

PTB Establishes Memorial Fund To Saul Pokrass

Saul Pokrass, an Albrightian killed in action, will be honored by his fraternity, Pi Tau Beta. Members decided at their last meeting to establish a memorial building fund, to erect a building in his honor.

Publication of the fraternity newspaper, "The Ambassador," will be resumed, the first issue to be dedicated to the memory of Saul.

Robert Starr, at the last meeting, presented a wedding gift to William Beihl on behalf of the fraternity. Richard Major, a former Albright student who expects to return in the fall, spoke to the fraternity brothers.

A fine will be levied on all members who fail to attend to meetings, without legitimate excuse. Plans were made to reorganize the fraternity alumni as an active organization.

MASTERS ASSISTS BROTHERHOOD WEEK BOARD

President Harry V. Masters has been named to serve on the Board of Governors for American Brotherhood Week for the National Conference of Christians and Jews. American Brotherhood Week is Feb. 15 to 22.

The Board will give leadership and guidance to the movement which seeks to promote the practice of good will and mutual understanding among all faiths. The National Co-Chairmen of American Brotherhood Week are Henry Noble MacCracken, Basil O'Connor, and David O. Selznick.

President Masters was in Cleveland last week attending the meeting of the Association of American Colleges and other related country-wide college meetings.

Director of Public Relations, Lester L. Stabler, represented Albright as a delegate to the Pennsylvania State Education Association Convention in Harrisburg December 26, 27, 28.

Earlier in December, Mr. Stabler attended the Conference of District 2, American Alumni Council as the delegate of the Alumni Association. The conference was held at the Seaview Country Club, Alescon, N. J.

Council Sets Dates For Friday Dances; M. Schappell Resigns

Several dates have been set by Student Council for College functions throughout the year. Dances, under auspices of campus organizations, have been scheduled for January 18, February 8, 15, and 22, and March 1.

Student Night has been scheduled for Friday, March 8; Guest Day, in association with the Public Relations Office, for Saturday, May 4, and Parents' Weekend for Friday through Sunday, May 10 to 12. The latter will be combined with May Day and will be participated in by all organizations on campus.

Council is sponsoring the assembly program presenting Principal Earl A. Master, of Reading Senior High School on Tuesday, Jan. 15. Further plans include a Pep Rally and a Music Night; formulating a code of ethics for Albrightians is being considered.

Mary Louise Schappell has filed a resignation from Student Council on the basis of her transfer from the Daywomen's Organization, which she represented, to the Dormitory.

The proposed constitutional amendment on the service of a vice-president has been discarded.

Self-help monitors for the student section at the basketball games has been requested, through a letter to Athletic Director, Eugene L. Shirk. Students have been asked to exhibit sportsmanlike behavior at the games.

DEATH CLAIMS ALBRIGHT BENEFACTOR

The late Henry and Annie Merner Pfeiffer, Albright Benefactors

Mrs. A.M. Pfeiffer Wills $150,000 For Erection of Memorial Chapel

Albright mourns the loss of a true friend and a great benefactor with the death of Mrs. Annie Merner Pfeiffer at her home in New York City a week ago. She was 86 years of age.

Mrs. Pfeiffer's contributions to Albright have totaled $750,000. Her philanthropic interests extended to twelve colleges of various denominations, both in this country and in China.

Mrs. Pfeiffer's first connection with Albright was in 1937 when she, with her husband, the late Henry Pfeiffer, contributed $250,000 — to which an equal amount was added by the Evangelical Church. These contributions made possible the debt liquidation program of the school.

CHORUS HAS EASTER MUSIC REHEARSALS

Gathering momentum again after the vacation lull are the vocal activities of the music department.

"The Seven Last Words," a cantata by DuBois, will be presented by a volunteer chorus of faculty and students similar to the way in which "The Messiah" was given. Rehearsals for the Easter cantata began last week under the direction of Professor John H. Duddy; they will be held every Thursday evening at 7 p. m. in the College Dining Room until the date of presentation, April 11.

Professor Duddy will hold the initial auditions for the official Albright College male quartet in his studio this Thursday evening following chorus rehearsal. Several auditions may be necessary before the final decision is made.

The Women's Glee Club, which has been rehearsing its repertoire of sacred and secular numbers for the past semester, will sing in chapel on January 24. The club has also scheduled a sacred concert on February 17 in the Trinity Evangelical Congregational Church in Reading.

Frosh to Sponsor "Janus Jog" Dance

Foremost in the line of social activities to be sponsored by the class of 1949, is the "Janus Jog," a Student Council dance on Friday evening, January 18. Entertainment and a bag full of surprises are promised by the freshmen to all those who attend this dance.

Other activities are being planned by the executive committee of the freshman class. The frosh will hold their regularly scheduled class meeting in the College Chapel on Thursday, January 17 at 1:00 p. m. when plans for the Frosh-Soph Ball to be held in the Berkshire Hotel on April 26 will be discussed.

Domino Takes Vote To Cancel "Much Ado"

Production of "Much Ado About Nothing," the Shakespearean play in rehearsal since November and scheduled for staging on January 11 and 12, has been cancelled by action of the Domino Club. The cast considered producing the play independently, but felt it was too great a financial risk with the support of Domino withdrawn.

A.P.O. APPOINTMENTS

Edward Daniels has been appointed chairman for the Alpha Pi Omega fraternity alumni get-together, which is to occur some time in spring.

The Fraternity's stunt night program has been put in charge of Fred Perfect. He also heads the Mardi Gras committee of which news will be released later.

Albrightians Receive Spicer, Singer of Ballads And Folk Songs, With Enthusiastic Applause

By DOROTHY HOLL

Earl Spicer, well known ballad singer and humorist, presented a most enjoyable program in Chapel on Thursday, January 10. Mr. Spicer immediately captured the attention and approval of his audience with his informal manner and contagious sense of humor. His songs and comments were occasionally interrupted by an absent-minded remark, and many were amazed at the amount of material gathered and arranged by a "Professor John Smith."

I.R.C. Visits Sister Club at Ursinus College

Albright's International Relations Club will go to Ursinus College tonight for a meeting which will consider the political phases of China. As guests of the I.R.C. of Ursinus, the club will hear papers on the Nationalistic and Communist parties in China, and will discuss their findings.

Histories, development, present status, differences, conflicts, and agreement terms of the two parties will be considered. This is one of a series of studies made by the Ursinus I.R.C. on the Far East.

Albrightians will meet promptly at 7:15 p. m. in back of the Administration Building, from which Dr. Milton W. Hamilton, advisor, John Kissinger, president, and Peter Cianci will afford transportation.

Club Secures Chemist For Meeting Tomorrow

Harold Gift, of the Althouse Chemical Company, will speak on the subject, "The Application of Dyes to Textiles," at the next monthly meeting of the Alchemists Club. The discourse on textiles will be presented tomorrow evening, January 16, at 7:30 p. m. in the Science Lecture Hall.

Phyllis Carter, club president, is inviting all students of chemistry to attend meetings in order to stimulate a greater interest.

Dough-Re-Mi

Robert Sokol is issuing an S. O. S. to all club treasurers to divest their exchequers of the cost of the cuts of their organization in the Cue. Statements were mailed before Christmas in such a manner that they couldn't possibly be mistaken for Christmas greeting cards. Please dig out the bills from your holiday mail and treat them as all good bills should be treated.

Short Snorts

HEO ON DECORATION

Mrs. Helen Swank, tri-county supervisor of Home Economics, will be the guest speaker for the HEO Club on Jan. 23 at 7:30 p. m. This date is a substitute for the regularly scheduled meeting night.

Mrs. Swank, supervisor in Berks, Lebanon, and Lehigh Counties, has her office in Lebanon. She will speak to the Club on "Home Furnishings."

RELIGIOUS EVENTS

Richard Cattermole will have charge of noon-day Chapel on Jan. 15, Joy Davis leading on Jan. 16; Evans Keim, Jan. 17; Gerald Hertzog, Jan. 18; and Irene Fisher leading on Jan. 21.

St. Paul's Catholic Church, on Ninth and Walnut Streets, will be visited by the college students, under the auspices of the Go-to-Church Group. The group will meet in the Administration Building on Sunday morning, January 20, at 10:15.

Endowment of Chairs

After the death of her husband in 1939, Mrs. Pfeiffer continued her generosity toward Albright with a gift of $50,000 and the same amount to the Evangelical School of Theology. She gave $200,000 to endow the Henry Pfeiffer chair of religion and the Henry Pfeiffer chair of biology at Albright and the J. Warren Klein chair of systematic theology at the seminary. The latter was established in honor of the Rev. Dr. J. Warren Klein, President Emeritus of Albright.

Chapel-Auditorium

Albright's benefactor made her most recent gift to the College about a year ago when she pledged $150,000 for the purpose of a new chapel-auditorium. The gift was made in the form of a bequest in Mrs. Pfeiffer's will. Construction of the building will begin as soon as materials are available.

Trustee Service

In February, 1937, Mrs. Pfeiffer was elected to the College Board of Trustees, being the first woman to serve in that capacity. In June of the same year, the College conferred the honorary degree of doctor of laws on her.

Mrs. Pfeiffer was born in New Hamburg, Ontario, and married to Mr. Pfeiffer in 1882.

Four Teams to Hold Battle of Wits Tonight On Information Please

Information Please! The "Y's" are presenting a quiz program tonight in the College Dining Hall at 7:30. Dr. Harry V. Masters will be the master of ceremonies with plenty of questions to stump even you "A" students.

You may have seen many of your fellow Albrightians strolling about the campus bedecked with bright red, yellow, blue, and green ribbons. The four teams which will hold forth under the leadership of Jean Long, Reed Fredricks, Gloria Salfetty, and Frank Hodgkins with Warren Pfost to head the committee. All Albrightians are asked to come with their thinking cap in good working order for a gala evening of brain teasers, songs, and refreshments.

The Packing Bee held on Tuesday, January 8 was a great success and lots of fun for those who participated. Thirty-three boxes were packed by the combined "Y's" and Student Council to be sent to Mlle. Andre Dopsin of Gand, Belgium, and Alfreda Dauchin of Lieveire, France. Each of the campus organizations was asked to contribute something.

The predicament of these war ravished families was presented in a skit by Marjorie Christ in last Tuesday's morning chapel program. Marian Fiedler and Martha Fredericks represented the Student Council and "Y's" respectively in planning the project.

Fate Is Like That

Wouldn't you know—just as we write a noble editorial mourning the loss of managing editor O'Neil (murmuring something about sociology sinking the Irish), a mere pneumonia bug nips ye editor. Just to make us liars, the pneumonia bug proves to have greater sinking powers than sociology. For O'Neil was still navigating while ye editor was running the gamut of mustard plasters and penicillin.

Which is to say—Many thanks to ex-editor O'Neil who, after her resignation, returned in the crisis and helped the perspiring subordinate editors to get two December issues together. And a very good job they did too!

Give Me Five Dozen Orchids

Let's we be accused of being stingy with our orchids, may we place a modest order for about 65 of them to pin on the members of "The Messiah" chorus and soloists who, just before Christmas, produced what was undoubtedly the most outstanding musical event in recent years.

From the insider's point of view, we know that a very faithful gang of volunteers worked hard and enthusiastically on the oratorio. From our seats in the audience on the night of the performance, we know that the results were thrilling and well worth the effort.

We look forward to the next presentation to be similarly produced at Easter time—"The Seven Last Words." Any and all faculty and students are welcome to assist.

On the Other Hand . . .

What applies to letting sleeping dogs lie certainly applies to dead ones—and we mean the now defunct Domino production. However, because we recently accused the administration of not sufficiently supporting dramatics at Albright, we state in all fairness, and without reversing our former opinion, the most other side of the situation—as much as we dislike unlovely post mortems.

Given the very best support in finances and personnel, no production can succeed without the full support of the club behind it. Cast members resigning, split leadership, non-functioning committees, a general irresponsible attitude—all are involved and it is not our purpose to try to point the accusing finger.

It IS our purpose to try to tone down a few of the violent colors in the cloth of campus opinion, and point out that Domino Club need not look beyond itself for a scapegoat.

Clear the Decks for Action

Although the general Albright public hasn't heard much of what goes on with "Cue" publication, let us assure you that things are humming—and we need only the state of Editor Plowfield's desk as evidence. Further evidence is the fact that said editor is casting off excess baggage. Much as we hate to be classified as excess baggage, we must state that Miss Plowfield has cast us off and will no longer be the author of Science Slants—a feature we have read with many a chuckle. We have enjoyed her particular slant on science immensely and regret her resignation. At the same time—a hearty welcome to Fred Perfect, the new contributor.

Lionizing

By MARION LATTA

A group of tired Albrightians trooped back to campus after almost two weeks of long anticipated vacation. Tired, you say with amazement in your voice. Tired is the word for it, brother. Seems like the anticipation was well worth the wait.

If you don't believe me—just ask Dick White or Jessie Mae Beck, or better still, take a long look at the third finger, left hand of Jessie Mae. They must have had a wonderful Christmas. Congratulations, kids!

Just in case you're interested—and who wouldn't be—here's a list of former Albrightians who will be crowding our campus with masculinity come February . . . Flip Angstadt, Jimmy Bunn, Forrest Compton, Russ Guensch, Dick Hagmayer, Robert Hertzog, Paul Johnson, Red Lamberson, Don Lykens, John Marquette, Irwin Mull, Gene Shollenberger, Herb Vogt, Dale Weeber, Guy Wildermuth and John Woyanowski. These are the definite ones—there are others on their way home now who are probably counting on coming back. Also, there are discharged veterans who were not at Albright before the war who are considering Albright for their Alma Mater.

Those of us who were here when the Army Program was still in effect remember Sgt. Albright of the permanent party. Well, he not only married an Albright co-ed—Lucy Griswold—but he'll be a student here in February. Albright certainly made a hit with Albright.

When all's said and done next semester should be a better one not only for the frats, but all social functions as well.

LIONS IN THE RANKS

By JEAN HARER

Now that we are back at school, Christmas is just a fading memory. But before we forget about it, to all of you who sent Christmas greetings to The Albrightian staff, we say thanks for remembering us.

So many fellows have been on campus recently that it's impossible to enumerate them all. Quite a number of those who have been here are planning to come back next semester. It's good to see them coming back.

During vacation, Bill Bottonari was here. He is now a captain and is attached to a carrier on the west coast. He expects to be in the service for another year.

Yesterday Don Blackmore dropped in for a visit. He just recently arrived home after a long time in Europe. Albright still looks about the same, he says.

Just back from the Navy, Donald Spang came to see us last week. Betty Claire Voeste was with him, wearing a broad smile on her face, and a diamond ring on the important finger of her left hand. Congratulations to both of them.

Chaplain Lew Briner is on his way to Sasebo, Japan, aboard the U.S.S. Bosque.

Jim Ninivaggi writes that he expects to be out of the service and back at Albright by next fall.

Mike Plaskonos sends us a new address and tells us that he will probably be discharged about February 18th and hopes to be around to see us soon.

For the next few weeks the Science Hall will be humming with more than the usual amount of activity for semester exams are only around the corner. The Pre-meds, poor souls, are frantically shading in their biology drawings in order to meet the deadline this Jan. 24th, whereas the qual. chemists are up to their necks in two complete and final unknowns.

After these last few grinding months of bio-chem courses a number of Pre-meds are beginning to wonder if perhaps some other course wouldn't have been the wisest idea after all. For example, Hodgkins, the fellow with the strange device, "wie-da?" is beginning to show some very definite signs of cracking. "No, no, Giddleman," he was reported to have said in the last chem lab, "Nope, no—you know that isn't the test for a Paramoecium." However, Yeagley, engineer of the Reeser Limited is doing much better . . . he's the only male in chem lab 306. To date he has not been injured.

Kemp Questioned

"When is a zygote a zygospore? Kemp?" and other questions of this type are sort of faded thoughts in the past threatening, however, to make another test hot for some bio students, come the end of the month. Biology, we know, isn't simply "book learnin'" by any means. Indeed not, it has some very practical sides. Only yesterday we heard a fellow say, "Boy, oh boy will you get a load of that dorsal aspect!"

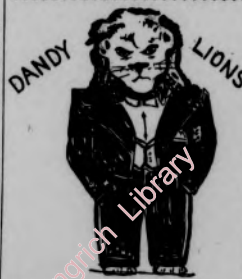

Organic Chem: We've all heard the story of "Who put the overalls in Mrs. Murphy's chowder?" but as to who curried quite a smell by pouring something into Moose Biehl's soap batch . . . we'll never know.

Mengel Society Meets

The Mengel Natural History Society will meet Friday, Jan. 25 at 8:00 p. m. at the Reading Museum to hear a program wherein Dr. Beekey of the Kutztown State Teachers will be the guest speaker. Dr. Beekey is a naturalist who was formerly a teacher at the Reading High School. The admission to these lectures is free, and, incidentally, college credit is given for summer courses at the Reading Museum. This society was founded in honor of Levi Mengel, a former naturalist of Reading. Prof. Horn was formerly a president of the Society. Prof. Green succeeded him and is president at this time.

3. Resolved to quit using the telephone—Borrowed a bicycle and delivered the message in person.
4. Resolved to go on a diet—Thought it was a new way to spell dates reneged.
5. Resolved to take dancing lessons—Changed his mind when he found it cost money to go stag.
6. Resolved to study his lessons—Wound up lessening his study.
7. Resolved never to miss school—He never went near enough to miss it.
8. Resolved to be early every morning—Couldn't find early in the dictionary, so gave up.
9. Resolved to practice the saxophone for the band—Got short-winded by blowing about it.
10. Resolved to give up making resolutions — The only one he kept.

The tall, slim girl with the easy gait and dry sense of humor is one of the scientific team of Carter and Eschwei — Phyllis Carter, this week's Dandy Lion. A former resident of Albright's well-known Linden House, she can tell many a story about the jolly days of 1944 when the resident women lived in Linden House while the cadets lived in the dorms.

Phil has engaged in activities ranging from membership in the Girls' Glee Club in her freshman year, to a four year membership in the Alchemists organization.

Sports have taken up a great deal of Phil's time. She has been on the women's varsity basketball team for three years, and engaged in varsity hockey. As a result of these activities, she now holds the vice presidency in the W.A.A. A chemistry major, Phil is the president of the Alchemists this year.

Our Dandy Lion is another Albrightian who runs toward presidencies. She is also vice president of the German Club and president of Delta Phi Alpha. Phil is adding her talents to the composing staff of the "Cue" this year. A member of the Phi Alpha Tau Sorority, Phil's sense of humor has helped along many an initiation ceremony.

Veterans Bureau Increases Staff

With the addition of two new workers, during the first week of January, the Veterans' Bureau has increased its full-time staff to nine members, assuming a case load of six veterans a day, announces Dr. Milton G. Geil.

Henry L. Klippert, who will assist Dr. Geil and Dr. Russell B. Smith in counselling, is a graduate of Lehigh University and received his M. A. degree from the University of Southern California, and spent a year at Harvard working on a doctor's degree. While in the service, from which he has just been discharged, he was engaged in counselling work.

Miss A. Caroline Schmehl, of Reading, is a registered psychometrician in the state of Pennsylvania. For several years after receiving her M. A. degree from the University of Pennsylvania, where she majored in psychology, Miss Schmehl served as a state psychometrician.

If you have some perfume or lipstick you would like analyzed, we know Phil, looking very professional in her long lab coat, will be glad to do it for you.

New Ways of Farming Are Shown in Film

"New Ways of Farming will be featured in a March of Time film to be projected in assembly next Thursday, Jan. 17.

Principal Earl A. Master, of Reading Senior High School, presented a talk, "Youth on Trial" in assembly this morning. Mr. Master was the first of several speakers for the Student Council Little Cultural Series; he was introduced by Agnes Snyder, chairman of the Student Council chapel committee.

BATTLE OF WITS

Irene Fisher, Y. W. president, called the roll of contributing organizations, who in turn announced what articles they were giving: Daywomen: sewing machine needles, needles, thread, and underwear; Daymen: tooth brushes, razor blades, and shoe laces; Zetas: canned meats and canned milk; A. P. O.'s: dried fruits and chocolate bars.

Kappas: cocoa and coffee; Pi Tau's: dried foods, soap, and rice; Pats: diapers, buttons, hooks and eyes; Mu's: cold cream and socks; non-frat men: candles, soap and vitamin tablets; non-sorority women: knitting wool, soap, and coffee; faculty: first aid supplies, knitted garments, canned meat, and cocoa.

Intellect and Brains Featured by Frosh, It Says Here—

Everyone is entitled to his own opinion of the class of '49, but here is Dean George W. Walton's view of the picture painted in his favorite medium—statistics.

Intelligentia?

The class of '49 numbers 54 men and 75 women, which keeps the men quite busy. These Frosh graduated from 48 different high schools in nine different states. Thirty-seven percent of these men and women can be classified as "brains" as they graduated in the highest fifth of their classes; 26% graduated in the second fifth, and 20% in the third fifth. The 18% that were in the lowest two fifths gained admission through exams.

Reading and Berks county high schools presented Albright with 82% of its male frosh, and 67% of its female frosh. Out of the whole class 29% came from schools with over 500 in the graduating class

Doctor, Lawyer, Indian Chief

The class of '49 is interested in varied fields as can be shown by the following figures:

Curriculum chosen:	Frosh	Entire College
Pre-Medical (That includes cats, dogs, teeth, and plants)	27	68
Teaching preparation	18	58
Home Economics	10	45
Pre-theological and social service	8	37
Pre-Law	7	12
Industrial Chemistry	4	17
Others or Uncertain	55	67

Talent Galore

Of these 29 are relatives of former students and Alumni of Albright; 97 personally knew present students, alumni, or faculty members before coming here.

Out of the grand total of one hundred and twenty-nine frosh, five of them are under seventeen years of age. Who's trying to evade the draft? In their high schools, 25 of the present frosh were in responsible positions in student government.

The frosh help make The Albrightian what it is as 29 of them have worked on school papers and yearbooks.

Musical talent is not lacking in this outstanding class either. Sixty of them tooted horns, played violins, sang or engaged in other musical activities in high school. (People who listened to the radio and played records are not included in these statistics!)

Let no one be heard to say that the frosh class lacks something. Anything can be found among the varied talents of the frosh.

(P.S.: Glory be, let's be thankful we will be rid of them by '49).

By KEN GOOD

Recently, Faculty Manager of Athletics, Eugene Shirk, attended a session of Student Council and forwarded to the council a proposal for better all-round sportsmanship on the part of spectators at athletic contests. Mr. Shirk stated that many teams and officials dread the times they work in Reading because the fans are constantly keeping it "hot," especially if things do not go the way the Reading folks want them to.

The Manager stated that Allentown facing a similar situation solved it by having its college (Muhlenburg) distribute programs and also by having the college students set an example for the community.—Not a bad idea—what do you think? Consult your Student Council Representative for further details.

Side Lions

Starting the 1946 year, our Lions lost another two with "Seif" straining a ligament in his big toe and Capallo landing in the hospital with pneumonia.

Then there are the Lionesses. They lost their first game of the season too—oh, Lebanon Valley! Well, none of the lassies were bruised and—a bad beginning makes a good ending! (We keep telling ourselves.)

"It Might as Well Be Spring" is the tune on everyone's tongue—the sun sure does make everyone and everything sparkle.

Just keep smiling (Colgates or Pepsodent) and in the spirit, people, and your basketball teams will pull through to a glamorous finale.

Lebanon Valley Wins As Kubisen Sets Mark

An all-freshmen Albright College quintet lost 67-47, to a veteran Lebanon Valley team in the Annville High School gym on Wednesday, Jan. 9. Lebanon Valley's player coach, Frank Shupper, proved to be too fast for any Lion player, by leading his team with 24 points.

Gembling Scores

Marshall Gemberling, a six foot three inch 21-year-old freshman was also a main threat to Albright, tapping in six field goals and making nine straight foul tries. Marquette, with five set shots and four fouls was also in the running for the scoring honors.

Joe Kubisen was hot for Albright and set a new individual scoring record for the team this year when he hit the cords for seven buckets and seven free throws for a total of 21 points.

19 Point Lead

The game was never in doubt as the Lebanon boys pumped to a 36-17 half time lead. The home team, however, was only able to out score the Red and White 31-30 in the final half. Lebanon Valley used their first stringers most of the time for when they used there subs Albright scored ten straight points.

Lions to Play Scranton Tonite

Court Team Travels; Tom Cats Seek 4th

Today, January 15, the Albright Lions will travel upstate to meet Pete Calesimo's University of Scranton quintet on the South Scranton Junior High School gym floor.

The Albrightians hope to add another black mark to the Tomcats' slate which has three wins and one defeat. The lone defeat of the Purple and White came at the hands of the Jaspers of Manhattan whom the Lions entertained a while back with better results.

Griglock-Kelly Back

The Tomcats are pinning their hopes on the Griglock-Kelly deception combination. These co-captains are speedy ball handlers, being veterans of last year's team, and the pair racked up one of the highest scores in the state last year. Leo Kelly, a purple heart bearer, is the shortest man on the team at 5 feet 8 inches. Bill Griglock came out on the top with 972 markers and threatens an even higher goal this season.

Height is definitely lacking in the purple and white squad, but speed and smart ball handling more than make up for this disadvantage. This is proven by the fact that the Tomcats, during the holiday recess, upset the highly favored City College of New York, who took their first defeat on their city's home court in two years.

Seven Veterans

The Scranton Tomcats boast seven discharged veterans all with basketball experience. The class distribution is somewhat like that of the Lions by having twelve freshmen and three sophomores.

The Scrantonites don't expect wonders of their boys, but they do believe the Tomcats will better their last year's record of twelve wins and eight defeats. The Scranton team has a record of 61% of games won over the last twenty-one years.

FEMME SPORTS

Lebanon Valley girls walked off to a 44-29 decision over the Albright lassies in a prelim contest at Annville. Despite obviously and admittedly poor officiating, Albright girls, paced by Ginny Woerle, captain, stuck to their possibilities till the bitter end.

APO's on Top; Daymen Prevail

Shafer, Buxton, Star; Siegfried, Winters High

Albright College opened its men's Intramural Basketball league on Wednesday, Jan. 8 when the A.P.O. and the Daymen defeated the Zetas and the Kappa-Pi Tau-Nonfrat team.

In the evening's opening contest Coach Butch Harting's A. P. O. charges defeated an aggressive Zeta combination 40-20. The A.P.O.'s led throughout the entire tussle acquiring a seven point lead in the first quarter. Jack Shafer, Alpha Pi Omega pivot man and Bob Buxton, captain of the Zeta team, were high scorers for their respective teams gaining 14 and 10 points each.

Real Thriller

The second game in which the Daymen came through with a 25-16 victory over the Kappa-Pi Tau-Nonfrat team proved to be a real thriller in that the lead swayed from one team to the other several times throughout the fracas. Steve Winters playing for the KPTNF team captured scoring honors for that outfit with 9 markers, while Paul Seigfried with 14 points garnered the honors for Daymen.

The following are the box scores:

Lions Lose 5th Tilt To Manhattan Team

Playing against Manhattan, one of the top teams of New York, Albright lost another game on January 5 by a score of 58 to 41. In the early part of the game Manhattan, acquired a considerable lead which she kept throughout. Albright was greatly hampered by fouls, having 22 called against 11 by Manhattan. Due to this and the three Albright field goals which the referees nullified, the two officiators had to crawl cower out underneath the bleachers over the game for fear of being punched by Albright rooters.

Big Team

With four men over six feet four inches in height, Manhattan had control of rebounds from the basket. Kelly was Manhattan's high scorer with 16 points, while Bernie Lillis scored 11 points to take the second spot. During the game two were permanently taken out: Ulrich with a cut over his eye and Thomas on fouls.

Twenty Minute Halves

Something new was tried at this game—twenty minute halves with no quarter time. The bewildered spectators thought the clock was out of commission until the reality of "Four minutes left" proved them to be wrong.

Incidentally, Manhattan beat Scranton, whom we meet tonight, by a score of 44 to 28.

Lineup for the Manhattan-Albright game was:

Red and White Drubs Teachers, Winning 69-27

After six straight defeats at the hands of tough opponents, Albright's green basketball teams caught fire and completely outclassed a favored West Chester State Teachers team.

The biggest surprise of the evening aside from the score, was the fine defensive play done by Albright's Bernie Lillis and Joe Kubisen in holding Dave Kirk, the leading scorer in Pennsylvania, to a mere three points. Prior to Saturday's game the West Chester center had averaged over 19 points a game.

Cappel, Kubisen Stack Points

West Chester drew first blood, but Rusty Millard tied the score with a foul shot, Joe Kubisen sent the Lion's ahead with a one-handed stab, and Bernie Lillis connected with three straight set shots to give Albright a 9-2 lead. Sammy Drizin scored five straight points to close the gap to 9-7, but Lee Cappel and Joe Kubisen began pouring in the shots to up the count to 35-13 at the half way mark.

Combinations Click

The second half was almost as bad, and for the first eight minutes West Chester was unable to score. Finally, Emmanuel, a player not even on the West Chester roster, put some life into the game with three beautiful set shots. Both coaches used all of their available players, but no combination of Coach Glenn Killinger could stop the rampaging Lions, and almost any combination of Coach Harris clicked, as all of the Albright players who were in for any length of time scored.

Lions In Ninth Saturday Night

Moll, Geiss to Start For Kutztown Teachers

Albright's courtsters will play host to Kutztown State Teachers College, Saturday night, January 19th here at Northwest Junior High. With a record to date of two wins, against three defeats the Golden Avalanche will be gunning for their neighboring Lions. Kutztown's last two engagements were close ones, beating West Chester Teachers 28-24 in an extra frame and dropping an evenly fought 49-44 battle to Shippenburg Teachers.

Deppen to Start

The Kutztown quintet, coached by Walt Risley will probably start Ronald Youngerman and Clarke Deppen at forward positions, veteran Gene Geras at center and George Rhoads and Leonard "Mickey" Moll at the guard posts. Moll and Geiss are holdovers from last year's team, scoring 151 and 190 points respectively. Rhoads scintillated a year ago, by shining for Kutztown High's basketball team. Clarke Deppen, an army veteran who became well-known at Wernersville High, and also with the popular Croll and Keck speeders of the Reading City League, and Ron "Salvie" Youngerman, Mt. Penn High's high scoring star, rounds out the first team.

Other members of the Kutztown Pedagogues are Charles Noms, John Scholastico, Masher, forwards and John Burkhart substitute guard.
