Spring Retreat Held By Y Organization

The annual Spring Y Retreat was held this past week at the Blue Mountain YWCA Camp near Hamburg. Rev. William R. Marlowe led the group in three seminars: Saturday afternoon, "God Among the Ashes"; Saturday evening, "God Was in Christ"; and Sunday morning, "The God Who is Acting Still." Following each of these seminars, the retreaters divided into buzz groups, led by students Larry Bergstresser, '60, Kathleen Forry, '57, and Jeanne Palm, '57, to discuss the subject of the meditation presented by Rev. Marlowe.

Rev. Marlowe also officiated at the communion service Sunday morning.

Many Activities

Between meals and the seminars, the retreaters went swimming, boating, or on hikes. Planned recreation included a co-ed softball game Saturday afternoon and a doggie roast at night.

In addition to approximately 65 students, six members of the faculty and administration attended the retreat: Rev. Ronald E. Cocroft, religious advisor; Prof. Ellery B. Haskell, and Miss Anna R. Benninger, chaperones; Dr. Harry V. Masters, Dean Priscilla R. Morton, and H. Eugene Pierce.

Officers of the combined Y's to be elected on Tuesday are the co-vice-presidents, secretary, and treasurer. The election will be conducted by Mary Jo Wolfe, '57, and Ehrhardt Lang, '57, at 7:30 p.m. in the Pine Room. Elected in a previous all-campus election were Carolyn Stillwagon, '59, YW president, and Frank Fisher, '58, YM president.

Planning A Ball

Members of the Interfraternity Council are shown above preparing final plans for the first annual IFC spring all-campus dance, to be held tomorrow evening in the Rajah Temple Ballroom from 9 to 12 p.m. The Johnny Weiss Band will provide the music for the affair. Tickets can still be purchased on campus from fraternity men. The members shown above are, from left to right, Ralph Swenarton, '59, representative from Pi Tau Beta, Ernie Brodbeck, '57, representative from Zeta Omega Epsilon and vice-president of IFC, and Larry Nester, '57, representative from Kappa Upsilon Phi and president of IFC.

Dufford Will Head WSA Organization; Rieser Day Prexy

Among the elections recently sweeping the campus have been those for presidents of the Women's Student Association, Daywomen's Association and Women's Dormitory Organization.

Jean Dufford, '58, was elected to head WSA (formerly Women's Student Senate). A native of Belleville, N. J., Miss Dufford is a liberal arts major. She is a member of the Pi Alpha Tau Sorority and the Future Teachers of America. She has also served during the past year as vice-president of WSA, secretary of Women's Dorm council, and as a representative to Student Council.

Daywomen

Wilma Rieser, '58, a resident of Temple, was chosen president of the Daywomen's Association. Miss Rieser, a language major, has been active in Debating Club, Domino Club, German, French and Spanish Clubs, and served as editor of the Agon, college literary magazine, in her sophomore year.

Barbara Pelkus, '58, will preside over the Women's Dorm Organization next year. She has been a member of The Albrightian and The Cue staffs for the past two years, serving as co-photography editor of the yearbook this past year. This year she also served as treasurer of WSA representative to Student Council, and as a member of Dorm Council. A psychology major, Miss Pelkus hails from Mount Vernon, N. Y.

SC Reps

Next year's non-sorority representatives to Student Council have also been elected. Blanche Merkel, '58, and Marianna Wonder, '60, will represent the Women's Dorm; Annette Kiesling, '58, will represent the daywomen.

Alexandra Karetas, '60, Nancy Rataczak, '60, and Margaret Schultz, '60, will serve as next year's sophomore counselors for the daywomen. The recently appointed dormitory counselors are Sarah Dettra, '59, Dolores Kensler, '59, Dorothy Bookhamer, '60, Margaret Brookes, '60, Nancy Foote, '60, Martha Koons, '60, Nancy Siglin, '60, and Marianna Wonder, '60. Miss Dettra and Miss Kensler will be serving in this capacity for their second year. The counselor's training program will start on May 1.

Wickard To Address Albright ACS Group

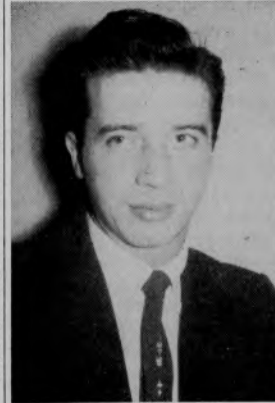

Charles E. Wickard, a representative of the DuPont Co. of Wilmington, Del., will discuss "Through the Spinneret" at the annual banquet of the Albright College chapter of student affiliates of the American Chemical Society on Wednesday at 7 p.m. in Frank Reeser's Restaurant, Tuckerton.

Wickard will discuss how man-made fibers are developed and produced, with emphasis on nylon, and give a rundown of the characteristics, properties and attributes of the various chemical and synthetic fibers produced by the DuPont Co. These include rayon, acetate, nylon, "Orlon" acrylic fiber, "Dacron" polyester fiber and "Teflon" tetrafluoroethylene fiber.

A native of Cumberland, Md., Wickard was graduated with honors from the University of Maryland, where he received a bachelor of science degree in public relations and was a member of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalism fraternity. He holds the rank of lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force.

New Council Prexy Inducted At Annual Mantle Ceremony

During chapel yesterday the traditional Mantle Ceremony was conducted with the presidents-elect of the various campus organizations taking their oaths of office from the presidents of their respective organizations. Highlighting the program was the administration of the oath by Clement Cassidy, '57, present Student Council president, to the newly elected Council president Frank York, '58. York then gave the oath of service to all the members of next year's Student Council.

Clement Cassidy

The new members and the organizations that they represent are as follows: Senior Class, John Luckenbill; Junior Class, Daniel Skeath; Sophomore Class, Arthur Younkin; Alpha Pi Omega, Clair Matz, '58 and Ronald Shannon, '60; Zeta Omega Epsilon, Joe Kremer, '59 and Fred Dietzel, '59; Kappa Upsilon Phi, James Still, '59 and George Tietjen, '58.

Also, Pi Tau Beta, Thomas Grant, '59 and Richard Wagner, '58; Daymen's Association, Robert Barbon, '60; Gerald Bauer, '60; John Alde-man, '60; Robert Polgar, '60; Paul Reetz, '59, and Richard Steffy, '58; Dormmen, Larry Heinrich, '58; Robert Perless, '59; Robert Poff, '60; James Todd, '60, and George Withers, '60; Pi Alpha Tau, Suzanne Schick, '59, and Carol Stillwagon, '59; and Daywomen, Annette Kiesling, '58.

Robe Given

Following the Student Council inductions, Melvin Horst, '57, placed the traditional red robe over the shoulders of the newly-elected Senior Class President, Brooke Moyer. Dietzel and Bauer also took the pledge of service as presidents-elect of the Junior and Sophomore classes, respectively.

Other oaths were then administered by the old to the new presidents of six other campus organizations. Frank Fisher, '58, took the oath of YMCA president from Ehrhardt Lang, '57, as did the new YWCA head, Carolyn Stillwagon, '59, from Mary Jo Wolfe, '57. Others included: Daymen, Steffy, '58, from Arthur Saylor, '57; Daywomen, Wilma Rieser, '58, from Jane Shay, '57; Women's Student Association, Jean Dufford, '58, from Mildred Tims, '57; and Women's Dorm Council, Barbara Pelkus, '58, from Jeanne Palm, '57.

The mantle ceremony is an annual program that officially marks the introduction of all campus leaders into their newly selected positions.

Annual Banquet Held By Skull And Bones

The Skull and Bones Society held its annual spring banquet at Frank Reeser's Restaurant on the Pottsville Pike on Wednesday, at 7 p.m.

The program following the dinner included a guest speaker and the presentation of Skull and Bones certificates to the seniors. Retiring officers of Skull and Bones are Kenneth Greenawald, '57, president; Jack Myers, '57, vice-president; Robert Durrwachter, '57, treasurer and Mildred Tims, '57, secretary. Dr. Clarence Horn serves as advisor of the group.

Other seniors are Nicholas Bybel, Robert Florindo, Alexander Gabrielli, Nancy Hacker, Roberta Ringler, Adolpho Rodriguez and Thaddeus Tomkiewicz.

Events Planned For Parents

The traditional crowning of the May Queen, Barbara Ross, '57, will highlight the annual Parent's Week-end this year, to be held on May 11 and 12. A faculty reception will also be featured on the program.

Barbara Pelkus, '58, general chairman of the weekend, has announced the members of her committee. Mary Bray, '59, Elizabeth Smith, '59, and Louis Reid, '59, are planning the faculty reception for parents to be held May 11, from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Blue Room of Selwyn Hall.

Queen Crowning

The traditional May Day ceremony will begin at 2 p.m. with the procession of the queen, her court, the senior and junior women, and the dancers. The Albright College Band will provide the music for the procession and recessional. This will be the first appearance of the band at a May Day ceremony.

Following the coronation, freshmen, sophomore, and junior women will do folk dances. Sheila Greene, '58, is the choreographer for the dances. A folk theme will be carried out in dance and costume. All the dancers will wear peasant-style outfits. The freshmen women, under the direction of Patricia Cush, '60, will do a Swiss folk dance. English flavor will be added by the sophomore women with Miss Smith as their leader. Miss Greene is directing the French Maypole dance to be given by the junior women.

Faculty Children

Linda Ann Raith, Sally Bishop, and Frederick Kistler, all children of Albright faculty members, will also participate in the crowning ceremony.

The banquet, to be held in the physical education building at 6 p.m., is being planned by David Fife, '58. Melvin Horst, '57, will serve as master of ceremonies. The banquet will be followed by a musicale in Krause Hall at 8 p.m. Kathleen Forry, '57, is the committee chairman.

The Pi Alpha Tau sorority will conduct a tree planting ceremony in honor of the mothers on May 12. The ceremony will precede the Sunday morning worship service at 11 a.m. in White Chapel.

Unfortunate Situation

A block is missing from the wall of Albright College traditions. Mardi Gras, the annual spring festival sponsored by Student Council and in which many organizations participated, has been cancelled for this year. The event, a perennial feature of spring activities on this campus, was originally scheduled to be held this evening on the lot opposite the fieldhouse. The main reason for the event's cancellation has been stated as a general lack of interest in continuation of the affair, plus the fact that the participating groups derived little profit from the event last year. The lack of interest also seemingly stems from the fact that two of the participating groups, two of the social fraternities, are currently on social probation and would therefore not be allowed to participate. As far as the lack of profits is concerned, it can easily be laid to the bad weather at last year's event, and the memory of the juniors and seniors must indeed be short if it does not include recollections of the successful Mardi Gras affairs in the previous years when the weather was good. No rain date was provided for the affair this year. The history of Mardi Gras and predecessor events goes back for some years. It originally began as open house in Selwyn Hall, moved to the dining hall, and thence to the outdoors to evolve into the form it had last year. With the incessant talk on campus about having more all-campus affairs, it is unfortunate that certain organizations on campus found it undesirable to support the proposed 1957 Mardi Gras and thus pulled that stone from the wall of Albright traditions.

Congratulations, Mr. President

Belated congratulations are in order for Frank York, Albright's Student Council president for 1957-58 and to all of the recently-chosen campus officers who have been selected as next year's student leaders. Inducted as the head of the student body yesterday, York faces the long and difficult task of welding the component parts of the newly-elected Council into a united force capable of truly being a worthwhile student government on our campus. The Albrightian, noting that the new president has shown his leadership capabilities as head of the student-faculty committee of Council during the past year, firmly believes that the new administration will lead the successful effort to have Council fulfill its three functions during the coming year, (1) to represent the students to the faculty and administration, (2) to provide a place for the settlement of inter-student disagreements, and (3) to provide for a sufficient number of all-campus activities.

Also, congratulations to you, the students as a whole for turning out en masse for the election. Better than four out of five of you (81.7%) gave proof of your interest in good student government by casting your ballots in the election. Again, congratulations!

A wealthy nudist was inclined to consult an owl one hot sticky afternoon.

"People are always staring at me," she blurted. "Tell them to stop staring before I go out of my mind. I can't take it anymore."

The owl squinted down at her and asked calmly, "Have you ever been in love?"

"Who hasn't?" she replied.

"My dear," exclaimed the confident bird, "you have a severe case of infectious mononucleosis. Keep yourself warm and you shall recover."

Problem Solved

The nudist did so and within one week's duration people gazed elsewhere.

"It's a miracle," she cried and ran from one neighbor to another, telling of this great feat of the owl.

"Why he must be God," they all shouted and they in turn ran to tell others.

Not far off, a mink chanced to hear of this owl's God from his wife and went in search of him with his tale of woe.

"I've got pain in my head, stabbing at my heart, and gas in my stomach."

The owl, who was looking forward to a remarkable future, inquired of the mink, "Do you live in two rooms or one?"

"Two, sir," whispered the agonized mink, already confronted with more heart stabbings.

"Get a place with one," demanded the nocturnal creature, "and you shall recover."

The owl was true to his word. The mink soon felt like a new man for the first time in his life.

Good God

"He's God!" screamed missus mink as she darted in and out of relatives' huts. "I'm going to tell the whole world he's God!"

Now it so happened, as in most stories, a college student on his way to an early-morning philosophy class picked up a strange message from the rustling wind. "The owl is God . . . the owl is God!"

The lad was eager to meet such a bird and, having disregarded his assignment anyway, felt no remorse when he set foot for the owl's tree.

"Mr. Owl, sir," the student respectfully called, "Tell me please. Why was I born?"

The owl, unaccustomed to being awake so early, thought a moment and then spoke in slow verse: There is a time in your life to be, To ease the heart of a neighbor in pain;

Give love to a woman and the children she frees, Bring joy to all and your own to gain.

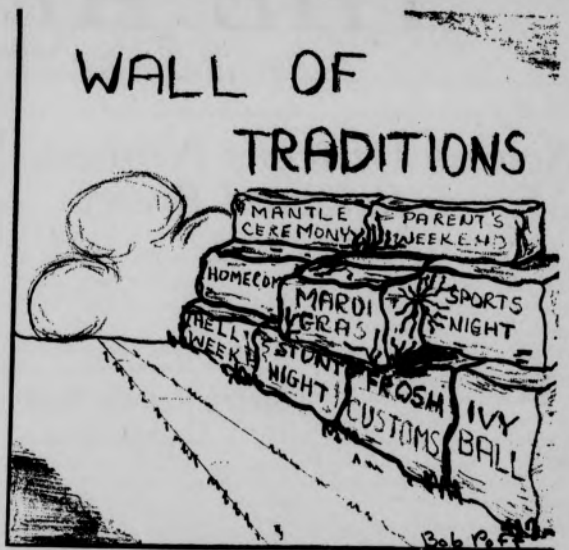

"How corny can you get," mumbled the senior aside. "Why everyone knows we were born to live to bear others and die."

Disturbed

"No, no, no," said the bird who was quite disturbed by these words. "The greatest discovery a philosopher could ever hope to achieve in a lifetime is 'Serenity of the Mind'."

"He's God!", exclaimed the wide-eyed student and hastily ran back to college to tell his friends and profs.

When word had finally spread of this fantastic bird, an important meeting was called by the nudist, mink, and college student. It was decided that the owl would be their leader. They all assembled at the base of his tree, crying: "He's God; he shall lead us." And the owl awoke that hot afternoon to show them the way, but the bird only

Albright Personality

• Norm Klingerman •

By Edward Trayes

This energetic young man, who hails from Sharon Hill, is finishing his last year at Albright College. Norm Klingerman will long be remembered for the contributions he has made to campus life during his stay here.

Prexy

Norm is a past president of the Alpha Pi Omega social fraternity, which he pledged in his freshman year. He also represented his fraternity in the Interfraternity Council.

He has led an active life in the way of sports. While in the fraternnity, Norm has helped spark his team to a number of athletic trophies. Being a three-letter-man in track is no easy feat and only comes by hard work. Norm has worked conscientiously putting the shot and throwing the javelin. He also played varsity basketball during his junior year.

Future

Upon graduation from Albright with his major in business and minor in psychology, Norm is planning to enter Naval Officer's Candidate School and, upon completing his term of duty, will pursue a career in business.

For Women Only

By Billie Williams

The season of student leisure has arrived and thoughts of the trying-to-be-educated are turning to swimming, tennis, golf, fishing — or simply to watching from the sidelines. The textbook and classroom have lost some of their inherentuster and dreamy eyes are more frequently gazing out a window than burrowing in a notebook. In the fashion line we are concerned with sport clothes at this time of the year.

White

For a seascape with boats the most suitable color is white. The new style trimmed slacks in a salty white cavalry twill have been brought out to dazzle beneath a cotton knit shirt. The most popular shirts for resort year are the cotton jersey T-shirts long enough to sit on and tall enough to be pulled up over the head. In the wake of new sailor fashions and still very much in the swim of things after a quarter of a century is the knit swimsuit. One striking example is a navy elastic and wool mallot whose red and white straps suggest a middy collar switched about.

White isn't only for beach fashions. The rule on the tennis courts is still that you can wear any color so long as it's white. Very much in action on the pages of the fashion magazines is a white tennis dress of Arnel sharkskin, saw-toothed with pleats for quick and easy motion at the net.

Spectator

The role of the spectator can be played comfortably and fashionably by wearing white with white in a nonchalant way, a type of dressing that stems from the instigator of the spectator sports look, Gabrielle Chanel. Almost a definition of this spectator look is a low-buttoned navy cotton cardigan above a spate of pleats, all shined with brass. There is also a gentle spectator dress, as white as fluff, tucked to the waist and bloused over its belt, with pockets poked out of the sides. Another grandstand favorite may prove to be the johnny-collared, waist-length white orlon sweater.

Gay Colors

In contrast with the abundance of white in May there are outfits cheered with splashes of gay colors in the form of fine prints. Some of these dresses have a gentle, pretty, ladylike aspect of silk—even to the print — but they're really cotton. Shown this May is a series of new flower arrangements; some dresses have clumps of daisies on cotton so light they sway in the wind; another has handfuls of pink clovers arranged on cotton voile, which may itself be arrayed in pleats. All sorts of combinations and complimentary colors enhance this spring's sports wardrobe.

bumped into the trees, as he could not see.

"He's bumping into the trees," they shouted together and with that they too turned and bumped into the trees. Before long they reached a concrete highway and found themselves directly in the path of an oncoming truck. The college student was the first to see the danger and he told the mink, who then told the nudist, who in turn told the owl. But the owl couldn't see and after it was all over, they were all killed, including the owl. Moral: A little symbolism can be a dangerous thing.

Trackmen Prove Strength In Meet Competition

IN THE LION'S DEN

By Lee Swartz, Sports Editor

Topic for discussion—baseball. Question—What's the matter with those Albright Lions? In the previous issue I predicted a fine record for a veteran Albright team. I pointed out that a strong pitching staff coupled with ample hitting and speed would surely win ball games. However, I overlooked one old phrase which is worth remembering—namely this: "A good defense is the best offense." How true. In its first eight games this season, the Albright team committed a total of 24 errors, many coming in clutch plays and resulting in unearned runs. True, at times the pitchers were hit hard, but even the best pitchers will have trouble with no defense to back them up.

Also, offensively the club is setting no records either, with a team batting average of .253. Ability to hit in the clutch is sadly lacking. But let's give credit where it's due. Without John Mishko's, Terry Reber's, and Jim Doremus' averages of .344, .342, and .312 the team average slumps to .180. Reber hit for the cycle on Monday, getting a homer, triple, double, and a single in six trips to the plate as the Lions broke out of their slump against F&M. This gives him team leadership in extra base clouts, a homer, two triples, and two doubles for the season. Tom Pollock, who has been the most effective pitcher on the staff, went all the way for his second victory against one loss. In four starts this season, Pollock has given up just nine runs. With the Lions record at 3-6 a definite change is needed. This change need not be players but rather an increase in team spirit. Fans can do a lot to develop this.

Relay Team In Fine Performance . . .

The other major spring athletic team, the track squad, is performing admirably this season. Coach Shirk's charges have won three out of four meets thus far. Their only loss came at the hands of a powerful St. Joseph's outfit. Sporting one of the top squads in the Middle Atlantic States area, the Lions are especially proficient in the dash events. Proof of this is their fine performance in the Penn Relays last Friday and Saturday. On Friday, Albright competed in the Middle Atlantic Small College Relay Championship, finishing second behind Delaware. The team consisted of Tom Faust, Don Gottshall, Ken Greenwald, and George Mack. On Saturday, with Dick Kelly replacing Greenwald, the Red and White took third place in the College Sprint Medley Relays, but their outstanding performance was in the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Mile Relay. With Greenwald running with Friday's team, the Lions finished third behind St. Joseph's and LaSalle, defeating such tough opponents as Lehigh, Temple, and Swarthmore.

On the tennis scene, Albright is doing surprisingly well. After losing their opener, the racqueters rocketed to four straight victories before bowing to Lafayette. Ernie Firestone is the leading winner on the squad. Playing in the fifth slot, Firestone has compiled a 5-1 record.

Riddell Stars Again . . .

After finishing a brilliant season at Albright, Bruce Riddell is back in the basketball spotlight again. Riddell recently played in the Delaware County Sunshine Game. This game is a benefit for underprivileged children. Riddell emerged high scorer in the game with 18 points as he led the East to a victory over the West. Teammates on the East squad included Kurt Engelburt of St. Joseph's, Al Lewis, LaSalle, and Jack Weissman, Villanova. Jim Foreman, Lions captain in 1957, played for the West and scored two points.

Albright Teams Fill Tough Sports Ticket

May promises to be a busy month for Albright College Spring Sports Squads. Today Coach Paul Madden's golfers will meet a tough Juniata team on the Indians' links.

Tomorrow the baseball, track, and tennis teams move into action. The Albright nine plays host to perennially tough Gettysburg, the trackmen meet Bucknell and Ursinus in a triangular meet at Ursinus, and the netmen journey to Moravian College in Bethlehem.

Monday both baseball and tennis teams meet the squads of Elizabethtown at the Blue Jays sites while the golf team hosts St. Joseph's.

Tuesday another triangular meet is set with Albright's thinclads meeting Gettysburg and Haverford at Haverford. The golfers travel to Bucknell to meet the Bisons.

Wednesday finds only the baseball squad active as it meets Penna. Military College at the Cadets field in Chester.

Thursday is the Middle Atlantic States Tennis Championships at Swarthmore with Jack Rosen and Nelson Haller expected to play for the Lions.

Lions Rebound Against F & M

After losing six straight frustrating games, the Albright College Lions blasted three Franklin-Marshall pitchers and roared to a 13-3 rout of the Dips. Tom Pollock went all the way for the Lions and received credit for his second win of the campaign against one loss. Infielder Bob Shoup socked a three run homerun in the fifth inning and Terry Reber rocketed a homer in the seventh inning with two mates aboard.

The six game losing streak started after two impressive wins over the University of Pennsylvania and Susquehanna University. The Potsdammen traveled to Wilkes-Barre to play strong Wilkes College. Verne Engle (0-1) started for the Lions and pitched five innings and gave up four runs. Fred Dietzel (1-2) relieved Engle and pitched the rest of the game. The score was tied in the bottom half of the ninth inning, and two men were out. Big Jack Hendershot stepped up to the plate and walloped a drive to center, which Reber lost in the sun. Reber tried to get the runner at third, but Shoup's relay throw sailed over Bob Jones' head. Dietzel backed up the third basemen and when the runner broke for the plate, he fired the ball to the plate, but the ball sailed over catcher Jim Doremus' head and Wilkes won the ball game, 7-6.

Traveling to Dickinson College, the Lions ran into a red hot Red Devil squad and bowed 12-2. Art Olsen (0-1) started for the Lions and was the loser. Richard Greene (0-0) and Charles Kachel (0-1) allowed Olson to the hill.

Playing a postponed game, the Lions met Ursinus College at Kelchner Field on April 16th. The game was highlighted by a tremendous homerun by Ursinus' Bob Famous and the Lions went down to defeat, 6-3.

Tenth Inning Loss

After the Easter recess, Juniata traveled to Kelchner Field to play the slumping Lions. Tom Pollock (2-1) hooked up in a close pitching duel for nine innings and finally tired in the tenth and Juniata scored two runs to win 3-1.

On April 25, the Lions went to Philadelphia to play a fine Temple nine (8-1). Verne Engle started for the Lions and was staked a two run lead in the first inning. But the Owls hammered away at him and scored two runs in the second. Engle was lifted in the third inning because of raw weather and his successor, Chuck Kachel was reached for four runs. A last minute rally fell short, and the Lions lost, 8-5.

The Bucknell Bisons came to Albright on Saturday afternoon, April 27. Sophomore Fred Dietzel faced the Bisons and hurled the full nine innings, two walks and his own error plus a scratch hit spelled Dietzel's doom.

Sprinters Lead Squad To Victory; Relay Team Third At Penn Relays

Coach Gene Shirk's track team so far this season compiled a 3-1 record plus a third place finish in the Penn Relays. The Shirkmen posted wins over Muhlenberg and Swarthmore, while losing to powerful St. Joseph's in dual-meet competition. They also bested Lebanon Valley and Juniata in a triangular meet at Juniata. The Lions ushered in the 1957 track season with a home dual meet against Muhlenberg. George Mack and Bob Wetzel registered double wins as the Shirkmen walloped the Mules, 104½-12½.

Netmen Win In Match Play

The charges of Will Renken, in their initial match of the season, were shut out by Bucknell 9-0. Travelling to West Chester, the squad evened the record with a 6-2 verdict, and then returned home to beat St. Joseph's, 5-3, for their second win.

The team made it three in a row, as the Juniata Indians fell by the wayside, 6-3. Moravian became the next victim of the netmen by the same 6-3 score. Lafayette snapped the four game winning streak with a 7-2 victory on the Lions' courts.

Tomorrow the squad travels to Moravian and stays on the road for matches with Elizabethtown and F&M on Monday and Tuesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday will find the squad at Swarthmore for the annual Middle Atlantic States Conference Championships.

Albright winners included co-captain Don Gottshall in the 440, Ken Greenwald, the other co-captain, in the 220 and sophomore Dick Kelly in the 100. Mack swept the 880 and the mile, Dick Thrasher, the two-mile, while Wetzel won both hurdle events. Tom Faust and Charlie Smith took the broad jump. John Settlerze won the shot put, Sam Rumford, the discus, and Jack Cunningham copped the javelin event.

Hawks Too Strong

Powerful St. Joseph's from Philadelphia beat the Lions 80½-45½. The Hawks took every event from 440 yards and up and three of the field events. Albright's only wins were Larry Barr in the pole vault, Cunningham in the javelin, Kelly in the 100-yard dash and Smith in the broad jump.

The Lions hit the victory trail again with a 68 2/3-57½ win over Swarthmore in a dual meet. Wetzel, Smith and Mack each registered double wins for the Shirkmen. Greenwald copped the 100, while Mack took the 880 and the mile. Wetzel won both hurdle events. In the field, Smith won both jumping events and Cunningham won the javelin for Albright.

In their first triangular meet of the year, the Lions easily beat Juniata and Lebanon Valley. By posting 82 1/3 points compared to 52 1/3 for Juniata and 17 1/3 for LVC, Greenwald posted runs in the 100 and 220 while Rumford took the 120 high hurdles and the shot put. Other Albright winners were Mack, 880; Feick, discus; Smith, high jump and Wetzel, broad jump.

The Lions shattered the school record for the one-mile relay as they came in third behind St. Joseph's and LaSalle in the Penn Relays. They ran the mile in 3:27, shearing 1.6 seconds off the old record. The record setting team was composed of Faust, Gottshall, Kelly and Mack running in that order.
