Officials Greet New Students

Informal Dinner Welcomes Newcomers

All new students of Albright will be honored at the Fellowship Dinner to be held this evening at 6 p. m. in the College Dining Hall, guests meeting at 5:45 p. m. in Selwyn Parlor. Herbert Hyman will be Master of Ceremonies at this affair which is being sponsored by the Freshman Orientation Committee of Student Council, the Administration, and the "Y's."

Robert Schneider will offer the invocation. College President Harry V. Masters, Kenneth Good, president of Student Council, and George Morfogen, one of the returning veterans, will speak briefly.

Also to be introduced will be Dean George W. Walton; Dean Helen Cunliffe; Lester L. Stabler, Public Relations Administrator; Newell Wert, Y.M.C.A. president; and Dennis Ertel, president of the Veterans' Club of Albright.

Informality will be the keynote of this gathering. There will be no speakers' table; the attending faculty and guests will be seated at the various tables with the new Albrightians.

The musical part of the program will consist of solos by Dorace Hornberger and David DeWitt. Group singing will be featured between the dinner courses. The singing of the Alma Mater will close this dinner.

Professor Ernestine Elder and Shirley Sperans will have charge of the decorations.

Pastors Will Speak At Chapel Services

Rev. Alfred J. Thomas, a trustee of Albright College, will be the speaker in chapel on Thursday, February 14. Rev. Thomas is the pastor of First Evangelical Church in Lock Haven, Pennsylvania.

Brotherhood Week, sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews, will be observed at Albright by the presence of Rev. Howard Goeringer, pastor of St. John's Reformed Church, Reading. Rev. Goeringer's topic in chapel on Tuesday, February 19 will be "Brotherhood."

President Harry V. Masters, in the chapel program on Thursday, February 7, welcomed the new stu-

Tetley-Kardos, Young Pianist, Appears Here

The brilliant American pianist Richard Tetley-Kardos, who appeared in chapel this morning at 10:10 as a feature of the Cultural Series, has been before the public as a musician since boyhood, and although still in his twenties, has had a career full of musical experience.

European Parents

Tetley-Kardos was brought up in California. He was the son of an English father and an Hungarian mother, from whom he inherits his artistic aptitude. Although his parents were only moderately musical, he began taking music lessons and at the age of eight wrote melodies.

Soda Fountain to Radio

Due to his great progress, his parents realized he was destined for a career in music. Because of family financial difficulties in the 20's and 30's, Richard had to work in order to continue his studies. His first job was soda-jerking for which he received $12 a week. At the age of thirteen he was engaged as staff pianist at a radio station in San Diego. By this time his talent had been recognized by many musical authorities who encouraged him to make his debut.

Youthful Debut

After his debut in Los Angeles, his career was definitely determined for him. At the age of eighteen he presented over thirty concerts a year. At that time, the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra chose him to perform Beethoven's "Emperor" concerto in the Hollywood Bowl before an audience of 10,000 people. Since then he has appeared as a concert artist and on the radio throughout the United States and Canada. He gave a recital at Carnegie Hall and a re-engagement at the Hollywood Bowl.

Bachelor's Quarters

Today he makes his home in New York City with his two-wire-haired terriers, "Pete" and "Conchita." He enjoys sports, especially tennis and swimming, and has as his hobbies music and animals. He also likes to prepare food, particularly Hungarian and Syrian dishes.

Using the words of St. Peter as his text, he discussed briefly the virtues that contribute to students' success.

I. R. C. Studies U. N. O. And Saudi Arabia

Peter Cianci, at the next International Relations Club meeting on Monday, February 18, will present a paper on the United Nations Organization. Stephen Winters will give a general survey of Saudi Arabia, a nomad country which is the birthplace of arithmetic, geometry, astrology, and the Moslem religion.

Following this report, Geraldine Wentzel will inform the group on details of Ibn Saud, the central figure in the middle-Eastern drama. Leader of the Arab league of Arabia, this pro-Allied dictator aims to spread Mohammedanism and form a Pan-Arab federation, which he himself would control.

This meeting is an immediate preparation for the Model United Nations Conference to be held from Thursday, March 28 through Saturday, March 30 at Lafayette College. Delegates have not as yet been selected; those interested in attending the conference are urged to see Dr. Milton W. Hamilton, adviser to the International Relations Club.

Short Snorts

FABRIC FILMS

"Facts About Fabrics" and "Fabric News," two films especially selected for chemistry students, will be shown in the Science Lecture Hall at the Alchemists' meeting, 7:30 p. m. tomorrow night. The Alchemists' Club meeting will be open to non-members.

DREAM PSYCHOLOGY

Jean Harer will read a paper on the psychology of dreams, at the Pi Gamma Mu meeting tomorrow night. Shirley Reכון, president, announced that further plans for the annual banquet will also be discussed at this meeting.

LINCOLN, THE ARYAN

"Lincoln's German Ancestry" will be the theme of the February program of the German club, which meets Thursday evening at 7:30 in the Lower Social Room. The discussion will be concerned with the type of people these Germans were and the influence which they had upon the growth of young Abe.

HEO FLASHES

A demonstration for the benefit of the Heo Club will be presented by Prof. Anna H. Smith's junior demonstration class on Monday evening, February 18. All Heo Club members and their mothers are invited to attend.

The national Heo Club pin, which was not manufactured during the war, is again available; the Heo Club plans to order it instead of the substitute pin which had been considered.

Women's Senate Announces March Speakers

Three speakers to date have signed to appear at the Career Conference to be sponsored by the Albright Women's Senate March 27, announced Anna Wartluft, president of the Senate, and Dean Helen L. Cunliffe. The three speakers, Miss Alice Wood, Miss Margaret Wiseman, and Miss Ethel Goforth, in addition to several others, will be participants in the program of vocational guidance to be presented to all Albright women on the March date.

Miss Wood, manager of the home economics department of the Metropolitan Edison Co. in Reading, is a graduate of the University of Cincinnati. Her experience in the home economics field includes positions as home economist at the Philip H. Harrison Co. in New Jersey and member of the home economics department of the Hotpoint Co., Chicago.

Miss Wiseman is executive secretary of the Children's Aid Society of Berks County. She has a master's degree from the University of Pennsylvania School of Social Work, and she has studied at the New York School of Social Work. Miss Wiseman has been a visitor of the Children's Aid Society of Pennsylvania, and executive secretary of the Mothers' Assistance Fund of Berks County, in addition to her present position.

Miss Goforth, a graduate of Albright College, is assistant principal of nursing at the Reading Hospital. She graduated from Shillington High School in 1933 and from Albright in 1937. She was awarded an M.A. degree in nursing in 1940 from Yale University School of Nursing.

Miss Goforth taught science in the School of Nursing of the Bloomsburg Hospital and taught the same subject at the Reading Hospital before she became assistant principal of the school there.

Wert Succeeds Russ, As Y. M. President

Newell J. Wert, vice-president of the Y.M.C.A. during the past semester, will succeed Charles Russ as president according to an announcement by the combined Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. Russ is ineligible for the presidency because he is now a part-time student in the college.

Wert will assume his duties as president at once.

Three Cheers For Huhhhh or Eeeee, The Most Practical Statesman of All

The greatest statesman who ever lived had no name. His wife (or rather, his woman, for they were not married) probably called him either Huhhhh or Eeeee, depending on whether she was a grunter or a squealer.

It will never be known how or when he got the Great Idea, the most revolutionary political conception ever to enter the mind of a man. Of course he couldn't talk, since he had no words to talk with. If he had been able to express it verbally, it would have gone something like this:

"Now that my son is big and strong, the time has come for us to fight each other, and for one of us either to kill the other or drive him out of this cave and keep him out. It has always been that way. But that guy in the cave on the other side of the mountain is bigger and stronger than either of us, and sooner or later he will get the one that stays here. But what if Junior

Council Backs Two Functions

Daymen, "Cue" Staff To Stage Dances

Two social features are on the College calendar for February, the informal Valentine Dance this Friday night sponsored by the Daymen, and the "Cue Ball," a semi-formal dance being staged by the Cue staff Friday, February 22.

Valentine Coronation

The highlight of the Daymen's Valentine dance Friday night in the College Dining Hall from 8-11:30 p. m. will be the coronation of a king and queen. Ira Custman is general chairman of the affair, while Edward Daniels is in charge of decorations.

Novelty Dances

Dancing to records will be featured and several novelty dances will include mop and shoe dances. There will be refreshments at intermission.

The king and queen will be selected from those who receive the largest number of valentines, the men sending valentines to the women and the women sending valentines to the men, and will be crowned at the ball. Any person on campus may put a valentine indicating his choice in the red and white box in the Administration Building. Warren Pfost will deliver the "hearts and flowers."

"Cues" for Servicemen

A semi-formal "Cue Ball" is being sponsored by the "Cue" staff to raise funds necessary to send the "printed campus" to Albrightians in the service. Sam Correnti and his orchestra will furnish music for the dance to be held in the College Dining Hall on February 22 from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m.

Patriotic Theme

One dance set will be played in honor of the three hundred Albright service men to whom copies of the "Cue," the bi-annual yearbook, will be sent. The entire dance theme will be represented in the red, white, and blue decorations and national flags.

Tickets, costing $2.40 per couple, including tax, will be handled by including tax, will be handled by Margaret Hendricks, with Rita Dunne and Margaret Walton assisting. Publicity chairman for the dance is Newell Wert. Chaperones will be Professor Consuelo Rodriguez and Dr. and Mrs. Russell B. Smith.

How Will Future Generations Judge The Success of Today's Democracy?

Was the human race a success?

Will numb and horror-struck cave dwellers after future atomic wars put that question to themselves? Will they say of the majority of us (who will have been vaporized in a flame of reddish nitrogen) that we possessed great talent in technology but that when it came to living together with our fellow men we were ethical idiots?

Why are we so terrified today of the very scientific achievements which inspired us only yesterday to self-congratulation? Because we understand at last, in the blinding light of nuclear physics, that the science of killing is fantastically "progressive" while the art of living and letting live is fantastically "backward." We are stunned by the realization of our own feeble will to see fairness triumph and good will prevail. The problem is complex. We cannot represent it as simple. But surely the most conspicuous expression of ethical idiocy in our times is the continued preaching of doctrines of bigotry, discrimination and prejudice.

Yesterday we denounced the superiority myths of the Germans and Japanese but today we are confronted by the growth of similar superiority myths in the United States. The rest of the world which looks to us for democratic leadership does not fail to note, in disillusionment and cynicism, these discrepancies between what Americans applaud in words but so often fail to practice in everyday relationships.

Washington wrote "The government of the United States which gives to bigotry no sanction, to persecution no assistance, requires only that they who live under its protection should demean themselves as good citizens." Obviously good citizens are all kinds of citizens. In the final reckoning there can be no place in American democracy for bigotry and discrimination or we shall fail as a democracy.

Vol. XLII February 12, 1946 No. 14

Dear Veterans:

Hardly a columnist in this paper can get farther than the first three words of his writing without issuing his own brand of welcome to the new students, veterans, or, as the byword seems to be, the MEN! Since we are in the unique position of having the widest and longest column, we would not pass up the opportunity to post the biggest possible welcome sign.

Forgive us if we all seem to use too much of a red, white, and blue tone of voice, for you see, it is quite natural for us to go patriotic, not to say sentimental. For this is not an ordinary second semester.

The Good Old Days

Here's the way it is, fellows, Albright was once a co-ed school in which the male element dominated distinctly often in the two to one ratio. But only the handful of present seniors remember the days when there was still a preponderance of men here, when there was a football team and a marching band, when fraternity houses not only existed but overflowed with masculinity, when there was a men's glee club. Those few seniors have been telling the tale to underclassmen for three years, much as grandparents are wont to relate to the kiddies tales of the good old days. The good old days when there were men.

Just Wait Until the Men . . .

It has become almost a habit for Albrightians to say, when campus affairs have been not too prosperous, "Well, things will be different when the fellows come back." So you see fellows, you are not just a bunch of students entering college in the middle of the year. You are a long-awaited and eagerly anticipated race; you are MEN—the much-heralded male element which is going to transform war-time Albright to something approximating pre-war Albright. You will be the backbone of the athletic program; you will be a shot in the arm to social affairs. You are new and vigorous blood in collegiate arteries.

Real Versus Ideal

Yes, we expect a lot of you. But we are not without misgivings. You no doubt expect a lot of Albright too. Perhaps you have been nursing an idealistic view of the Albright you left—the Albright of fraternity houses and old friends. You won't find it that way now. Perhaps you have never been to college and you too have dreamed up an idealistic picture of collegiate life. You may be disappointed.

Every new student must reconcile his college ideal to the real college as he experiences it. But perhaps you feel older; perhaps students here seem childish and frivolous. Perhaps you expected an obvious intellectual depth in everything; or perhaps it was a bubbling social life you expected to find. Whatever you expected, you may now look and find it lacking. You may become disillusioned and impatient. You may go cynical on us and decide college isn't so important after all.

The More We Get Together

We hope you will not be thus disappointed and disillusioned. There is a place for you here if you make a real effort to get into the swing of things. We have looked forward to your coming; we all welcome you. But it has been some time since we saw so many men at one time. So more than likely we will be a little awkward at first to know what to do with you. If Albright seems a strange place to you, it is no stranger than the picture old Albrightians have—the Albrightians who thought they knew Albright. We shall have to become rehabilitated together.

We throw out the welcome mat and anxiously await the transformation we expect your presence to work here. You expect a lot of Albright and us. Let's get together on that, what do you say? It should be a great year!

By FRED PERFECT

The science majors and all the other Albrightians extend a sincerely hearty welcome to our fellow students . . . the veterans. We needn't rehash the fine job these fellows have done; they're home now—rolling up their sleeves and wading into any and all the studies the Science Hall can offer them. In a few weeks we'll all be familiar and numerous friendships will bring us together as a closely knit Albright family.

Hail and Farewell

Life often reveals a great number of uncanny paradoxes; so it is that in connection with one of these, we give our farewells to those fine fellows who have given us a lot of really good laughs throughout the last four months. They are going to do justice to themselves and our nation; they have proven this in their affairs at Albright so we wish them luck and truly hope that they will come back very soon.

Give and Give Again

The March of Dimes . . . most of us are beginning to tire—perhaps it's a "little too much of the good thing." However, we have given, and we shall continue to give; we Americans characterize ourselves by our generosity. Our support to this program is simply another indication of our faith in science. With our help and a little time we know that science will definitely win and that someday we will read . . .

Date—1966

Poliomyelitis—an acute inflammation affecting the gray substance of the spinal cord usually in children about the period of the first dentition. It comes on suddenly, often with fever, and is attended with motor paralysis and atrophy of groups of muscles, ending in contraction and permanent deformity. It is caused by filtrable virus which has been identified by Dr. Gus Woiham. The treatment which is successful in a great majority of even the most advanced cases was advanced by Dr. You Knome as an inter-spinal injection of Quecillum. Both of these eminent scientists were former students of Albright College, Reading, Penna. (wishful thinking? . . . mum, perhaps, but we shall see.)

Thomas A. Edison

February the 11th marks the 99th anniversary of one of America's great scientists. He was born at Milan, Ohio from which he moved with his family when he was seven years old. His father served in Michigan, and in the State of Port Huron our young inventor spent the rest of his boyhood. He saved the life of a railroad agent's child and was rewarded with an opportunity to learn telegraphy and shortly thereafter he was recognized as one of the best on the Grand Trunk Railway.

Ingenious Scientist

About this time a weekly paper appeared on this same railway as follows, Grand Trunk Herald, T. Edison Ed. But Edison's life was only beginning, and improved telegraph equipment was followed with a stock ticker which netted Edison $40,000 with which he opened his first real laboratory. From this new lab those inventions we are so familiar with surged forth in an almost continuous stream. Edison was honored by many nations, but in summing up his life and work we must note the basis for this success—that is that distinction should be made between the pure scientist with a mathematical and philosophical knowledge, and the ingenious and productive inventor who can apply a scientific truth to a practical end.

Albrightians Brave Treacherous Ice—All For Alma Mater

After wearing ourselves down to a frazzle during exam week, we all enjoyed the brief vacation afforded us and were held "Spellbound" by "My Reputation" and "Leave Her to Heaven." But when Wednesday morning dawned, we grabbed our dusty, worn (?) books and dashed for college.

After sliding for half a block on a glassy-like substance commonly called ice, we boarded busses which slithered and slid toward Albright. Many students decided not to bother putting up any type of resistance to the elements and could be seen arriving in rather peculiar sitting positions, sprawling all over the campus.

One enterprising Albrightian hopefully shook the moth balls out of his ice skates, but resorted to a trolley in the end. Another nature-loving soul was watching the squirrels slip from branch to branch when he slipped, and is now considering petitioning the Administration for desks with overstuffed chairs, or at least a cushion or two.

But to cap the climax we have the tale about the fur coat-clad miss, who, as she made a graceful four-point landing on her way down from "Pop's," heard a little girl say to her playmate, "See, there goes one of the Albright lions you hear so much about, crawling down that path!"

Although the ice has turned into slush and rain, we all feel the need of another vacation to recover from the strain put on us the first day. What a welcome back to Albright!

LIONS IN THE RANKS

By JEAN HARER

To begin with this week, we'd like to say "hello and welcome" to all the veterans who are either beginning or resuming their college work this semester.

But while we do this we must also say "good-bye" to those who left at the end of the first semester to become Lions in the Ranks: RUSS MILLARD, PETE BOHREN, JULIAN GREENSPAN, FRANK HODGKINS, DAVIS KOCH, GEORGE SCHNAFEL, WILLIAM SIMMONS, DICK THOMAS, RUDY WALENTA, GLENN BAILEY, and JOEL GILBERT.

On January 24th HERB SILVESTRI wrote to say that he would be seeing us at Albright very soon. He expected to leave for the States on the 29th and to be out of the Navy about the 15th of February.

T/Sgt. WERNER ROSACKER, who has been in Japan with the Sixth Army in the Photo Intelligence Team, 10th Corps Hdq., is on his way home for discharge under the point system. Also expecting to be discharged soon is HENRY L. ORR.

BOB GIAMOTTI, who likes the Navy so well that he's staying in it permanently, paid a visit to campus not long ago. He is assistant navigator on an aircraft carrier and has been making trips to Europe and Bermuda.

Bob was at the Elizabethtown-Albright basketball game, as were MR. and MRS. MIKE DUTZER, POLLY WALLS, and PLUG ESHELMAN. Polly was in the audience, but Plug, now attending Elizabethtown, was on the floor playing for that team. Poor Polly didn't know whether to root for Plug or Albright, but she could hardly go wrong either way. Confidentially, it wouldn't surprise us to hear that wedding bells will be ringing for these two next summer. Polly is stationed in Philadelphia now and expects to be out of the WAVES by July.

By MARION LATTA

Slipping and sliding down the path to the Ad Building on Wednesday morning—the first day of school of the new semester—your reporter innocently pushed open the door and walked into bedlam! But what nice bedlam . . . men, men, everywhere—some familiar, others not—but still men.

We had heard rumors that there were veterans expected back at school—but we've heard those rumors before. Seeing is believing sex we. And believe me, we saw.

Pushing and shoving, I managed to get to the steps leading down to the basement—but there I was stuck, really stuck! It seemed as though the walls themselves were bulging.

And classes—why you wouldn't recognize them as the same ones we sat in the week before exams. Usually students slapped their books on one chair, their coat on another, stuck their legs on the seat in front and themselves on the chair behind—and still there was room. But now!

Old Albrightians are walking around in a daze—seeking familiar faces. But believe me, fellows, we're not complaining, at all. You can crowd us anytime.

WELCOME!!

Charles A. Russ, better known as Charlie, is this week's pre-ministerial Dandy Lion. All the Frosh got to know Charlie through his activities as Y.M.C.A. president during orientation week. His duties in that capacity have been keeping him busy all year, planning programs and the popular "Y" Retreats.

Zeta President

Charlie has been an active member of the College Bible Class during his four years at Albright and of the Kappa Tau Chi, pre-ministerial fraternity. This popular senior also holds the presidency of the Zeta Omega Epsilon fraternity, and was listed this year in the collegiate "Who's Who."

Ministerial Countenance

Hailing from Salladesburg, this week's Dandy Lion will extol the virtues of life on the farm to anyone who will listen. Although his serious countenance gives him the ideal appearance of a minister, which he is, just ask the fellows in the dorm what happens when he relaxes and warms up on some good Lycoming County jokes.

Charlie will be seen less this semester because he is also enrolled at the Theological Seminary and over the week-ends he serves his churches near Port Trevorton. Dandy rumbles his best wishes for success to this dandy Dandy Lion.

Council Says:

Professor Clyde A. Harding, of the faculty publications committee, spoke to Student Council last Thursday, Feb. 7. He urged Council to impress upon their groups the necessity for greater student cooperation behind The Albrightian if it is to continue as a student publication.

A motion was made and seconded to enlist the aid of Dr. Morris S. Greth and Dean Helen L. Cunliffe as faculty advisers on the drawing up of a student ethical code. The Council committee is composed of Richard White, chairman, Warren Pfost, and Thomas Price.

Agnes Snyder, chairman of the chapel committee, submitted a program outline for the second semester "Little Cultural Series," which was approved by members of Council.

Miss Snyder, also co-chairman of the campus World Student Service Fund with Robert Schneider, presented a tentative program for WSSF activities which might be carried out in cooperation with Student Council. Council did not approve the program, but decided to table the matter until the members had reported back to their groups.

Absent from Council last Thursday were Newell Wert, representing the junior class; Reed Frederick, Pi Taus; Irene Fisher, dorm women; Lester L. Stabler and Professor Lewis E. Smith of the faculty; and Fred Perfect, daymen.

W. S. S. F. Chairmen Describe Hardships Of Norwegian Students

The great influx of G.I.'s into American universities can be matched throughout Europe where reopened universities in the liberated lands are experiencing unprecedented enrollments, according to word received by Agnes Snyder and Robert Schneider, co-chairmen of Albright's World Student Service Fund campaign. The great state University of Oslo in Norway is given as an example.

Underground Emerges
Oslo's six thousand students are more than double the pre-war enrollment. These students come from two groups, the veterans of resistance, captivity, or deportation, and the newcomers from the high schools. Those from the underground "emerge from their covers restless and with worn down nerves, unfit for immediate studies," due to frightful privations and dangers.

Personal Privation
One-half of these students cannot find lodgings and are sleeping on cots in the gymnasiums of schools in the city. Most of the students lack good shoes and clothing. Study books in foreign languages are greatly needed.

There is a great shortage of teachers and classes are unduly large. Doctors and dentists are needed in great numbers but there are inadequate laboratory and clinical facilities for the training of medical and dental students. Many students desire to study abroad in the difficult post-war years.

Exchange Students
Eighty Norwegian students have come recently to the United States to study. Thirty of these have scholarships secured through the Institute of International Education in the following institutions: Bowdoin, Bryn Mawr, Bucknell, California, Case, Colgate (2), Dartmouth (2), Illinois Institute of Technology, New Hampshire (3), Pennsylvania, Purdue (2), Radcliffe, Rockford, St. Olaf, Southern Methodist, Stevens Institute of Technology, Temple, Williams (3), Wisconsin (2).

Fire!

Ad Building dwellers were a trifle startled by the smoke which began to drift lazily up the stairs on Friday, February 1. A little after 5 p. m., the fire engines screeched up the driveway, heading for the chapel. The ambitious fire-fighters had taken for granted that the chapel was on fire again, after having been ablaze three times before.

The fire, as it turned out, was in the bookstore—to be more precise, in the mail-boxes. President Harry V. Masters, with a masterful stroke, battered the door down. The fire-fighters rushed through the door and quenched the fire promptly.

is taking a job there, having just been discharged from the Marines.

CHAPLAIN EDGAR STAUFFER also visited us a few days ago. He was in Europe for about a year and is now at Ft. Oglethorpe, Ga.

At the Scranton-Albright game we saw HUBERT MANZOLILLO and also DOTTIE REBER. Dottie has been out of the WAVES for about two weeks but has not decided what she is going to do now.

MR. and MRS. STEVE PLASKONOS were here on campus recently. They are living in Philadelphia and he may decide to go to graduate school there.

Also here not long ago were MR. and MRS. GEORGE HENRY. He has been discharged and expects to go to the Yale School of Drama in March.

WORSHIP

BIBLE STUDY

Marie Bonner, at Bible Class on February 10, will sing a soprano solo, "Come Ye Blessed," by Scott. Miss Bonner will be accompanied by Betty Schroyer. Professor Smith will speak upon the subject, "The Disciples of Experience." Marian Swartz will have charge of the meeting. Bible Class, a part of the "Y" program, meets every Sunday morning at 9 o'clock in the College Chapel.

SUNDAY SERVICE

Esther Savidge will lead the vesper services in Selwyn Chapel on Sunday, February 17, at 7:30 p. m. Stewart McCleary led the service on February 10.

MIDDAY WORSHIP

Robert Schneider conducts the noon-day prayer group today at 1:05 in Sylvan Chapel. On succeeding days the group will be led by J. Howard Smith, February 13; Jack Shafer, February 14; and Agnes Snyder, February 15. Services were led by William Beal, Lois Wheeler, Margaret Hohl and Robert Ziegler last week.

J. Howard Smith is the chairman of this voluntary and informal worship program.

Cage Team Wins Sixth Battle

Mort Witman Stars In Albright Victory

Coach Harris' Albright basketball squad chalked up its sixth win on Saturday, February 2, when, after a close struggle, the Lions defeated the tough University of Scranton quintet, 40-32. The Lions previously captured a victory from Scranton on the losers' home floor.

Svetlich of Scranton scored the first point in the game with a single foul shot. Mort Witman of Albright dropped in the first field goal to give the home team the lead. Then Griglock of Scranton, tied the score with another foul shot. After that the Lions broke loose—Bill Emerich, Joe Kubisen, Bernie Lillis, and Witman adding up the points to make the score 9-2. At the end of the quarter the Red and White led 11-7. During the second quarter Denoia, Griglock, and Sargent dropped in the shots for Scranton to lead by two points at half time.

Lions Lead

The Lions captured the lead in the third quarter, bringing the tally up to 34 points to Scranton's 28. For the first seven and a half minutes of the last quarter the Lions were scoreless and held the Scranton squad down to three points. With two and a half minutes to play Mort Witman broke loose to sink two field goals, and after Olsheski's final point for Scranton, Joe Kubisen finished the scoring with a one-hander.

Witman Gleams

Mort Witman played an outstanding game for Albright both on the offense and defense. In addition to being top scorer with 15 points, Mort was under the basket to catch rebounds and put real fight into the Albright quintet.

Side Lions

The managers of the intramural basketball teams took a good look at the new material pouring into Albright this semester, blinked, and looked again. Yes, all those men were real live men, ones that could give new life to the intramural league. With a new outlook on life, the captains called a truce while they reorganize their teams for a new league.

Zeta's Second

At the end of the first semester, the teams were lined up as follows: the A.P.O.'s won three games and lost none, scoring a total of 167 nents; the Zeta's were second with points to 47 points for their oppo-two wins and one loss and a total of 109 points to 79 points made by their opposition; the Daymen won one game and lost two; the Kappa-Pi-Tau-Non-Frat-Dorm team had no wins and three losses.

A.P.O.'s Place Five

Of the 12 high scorers of the whole league, five were A.P.O.'s. Butch Harting has a total of 54 points; Jack Shafer—43; Frank Hodgkins—27; Dick Gable—21; and Kenny Good—12. The Zeta's had four of the top scorers—Bob Buxton with 41 points; Bob Holtzapple with 23, Dennis Ertel with 18, and Newell Wert with 12. For the Daymen, Paul Siegfried scored 18 points and Abe Markowitz scored 12. Steve Winters tallied 16 points for the K.P.T.N.F. team.

The fellows have had a lot of fun playing the games, and they expect to have bigger and better games with high competition for the top teams this semester.

Lions Travel To Kutztown For Return Tilt

On February 13, the roaring Albright Lions will oppose the strong Kutztown aggregation at Kutztown. Albright has chalked up one victory this year against the Teachers in a thriller diller of a game 38-39. Having lost their last game to Lock Haven 46 to 35 the pedagogues will be gunning for a triumph over Albright, their traditional rival.

Geiss Replaced

Probable starting lineup for Wednesday's game for Kutztown will be Leonard "Mickey" Moll at guard who was so outstanding at Northwest, leading the scorers. Sophomore George Rhodes will fill in the other guard position. Clarke Deppen flashy Wernersville High and Croll and Keck gunner with Charlie Norris are at forward positions. The recent change at center from big 6' 2" 240 pound Eugene Geiss to Freshman Kenny Burkhart rounds out the first team.

Lions Gain Sixth

Albright will go against the teachers with a six win to seven loss record. Other members of the Kutztown team will be Harry Bortz and John Miller at guard positions and LeRoy Hechman plus Don Mascheri at forwards.

Coach Neal O. Harris will probably start his flashy freshman quintet consisting of Lee Cappel and Bill Emrich at forwards and Mort Witman at center with Joe Kubisen and Bernie Lillis at guards. The coach will have on hand his veteran team for reserve duty.

Red & White Loses 7th To St. Joe's 59-41

Wednesday night, February 6, the St. Joseph Hawks outscored a fighting Albright quintet by a 59-41 score. This was one of the nights the hot and cold Hawks were hot, and the Albright boys just couldn't stop their dead shooting.

Mort Witman started the scoring by sinking a one-handed, but it was the only time Albright led, for Poletti, McGroth and Maher, with nice one-handed shots, soon put the score at 9-3. Albright rallied with Joe Kubisen and Bernie Lillis leading the attack and brought the score to 14-11 at the end of the first quarter, in favor of St. Joe's.

St. Joe's Rally

The second quarter was all St. Joe's, and after the Hawks scored three straight field goals, Coach Harris' put in his G.I. team, but they too, were unable to stop the hot-handed Hawks as they led 36-19 at the half.

At the resumption of play Bernie Lillis began to show the Hawks some fancy shooting, and by the end of the third quarter the Red and White had cut St. Joe's lead to thirteen points, 45-32.

Ferguson Uses Subs

In the last quarter Coach Ferguson used his subs against the fast tiring Lions and they too were hot and made several "picture" shots to outscore Albright 14-9 in the last frame.

This was the first loss for the Albright team in the last seven starts, as St. Joe's brought an end to the Albright six game winning streak. Lineups:

By KEN GOOD

In talking to Coach Neal O. Harris, we find that the Albright court mentor is not quite so optimistic as most Albrightians are when it comes to the remaining games on the basketball docket. The coach stated that at the beginning of the year, he had plans for a system which was a sure bet to go places, but there were many intermediate things which interrupted his plans and forced the Red and White boss to set aside his original plan and hurriedly jump at a new one.

The coach further explained his "cautious" attitude by stating that his freshman squad, even though they are improving fast, will probably not be ready this year for stiff veteran court combinations. Harris stated that if he could hold together for one year, the gang he has now, he wouldn't be afraid to set them up against any ball club.

As for the war veterans on the team, the mentor reported again the time element as a drawback. With most of the fellows jumping from khaki to red and white, they did not have time to assimilate the systems and styles of play of the 1945-46 court combine.

Grapevine Stuff

By the way of the sports grapevine we received the following dope from Bill Ebbert concerning the Phila. Naval Base team played by Albright at the beginning of the year.

On December 15, 1945, Albright's freshman lost to a powerful Philly Navy base team 40-27. This was Albright's fourth straight loss and many complaints began to pour in about the Albright team. However, now that we look back at the records of the teams we played, it seems remarkable that we did as well as we did.

When the Navy base came to Albright, their record stood at 15-1. With all ex-college stars, two of them all-Americans, they had won their first eleven games only to lose to Fort Dix 46-42. Since that lone loss their team, headed by Albright's team averaging just eighteen years of age, to a 40-27 count, has won twenty-eight straight games for a seasonal record of 39 out of 40. Only the Great Lakes Naval Training base is ranked higher as a service team in the U. S.

The Philly Navy holds victories over such teams as Penn, Villanova, Valley Forge, and Bainbridge, all top teams. Their 38th victory was a 64-38 mauling of the University of Pennsylvania and their 39th was a 84-43 drubbing of Moravian.

This team has been invited to play in the all-service National tournament held at Denver, Co.

Lebanon Valley Downs Albright

Dutchmen Grab Second As Lions Lose Eighth

The Albright Lions lost their eighth game of the season, dropping a close contest to Lebanon Valley's Flying Dutchmen.

It was Rinsio Marquette, usually a get shot artist, who first cracked the Lions' defense with three close, one-handed shots, and player-coach Frankie Shupper, who kept the Lions out of the running with three last quarter set shots.

Lions Forge Ahead

In the first quarter Albright completely bewildered Lebanon Valley by using a tight zone defense. Marshall Gemberling, L. V.'s high scoring center, opened hostilities by sinking a foul, but Lee Cappel retaliated by tapping one in, followed by Hess' set shot, the only L.V. field goal of the first period. With the blue and white leading 4-2, Cappel again tapped two in, and Bernie Lillis teamed up with Joe Kubisen to score as the quarter ended with Albright leading 8-4.

At the beginning of the second quarter Cappel added a foul and another goal to give Albright an 11-4 lead. At this point each Lebanon Valley player scored two points to give the lead to L.V. 14-11. Albright was not to be denied, however, and Cappel, Emerich and Witman each hit for baskets to change the lead back to Albright 17-14. At the end of the first half Russ Guensch, playing his first game for Albright since his discharge, sank a foul against Marquette and Gemberling's three field goals, and Lebanon Valley had a 20-18 lead, which they never gave up.

L.V. Slowly Pulls Ahead

After the intermission, Guensch sank a foul to cut the lead to 19-20, and for awhile the battle was nip and tuck, Witman closing the gap to two points, 24-26. But Shupper and Marquette kept hitting the cords and slowly L.V. drew ahead, leading 31-26 at the three quarter mark.

Lebanon Valley settled down and played steady ball in the last period, as Albright's shots just wouldn't drop in. Frankie Shupper ruined all red and white hopes as he sank three set shots to give the Dutchmen the game, 44-33.

Lions Travel to Buffalo

Albright's classy cage quintet will travel to Buffalo Gardens to play Gannon College of Erie on Saturday, Feb. 16. This will be the Lions' first Saturday evening away engagement this year.

Last year at this time the Harris team journeyed to Boston to play in the Boston Gardens. In the Boston contest the Lions defeated Detroit University, 39-33.

Coach Neal O. Harris hopes his 1945-46 squad will fare as well as last year's did on their road trip. The touring line up will probably consist of Lee Cappel and Emmet Glass at forwards with Mort Witman at center and Joe Kubisen teamed with Bernie Lillis at guards.

FEMME SPORTS

In a thrilling photo finish, the Albright Lionesses and St. John's girls wound up with a 26-26 tie game, played on the home floor Friday evening. Scoring was close all the way through with St. John's holding a slight edge most of the time. With only thirty seconds to go St. John's held the top of a 26-25 count. A foul conversion by Mary Eschwei evened the tally, but just before the closing whistle a foul was called against Albright. Failure of the visitors to sink the two free throws saved the game for Albright. Betty Smith of St. John's walked off with scoring honors by hitting the hoops for eight field goals and six foul shots.

March 1st may play in the N.C.A.A. tournament at New York.

The Navy's forty points against Albright was the lowest score they were able to run up in their forty games, so I say hats off to the Albright Lions for a job well done!
