You can wear a yellow carnation in your hair at the party tonight or leave school to forget. The heart's in back right now—sorry.

You have just read authentic letters from the student body. I hope you will tender each one sincerely and contemplatively. Leave any questions or suggestions you may have at the desk in the Library by next Tuesday noon. Thank you.
LAST WORD DEPT.: Toujours l'amour!

Sholly Sets Scoring Record

Notches 31 Counters Wednesday As Ursinus Bows, 57-35

Wilson Teachers At Northwest Tomorrow Night

Setting a new record for Albright varsity scoring, Dick Shollenberger rang the bell 31 times against Ursinus on Wednesday night, and led his mates to a 57-35 victory in the Eastern Penn. Conference. The frosh copped a thriller, 38-37 on Dewey Boltz's heave in the waning moments.

Taking a rest before the game with Bucknell next Wednesday, the Red and White dribblers will be host to Wilson Teachers from Washington, D. C., tomorrow night in the Northwest arena. The capitalites lost their first tilt with the Lions in the latter's initial fracas of the campaign, 73-47.

Shollenberger's exhibition of marksmanship was second in the league's history only to Raymie Frey's 34 point job for Lebanon Valley in 1938. It will place Dick in a position to cop the league scoring honors this year.

Ken Hashagen's Bears provided a little opposition in the first ten minutes. But Shollenberger & Co. soon got the ball rolling for their fourth straight conference win. Halftime score was 26-13.

Show Parisian Movies To French Club

The French Club presented the film PARIS, by Marcel Poete, at its monthly meeting this week. The film, which included excellent shots of the Eiffel Tower, the Arc de Triomphe, and La Place d'Etoile, gave a picture of Paris as it was before the present war. A business meeting followed at which Richard Weber was elected treasurer.

Talking about attendance finds our own home crowds numbering 9200 for six games.

93 Markers Give New Scoring Record To Kappa Machine

Day Students Swamped; APO's Cop Third, 49-13; Zetas On Top, 39-4

The Kappa and A. P. O. steamrollers continued to squash all competition in the second-half of the inter-fraternity basketball league. The Kappas smeared the Day Students 93-25 to establish a new team scoring record while the A. P. O.'s toppled the Pi Taus, 49-13. The Zetas, in the remaining tilt on the 13th and Union gym, whitewashed the lowly Freshmen, 39-4.

Carl Mogel, who paced the Kappa attack, broke the existing individual scoring record for one game, established by Dick Weber last week, by sinking 29 points to top the old record by two points.

Steve Plaskonos continued to score heavily for the first-half champion A. P. O.'s, by sinking 24 points.

The Zeta offensive, which amassed 39 points, was led by "that man" Dick Weber, who tallied 19 points.

American Papers Best In World Says Devere Allen

'Nofrontier' News Editor Scores 'Over-dramatizing' In Daily News Stories

America has the best newspapers in the world. A tendency to over-dramatize is their only short-coming, Devere Allen, editor of the Nofrontier News Service, told members of the "Y's" at a combined meeting Tuesday night.

All other newspapers have become mere propaganda tools, he said. The censors have raised havoc with all of this country's great world-wide press agencies, he said. The latter, in order to exist, may not risk trouble with the censors.

Commenting on the current war, Allen said, "The real reason why France fell was not just because of corruption, not because of a lack of willingness to fight, but because France was a little country with a declining birth rate and very small production."

Allen cited cases of rebellion in many of the countries of Europe. In Italy, posters calculated to arouse love of Hitler, are surreptitiously torn by nails before noon of the day they are put up. In Czechoslovakia there is sabotage of war materials, he said.

Speaking of France, Devere Allen said that the people have been thinking of war ever since the World War—and hoping for peace. France was unable to hold out against Germany because she was unable to produce war materials fast enough and because she built a Maginot line with a great undefended break at the point through which Germany entered.

Belgium Had No Food. Allen traced the fall of Belgium not to Nazi sympathies of King Leopold (he was the greatest believer in democracy of all the European monarchs), but to the fact that Belgium was unable to hold out because the Allied armies deserted her and because those of her men who had not been killed, wounded, or captured, were existing on a few hard biscuits and no water.

Speaking at the School of Theology chapel in the morning, Allen emphasized the degree of collaboration between the democracies and the dictators in Europe. German gas masks were sold in England as protection against German gas. The leaders of the democracies were loud in their praise of Hitler. Winston Churchill, in a speech on November 11, 1938 (as quoted in the Glasgow Forward), said: "I have always said that if Great Britain were defeated in war, I hoped we should find a Hitler to lead us back to our rightful position among the nations."

Allen reminded those who believe that crushing the German ideas will bring peace, that the last time we did that, thirty-four dictatorships sprang up. He predicted that whoever wins this war there will be oppression, persecution of the Jews, suppression of free speech, and a new unity in Europe—probably by force.

Debaters Head For Shippensburg

Early tomorrow morning, two debate teams and a coach will leave for Shippensburg to participate in the Third Annual Shippensburg Debate Tournament.

The contest subject is, Resolved, That the nations of the Western Hemisphere should form a permanent Union. Seymour Mendelsohn and William Bottonari will uphold the negative, and Olga Bitler and Charles Miesse the affirmative sides of the proposition. Dr. John B. Douds will accompany the teams and act as a judge.

There will be three rounds of debates, all employing the Oregon style. Decisions will be announced at the conclusion of the final round.

The debaters will stop at Hershey on the return trip to witness the Ice-Capades. Saturday afternoon at four o'clock, an Albright team composed of George Evans and Donald Blackmore will clash with a team from Drew University. The debate will take place in the Chapel.

Meet Lockhaven Today

Seymour Mendelsohn and William Bottonari upheld the negative side of the Western Hemisphere question in a debate with Hofstra at Birdsboro High School, yesterday.

Albright will take the affirmative side of this question when Olga Bitler and Charles Miesse match their wits with Lockhaven at Spring Township High School, and the negative when Seymour Mendelsohn and William Bottonari contend with Lockhaven at Fleetwood High School, today.
