Albrightian Staff Revealed As Paper Reorganizes

The newly-organized editorial and business staffs of The Albrightian have been announced by Mary Fry and John Werley, editor and business manager of the publication. Under these new staff heads will be organized the business and reporting staffs of next year's edition of the newspaper.

Robert Reed will serve as editorial assistant. Albert Wagner will be news editor aided by Patricia Poore, assistant news editor. The feature department will be headed by Doris Chanin; while Robert Hoffman will have charge of the sports department. David Roland will assume the duties of circulation editor of the new sheet.

Reed, a senior, has been a member of The Albrightian Staff for the past three years and last year served as associate editor. A sophomore, Wagner is finishing his first year of work on the staff. He was formerly feature editor of his high school paper and business manager of the high school yearbook. Mis Poore, a freshman, was a former high school news editor. Miss Chanin, a sophomore, served as art editor of her high school yearbook and has been a member of The Albrightian Staff for the past two years. During high school, Hoffman, also a sophomore was business manager of both his high school newspaper and class yearbook. He has been a member of The Albrightian sports staff for the past two years.

Roland, a sophomore, has served on The Albrightian business staff for the last two years. Several new departments will be added to the staff next fall, when a complete revision of the present staff will also take place. Typists are urgently needed now. Any student able to type one or two hours each week should contact Werley or leave a message in The Albrightian Office.

German Students To Enter Next Fall

An announcement made by the President Harry V. Masters revealed a plan whereby students from Germany will study next year at Albright College. The plan is a result of the action taken by the Executive Committee of the College.

The Executive Committee has agreed to make provision for five students from our church in Germany, as students in the College on a tuition-free and fee-free basis for a period of two years. If no other provision can be made to cover board and lodging, then the Executive Committee agreed to make provision for two students from Germany on a tuition and fee-free, and boarding and lodging-free basis for two years.

'Y' Presidents Placed in Office

William Marlow and Doris Downes were installed as the new Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. presidents at the "Y" Installation Service last Tuesday evening in the College Chapel. President Harry V. Masters spoke at the service during which the other new officers were also inducted. Kazuyo Kiyono and Jack Snook were installed as vice-presidents; Shirley Johnson and Jerry Pedota as secretaries; and Joyce Thompson and Terry Connor as treasurers.

Fres. Masters commended the Y's for their splendid work during the past year and asked the students to give their whole hearted support to our Christian Associations. He said that we must keep before us the fact all vocational pursuits, as long as they are honorable, are Christianly beneficial.

Marjorie Christ and Robert Zeigler, retiring presidents, turned over their positions to Marlow and Downes, who then introduced their new cabinet members. The chairmen of the committees are Violette Seibert and Lamar Kopp, social action; Janice Miller, Jane Reynolds, Percy Brown, and John Fahmanaght worship committee; Jean Long and Frank Bird, recreation committee; Doris Chanin and George Hummer, publicity; Beverly Bresler and Carl Bretz, projects; Shirley Miller, Elmer Good, and Terry Connor, frosh commissions and Phyllis Obholtzer and Donald Repsher, records.

Plays, Directors Chosen for Parent Weekend

The five original one-act plays, to be presented in the College Chapel on Saturday evening, May 15, at 8:00 p.m. as part of the Parents Week-end festivities, have been announced through the English Department by Esther Savidge and Doris Hicks, co-chairmen of the Parents Week-end committee.

"The Hill," written by Richard Mallow will be directed by John Reside. Norman Telsey will direct Blaine Schmehl's, "The Hesitant Angel," while "The Loose Nut," by Paul Eshenam will be directed by Dorothy McFarland. Walt Hayum will direct Russell Lamarc's, "The Bard;" and "Valley of the Shadow of Death" by William Schaeffer will have Esther Savidge as its director.

The complete cast for the plays has not been announced as yet, however, among the actors will be Ralph Stutzman, James Gallagher, Jack Gounder, Kathryn Morrison, John Savidge, Calvin Lieberman, Melvin Telsey, Larry Delewski, Frank Bird, Robert Dombro, Elmer Good, and Jack Snook.

Gala Week Due For Fraternities

The traditional fraternity "Hell Week" will be culminated by three fraternity dances this Saturday evening. The A.P.O.'s, Zetas and Kappas are planning their annual spring formal to be a gala climax to the initiation activities which begin tomorrow and end Friday.

The Alpha Pi Omega Fraternity dance at Bynden Wood will be a dinner-dance. Glenn Bailey is chairman of the affair to which alumni have been invited.

Roy Sanders and his orchestra will play for the Kappa Upsilon Phi Fraternity dance to be held in the Walnut Room of the Berkshire Hotel. Howard Guidin and Eugene Duffy are co-chairman of the dance.

Robert Reeser is chairman of the Zeta Omega Epsilon dance being held at the Woman's Club the same evening.

Koch Chosen Prexy Of German Honorary

David Koch was elected president of Delta Phi Alpha, German honorary fraternity, at a meeting of the group held last Wednesday evening. Also elected to serve with Koch are Walt Hayum, vice-president; Dorace Hornberger, secretary; and Charles Green treasurer. Dr. Gerritt Memming is advisor to the fraternity.

'Y' Doggie Roast, Hoedown Tonight

The combined Y's will hold a doggie roast and hoedown at the large pavilion at Egelman's Park tonight. In order to walk to the park, the group will leave the College Chapel at 7:00 p.m.; they plan to return by 10:00 p.m.

Rev. Eugene H. Barth and Miss Ann Benninger will serve as chaperones for the outing for which a $25 fee will be charged each person. In case of rain the event will be held in the Student Union Building.

Meals for Parents

All day students, and parents of boarding and day students who wish to eat in the College Dining Hall, Saturday and Sunday, May 15 and 16 for the Parents' Weekend festivities, must purchase meal tickets from the Treasurer's Office before Friday, May 7.

There will be no additional charge for boarding students' meals during the weekend. The following are the prices for meals:—

Saturday Lunch	$ .55
Banquet	$1.10
Sunday Breakfast	$ .40
Dinner	$1.10

Senate Induction Tomorrow Night

Helen Seiber, president of the Women's Student Senate, will induct the new members of the Dorm and Day Women's Council at an installation service tomorrow night at 7:00 p.m. in Selwyn Hall Parlor.

Among those from the Dorm Council who are to be inducted are Shirley Miller, president; Dorothy Rath and Lois Lackey; representatives from the Class of '49; Cieta Rein and Hazel Moerder representatives from the Class of '50; and Jean Magee and Evelyn Brown, representatives from the Class of '51. Miss Miller received her duties as president of the Dorm Council from Marjorie Christ, retiring president, in an installation service held last Wednesday evening in the Parlor. The class representatives were also installed at that time.

Those to be inducted into the Senate from the Daywomen's organization are these members of the Day Council: Dorace Hornberger, president; Dorothy Holl, vice-president; Beverly Bresler, secretary; Janet Coombs, treasurer; Mary Fry, senior representative; Joyce Thompson, junior representative; and Kathleen Guenther, sophomore representative.

Vice president and secretary-treasurer of the Senate will be elected from these groups after the installation ceremony.

Spring Brings May Day Festivities To Campus During Parents' Weekend

It's spring—what a world of spring! Yes, spring has arrived with its blaze of color, and once again the trees are dressed in their garments of green—flowers blossom forth—and as each bud breaks thru, it signifies new life and new hope for a better world. Gone are the long bleak winter days, the cold monotony of the gray colorless sky. Yes, and all hearts are lifted by promise of "blue skies from now on."

This year, to pay tribute to spring, with all its meaning, Saturday, May 15 has been set aside for the traditional "May Day" celebration. At 2:30 p.m. on that day, Betty Cusano will be crowned Queen of the May and will reign throughout the May Day festivities. Following the coronation by Grace Miller, custodian of the crown, due tribute and respect will be paid the Queen by her court, the senior women, and the dancers.

The passing of winter will be portrayed in a dance by Shirley Miller, Kathleen Guenther, Lillian Boyer, Rita Lendacki, Kathryn Morrison, Vivian MacLatchie, Joyce Costenbader, Janice Neuroth, and Janet Coombs, and the arrival of spring by Kazuyo Kiyono, Alma Natanabul, Mary Jane Mellinger, Jean Smit, Shirley Douty, Patty Wright, Joyce Thompson, Marjorie Lyman, Cieta

Dr. Russell Smith To Teach in W. Va.

Dr. Russell B. Smith has been appointed to the summer teaching staff of the College of Education of West Virginia University, commencing June 2. He will lecture in regularly-scheduled classes and meet students singly and in groups.

Students to Decide Upon NSA; Worthy Goals to Be Gained

"Yes, I got another today. That makes ten rejections to date—sometimes I wonder if it is all worth it—maybe I haven't the stuff, and maybe I won't make a good doctor—maybe I should quit now while I can."

"Hold on Sam, things are lousy but don't start losing faith in yourself. Why a guy with 'A's' through pre-med school saying he doesn't have the stuff—that doesn't go. You'll get in, you've still got Columbia nad Bellevue to fall from."

Albrightian To Be Entered in INA; Pearson to Speak

The Albrightian has been invited to join the Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association and send delegates to a conference of that organization at Muhlenberg College this Saturday, May 8, according to an announcement made by Mary Fry, editor. The convention, which will include newspaper representatives from colleges all over the East, will hear Drew Pearson, Washington columnist and radio commentator and first president of the INA, speak at the noon luncheon at Muhlenberg.

The INA, inactive during the past war, purposes to maintain close contact with college newspapers of the Middle Atlantic States region. Experts in various fields of newspaper work will lead discussion groups at the May 8 confab. Ideas will be exchanged and plans formulated so that the INA can be made the strong journalism association that it was before the war.

Expecting to represent The Albrightian at this conference are Miss Fry, John Werley, Robert Reed, Albert Wagner, Patricia Poore, Lois Taylor, Morris Knouse, and Dorothy Seisler.

Stavrides Elected IRC President

William C. Stavrides was elected president of the International Relations Club as the result of the club's recent poll, announced Fred Wolf, retiring prexy. Other officers elected for the coming year: vice-president, Robert Harper; secretary, Nancy Matten; treasurer, Doris Downes. Violette Seibert was elected a member of the executive committee.

The traditional May Pole Dance of the junior women, as the promise of blue skies, will be done by Helen Seiber, Fredabery Moyer, Mary Fry, Lois Lackey, Anna Lauver, Jean Long, Elaine Huber, Virginia Fox, Nancy Matten, Erma Seidel, Dorothy Holl, Sylvia Hoppaguh, Doris Downes, Esther Messersmith and Thelma Degler.

The dancing this year has a unique touch. The cartograph is being done by students—Mrs. Barbara Keffer and Doris Chanin. The dances will be modern interpretive done with a background of music—"Asa's Death and Mourning" by Greig. And two poems, winter and spring, are to be interpreted by Violette Seibert.

Worship

Noonday chapel leaders for the week are as follows:

- May 4—Gerald Hertzog
  - May 5—Evans Keim
  - May 6—Morris Knouse
  - May 7—Violette Seibert
  - May 10—David Voigt
- Services are held daily at 12:45 p.m. in Sylvan Chapel.

"It is easy to say Mike—but it does get a guy down. Funny, I wonder what it would be like if my last name wasn't Cohen."

Scenes like this are taking place in numerous colleges and universities. Even on our own campus many of our students are getting discouraged; losing faith in themselves as well as in their fellow men.

Quota Systems
It is pretty sad to think in a democracy our institutions of higher learning still have quota systems and racial restrictions; pretty sad indeed.

But there is a light; a faint light shining through the mist and haze; a light which we the students of the greatest democracy in the world can add energy to and really make it shine. It is our big chance to get on the boat and sail with the coming wind. We can see to it that freedom, equality, and truth will win out in this war of ideals. We can all help strengthen our democracy and we have to start here on Albright campus. How? By joining an organization that is clearing the way and working toward the ideals we profess; we can join the United States National Student Association.

NSA Preamble
What can the N.S.A. do besides rid quota systems? Let's take a look at the preamble of the N.S.A. constitution:

"We the students of the United States of America, desiring to maintain academic freedom and students rights, to stimulate and improve democratic student governments, to develop better educational standards, facilities, and teaching methods, to improve student cultural, social, and physical welfare, to promote international understanding and fellowship, to guarantee to all people, because of their inherent dignity as individuals, equal rights and possibilities for primary, secondary, and higher education regardless of sex, race, religion, political belief, or economic circumstance, to foster the recognition of the rights and responsibilities of students to the school, the community, humanity, and God, and to preserve the interests and integrity of the government and Constitution of the United States of America, do hereby establish this Constitution of the United States National Student Association."

The wind has started to blow—the tide is moving; let's not get washed up on shore but let's hoist anchor and set sail . . . there are worthy goals to be gained.

NOTICE

To Veterans Training Under Public Law 16

Notice to Veterans Training Under Public Law 16: Regulations of the Veterans Administration provide that training should continue without interruption, including training during the summer session, wherever possible. However, any veteran desiring to interrupt training during the summer for any sufficient reason should send his request to Mr. E. Epstein, Veterans Administration, Reading, Pa., and action on such requests will be taken in line with the respective merit of each case. This does not apply to veterans training under Public Law 346.

Mr. Epstein will visit the college shortly after the opening of the summer session. Meanwhile Public Law 16 veterans with special problems may contact him at the Veterans Administration, Rajah Building, Reading, Pa.

Let's Vote

In last week's issue of "The Albrightian" appeared a ballot for every student to vote his choice for President of the United States. The same ballot, received from a popular magazine concern, has appeared in college newspapers all over the country. Upon completion of each college election, returns are submitted to the magazine and finally a country-wide student choice for president is made.

So that Albright can have a more representative vote, "The Albrightian" is continuing the election for another week. Won't you please fill in and return by Friday, May 7, the ballot which appears on Page 4 of this issue? All ballots must be signed to be valid. Due to the necessary locking of "The Albrightian" Office, all ballots are to be placed in the ballot box outside the Office.

We sincerely hope that Albright students will want to voice their choice for the next United States President. Here's your chance to do it. Here's your chance to have a say in our government.

The NSA Question

Should Albright join the NSA?

The National Student Association, composed of colleges all over the country, is striving to break down racial discrimination, regardless of sex, race, creed, political viewpoints, or economic status. It stands for the rights of students, and aims to improve democratic student governments.

The NSA is backing the World Student Service Fund movement and similar service groups. It is seeking a representative on the National Commission of the UNESCO so that it can voice the student opinion in world affairs. It has also become affiliated with the International Union of Students.

We believe the National Student Association to be a very worthwhile thing. Many of you heard Mr. Ted Harris, NSA representative, speak last week in Chapel. For those of you who didn't hear him and still fail to understand the principles and purposes of the NSA, won't you inquire from a Student Council member just what the NSA is really about so that in several days, when all Albright students are asked to vote on our College's affiliation with this organization, you will know what you are voting for.

The National Student Association deserves our earnest support. When we are asked to vote on this question, let's give it much consideration.

Education vs High Marks

If we can take out sufficient time from studying for exams and from writing term papers, we might ask ourselves, "Are we in college for an education or to get high marks?"

On first thought, this question might seem pointless, but after consideration, we'll find we're really up against something. A student gunning for high marks can become educated, and a person trying for an education often gets some high marks. However, often those seeking an education do not get as high marks as those who are working strictly for those "A's."

The problem is not one facing only Albright students; it's in all colleges. The keen competition of an education today demands greater effort to get in. And for those of us who plan to go to a graduate school, the competition results directly in a concentrated working for high marks.

One of the drawbacks of this situation is that in trying for high marks, we sometimes miss the complete comprehension of our subject material. In other words, rote memory work and cramming do not produce a full understanding of the facts. Another drawback is that marks do not always indicate a true evaluation of one's learning. A test mark of one hundred does not mean that a student knew only that percentage or the material which was presented in class. A test could have included other questions which might have altered both the perfect and the poor mark.

So what's the score up to this point? Since we cannot measure learnedness by a machine, it looks as though we've got to have tests. And since tests bring marks, and high marks get us to where we're going, we'd better stock up on high marks too. But maybe it would be a good idea while we're working for the marks to get both a thorough understanding of our subjects and a knowledge of what is going on in the world around us.

DEAR EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Last week a science student complained about a Science Slants article that I, a liberal arts student, had written several weeks ago. This student based his objections on the assumption that I was advocating a science column written each week by a liberal arts student. Nothing could be farther from the truth! My first sentence read "Why not have a Science Slants article written by a liberal arts student?" "A" plus "article" adds up to one article to my way of thinking and served as an introduction to my view on Science Slants. The reason for the whole undertaking was that the science student assigned to Science Slants that week hadn't come across, and you know the "show must go on."

The main point of the article, which seems to have escaped our irate reader completely, was that most science students are hopelessly over-specialized and should broaden their interests to include more cultural studies. A valid complaint would have included a refutation of this point, but our "methodical and scientific" friend was strangely silent about the matter. We have only to conclude that he recognized it as truth and thus had to base his objections on a small and irrelevant point, which he happened to misinterpret anyway.

Our correspondent called the article "stinging." But anyone but our scalpel-wielding, test-tube-tossing friend would recognize that the column was written with a tongue-in-cheek, half-joking, half-earnest style, with purposeful exaggeration to gain the point, but perhaps this was too subtle for the "scientifically-trained" mind to grasp.

I did not claim to know anything about science but only about what is happening to our science students, whom we dearly cherish and about whom we are thus concerned. I did not advocate a weekly Science Slants article by a liberal arts student. We liberal arts students have more pride, huh! All I ask is to be left with my "vacillating romanticism"—the last refuge in a world that science is rapidly making more unbearable.

Sincerely,
Dorothy Seisler

Hits-- And Misses!

Chalk one up—

To Student Council for having Ted Harris come and speak to the sophomores and seniors in Chapel last Thursday.

To Ted Harris who helped enlighten the students about NSA (National Student Association). If any students are still in the dark about what the NSA is, get it tough with one of your Student Council representatives. NSA is something we should all know about. It's really worth working for.

To the student teachers who completed their training. Good luck, kids, the future is yours in more ways than one. Education is the most important medium through which we can raise the lowering morals of man.

To Marjorie Christ, Robert Ziegler, and John Woyanowski for jobs WELL done.

For profs who are in favor of about out schedules for hour exams. Let's hope what you think about this idea gang. It is tough to take two and three "hour tests" in one day . . . and still get "A's".

CROSS ONE OUT—

For a certain couple on campus who never seem to have time to tear themselves away from each other. Love is grand, and it makes the world go round . . . but "it" has some limitations.

For those students who haven't turned in their election returns. Cast your vote for U.S. president today and deposit ballot in "The Albrightian" Office.

Against those Council members who didn't attend last Thursday's Council meeting and thus prevented the passage of several amendments to the Constitution. A 2/3 voting majority is necessary to pass a constitutional amendment, so come on, Council members, let's not defeat our own purpose.

A Jew Looks at His Religion

Ed. Note—This is the first in a series of three articles on the three main religious faiths of the world today, Judaism, Catholicism, and Protestantism. We sincerely hope that through reading the thoughts of a student of each faith, our readers will have a clearer understanding of the beliefs and convictions of these religions.

By Stanley Taub

To understand the man of to-day, one must first study the child of yesterday. Therefore, in order that you may more fully comprehend my religious ideas, I should like to discuss the Jewish background and traditions which have done much to mould my present convictions.

The Old Testament has influenced directly, or indirectly, all people, and I, as a Jew, have felt its weight, perhaps, more than Today Dandy looks with fond pride on blond, ever-smiling Jean Borgstrom. Her many and varied activities give sufficient evidence of her undying energy and interest in Albright.

As can be easily seen, she is a sports enthusiast having been the captain of the basketball team and cheerleaders, the vice president of the Women's Athletic Association, and a member of the varsity basketball, baseball, tennis, and hockey teams for all her four years. She is the vice president of the Phi Beta Mu Sorority, a member of Pi Gamma Mu and has been pledged to the honorary Alumni Association, Phi Delta Sigma. She is a member of Student Council and has been on the social committee of her class for four years.

After having danced in the May Day Festival for the past three years, she will take her well-deserved place in the court this year and watch the others dance.

Her major is psychology and although she will be spending the summer as a camp counselor or at the shore, she plans to go eventually into personnel work. This personnel will undoubtedly be named Jimmy Brusch, however, and Dandy thinks they're both lucky. In any case, we can say goodbye to "Borgy," knowing that wherever she goes she will be loved because whatever she does, she will do well.

Spring, The Sweethearts' Season

Beautiful, balmy, springtime seems to be affecting everyone on the Albright campus from our friend Angus the Angletworm on up to our prey.

"Flirtation Walk," (that's the walk between the Ad. Building and Selwyn Hall—in case you don't notice such things), seems to be more heavily populated than usual. One bench is sure to be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. R. Dombro. We were wondering, the other day, if Bob really was unconscious, or just looked that way, so we scampered up behind him and aimed a spitball at his head. He merely turned dreamily to his favorite female and sighed, "What did you say, Darling?"

Prof. Khouri, of course, manages to breathe an air of spring-time into his classes all year round. When he is not talking about his beloved Pirates, or raving about the clean, sweet, balmy air of you-know-what city, he is wearing the gayest, and most spring like neckties we have ever seen. Now we ask you, what could be more dashing than a purple tie with red sunsets, or more springlike than a pale blue number, splashed with white daisies?

Even the literature trend on campus is toward light, summer reading. Nothing could be more in keeping with the season than Prof. Harding's English 27. We know of one foreign language major who was very disappointed to learn that "Romantic Lit." does not include the Kinsey Report. Sleepy-eyed English Seminar students are currently being regaled with Carl Kern's rollicking accounts of Chaucer.

Every day, the campus begins to bustle with signs of spring. Boys, others. The Old Testament is more than a theological guide for most of its pages are concerned with the seasonal, moral and social problems of man. The Old Testament recognizes the sanctity and dignity of human life and prescribes principles which shall govern man's relation to the stranger, his family, his servant, his employee, the widow, the orphan, etc. Social injustices were described by the ancient Hebrew prophets who also proclaimed the universality of God and the brotherhood of man. The love of freedom and democracy caused the Biblical Jews to fight oppression, even as today we are fighting for a home in which we can live without fear of persecution or loss of liberty.

From this heritage, I have formulated the following religious concepts. To me, religion is not like water in a faucet, to be turned on upon entering a church or synagogue and to be turned off after shaking hands with the minister or rabbi at the front door. In my mind religion is the social, seasonal, and moral values by which men guide their everyday relation to God, to other men, and to themselves. Since religion, in this sense becomes a way of life to be expressed through action, I attach more importance to a kindly word than to the loudest prayer, to an honest act than to observance of ritual, to moral righteousness than to perfect church attendance. This does not mean that I negate the value of prayer, ritual or church. However, I wish to place primary emphasis on the practice of the truths to be gotten from religious ceremony and secondary emphasis on the performance of religious ceremony itself.

Thus far I have laid great stress on man's relation to man and have said little about man's relation to God for the following reason: man, created in God's image, is part mortal and part divine. I believe that man owes his greatest responsibility to the spirit of God which is in him. Therefore, if man, guided by his conscience, is righteous and moral in his relations to other men, his relations to God will be righteous and moral.

Finally, I believe that all faiths are based on the same tenets, and religion, therefore, can become the greatest power in the creation of a unified, morally just, and peaceful world.

Let us conclude these observations on the Sweethearts' Season with that all inclusive statement by Rudolph Schmoebler. "In the spring, most things turn green, but those things which are already green, turn purple, and the things around them, turn red, white, or blue."

LIONS TROUNCE E-TOWN 4-0

Daymen, PiTaus, Kappas Win First I-M Ball Games

The 1948 Intramural Softball League was officially opened last Monday afternoon as the star-studded Daymen edged out the favored Zetas in the final frame by a 4-3 score. Dave "ride-arm" Matthews hurried for the winners, while Snyder and Taylor shared the burden for the Zetas. It was Dave DeWitt's circuit blow that decided the contest.

Behind the able pitching of Sonny Chelius, the Pi Taus trounced the A.P.O.'s 14-5, in one of two evening games. Jim Bowman's boundary belt with the sacks loaded sparked a second inning Red and Black uprising. In the other twilight contest the powerful Kappas steamrolled the easy 17-7 victory over the Red Rockets.

Coch Parsons has announced that the wearing of cleats will be legal as of May 3. Postponed games will be scheduled at a later date. The regular game schedule follows:

- A—afternoon, 4:10 p. m.
- B—baseball field
- C—campus field
- E—evening, 6:50 p. m.

SIDE LIONS

Continuing the new practice of presenting a few brief sketches of varsity campus caperers, we selected varied characters on the Roaring Lions ball club and a Growling Cat from off the Greens.

Howard Gunitz—Another sophomore who goes by the moniker, "Howie." His activities in Reading High School were limited to golf, spending three years digging divots there. Last year he was the main linkman for the Albright squad in their fifty-fifth season, which wasn't too bad for the first years of inter-collegiate competition.

Paul Muller—Frosh called "Smiley" for obvious reasons. "Smiley" built his high school education in his hometown of Highbridge, N. J. at Highbridge High he engaged in soccer for 4 years; basketball, 4 years; baseball, 4 years. "Smiley" hurried for the Highbridge Steelers in the Tri-County League. His favorite pastime is following in the foot steps of Arthur Murray.

Richard Lee—Frosh known as "Dick" and personalized by his crew cut. He hails from Trenton, N. J. where he attended Trenton Central High. He participated in Varsity Football for 3 years; basketball, 1 year; baseball, 2 years. He took part in American Legion baseball with the Trenton club, which was national runner-up in 1945. Dick holds down the territory of right field.

Prof. Scoles Heads Waning Bowling

Prof. Scoles, with a neat 177.67 average, came back as high man at the weekly meeting of the Faculty Bowling League. In second place with a total of 159.87, a 30 point improvement over last week, was Dr. Handorf. Rev. Smethers capped third place honors with a 127.33.

We'd enjoy seeing all the pros at the remaining matches, since the season will end in a week or two, due to warm weather and pressing duties at the end of the semester.

Tennis Team Routs Lebanon Valley in Initial Victory, 8-1

Albright's Lion netmen pulled out a large-sized bottle of Listerine Monday, April 26, gargled their throats well, and with the improved tone of their roar, eased the Lebanon Valley squad off the courts to the tune of 8-1 for the initial win of the season. Only the combination of Howard Lebergren and Mike Gerasinovich, who topped Albright's Tom Kane and Darl Hoopes, saved the Valley team from a blanking.

On the following day our racketmen had the Golden Avalanche of Kutztown State Teachers' College sliding slowly when a light rain brought the proceedings to an end, the Red and White leading 2-1 in matches. Jim Mengel, now seeded first, and Bob Ruoff had their victories put away while John Dohner gave K-town its only point. Efforts are being made to complete this tussle at a later date.

But this winning streak of one and a fraction games came only after Frank and Marshall and Elizabethtown handed Coach Leo Bloom's charges their second and third straight losses of the regular schedule respectively. F & M, with Bob Zink showing the way, edged the Lions 6-3, and E-town followed with a 6-2 trouncing.

Last Saturday, the Albright tennisers traveled to Dickinson. Tomorrow, May 5, Ursinus plays host to the Lions. This school is an unknown quantity as far tennis goes but the Red and White hope to come up with another victory. Also, on Thursday, West Chester State Teachers' College enters the Lions' lair, and it is expected that the F lying Dutchmen of Lebanon will entertain us Saturday.

The Lebanon Valley summaries: Singles—Jim Mengel, A, defeated Henry Miller, 6-2, 6-3; John Dohner, A, defeated Walter Woerner, 6-4, 3-6, 6-4; Bob Ruoff, A, defeated Howard Lebergren 6-1, Shultz, 6-3, 6-2; Jay Shenk, A, 6-6-1; Tom Kane, A, defeated Bob feated Don Thomas, 6-1, 6-4; Charles Schirmeister, A, defeated Mile Gerasinovich, 6-3, 6-0.

Doubles—Mengel and Ruoff, A, defeated Miller and Woerner, 6-3, 1-6, 8-6; Lebergren, LV, defeated Kane and Darlington Hoopes, 6-0, 6-4; Stan Taub and Jim Brusch, A, defeated Shultz and Thomas, 6-2, 6-4.

An additional match has been scheduled for the tennis team on May 18, with LaSalle at Philadelphia. This will be the last regular game of the seventeen game card.

Matten Golfmen Tie Bucknell; Trip West Chester

Capable golfers, heading the win column for the college's four spring sports at the present, tied the Bucknell Bisons 4½-4½ on the Berkshire Country Club course last Tuesday. The Bucknellians had to rally to even up the score. On the back nine, Earl Langford fell by the wayside. Langford was four up on Spicer coming out of the thirteenth hole, but was finally overtaken. Bob Bakdorf thrned in the low score for the day, a 78.

Previous to this tie, the Lions wloped the W. Chester Rams 8-1 at the Reading Country Club greens amidst wind, rain, and darkness. Right now the linksmen have two wins, one loss to F & M, and the tie with Bucknell on the record books.

Moravian's Greyhounds will play host to the Albright linksmen today. The Red and White golfers, always confident of chalking up another match win for their Alma Mater, look for a victory.

Two days later, on May 6, the Albright divot diggers will take to foreign links with the purpose of taming the shrewd Bears of Ursinus.

Bucknell summaries: Batdorf A, 1, Montgomery B, 0; Dunlop A, 0, Wadell B, 0; Best Ball: Albright 1, Bucknell 0.

Dunitz A, 0; Allen E, 1; Yocum A, 1, Thomas B, 0; Best Ball: Bucknell 1, Albright, 0.

Langford A, ½, Spicer B, ½; Gilbert A, 1, Cohlwinick B, 0; Best Ball: Albright 1, Bucknell 0.

Total—Albright 4½, Bucknell 4½.

Bruins, Indians Here Wed., Sat.

Tomorrow the Ursinus Bruins will visit the Albright Stadium track for a tough dual meet with our Lion cindermen piloted by Gene L. Shirk. High-point men George Kennedy and Russ Binder lead the Bear's way.

Saturday, May 8, will find the Albright thin-clads meeting the Juniata trackmen here. The Indians have 4 of their lettermen returning this season in the persons of Beyer, Dunkle, Garber, and Walters. Last year the Juniataans, under the coaching of Mike Snider, whipped the Red and White 73-58. Without a doubt the Lions' dander is up.

Top Senior Girl Athlete To Be Elected by All Students

By Jean Schwartz

Albright's entire student body will have a chance to cast their votes for their choice of the best woman athlete in the senior class during an all college election to be held May 10 and 11. In a selection of four candidates by the Women's Athletic Association cabinet of Albright, Jean Schwartz, president, ability, attitude, sportsmanship, and activeness were taken into consideration, factors which in turn should guide each student's vote. To the winner will go a coveted trophy, the design of which is still secret, to be presented at the Annual Sports Banquet, Wednesday evening, May 19.

Put down in your date book the week of May 10, to be sure to vote for the senior class's best woman athlete. To aid in choosing one of the four candidates vying for the trophy award, brief sketches of their sports activities are given below.

First candidate up is tall, brown-haired Jeanne Flickinger. "Flick's" dashing form may be seen on the tennis courts any day of the week. She dominated the clay courts through her years at Albright and captained the girls' varsity tennis team during her last two years. During the winter months Jeanne passes time by switching the cords on the basketball floor for the Albright varsity. After four years of basketball, Flick was dubbed co-captain of the outfit. Four years of varsity baseball and two years of varsity hockey complete "Flick's" record.

Candidate number two is blond Jean Borgstrom. "Borgy can be seen any fall fitting up and down the hockey field in her white combination. During the last of a few hockey years, Jean switched to the defense in the middle of the field. Even though her height is lacking, "Borgy's" position at guard on the varsity basketball team wasn't lacking, and after four years became co-captain. So as not to be idle in the spring, Jean took over the slot at short-center for four years and rounded her career off with a few years of varsity tennis.

Fay Sheetz, candidate number three, also goes in for fall hockey. However, the offense is this girl's word. Playing in the forward line of the varsity hockey team, and in the forward section of the basketball team for four years, puts Fay right up with the best. However, the offense is this girl's spring practice when she can go "out to the old ball game." The four years of baseball went fast and the last two years as captain went even faster for the third sacker who doubles as a catcher.

Last but not least is Elizabeth Sanger. "Beth" to the gang. "Beth's" height classifies her in the defense section, so that's where you'll find her as a full back on the hockey field or a center guard under the basket on the basketball court. The last two years "Beth" decided to try her hand at softball where the defensive outfield beckoned.

Twelve Hits Unloaded To Record First Win

By Bob Hoffman and Ray Schlegel

Albright College's ace pitcher, George Baumgaertel, hurled the Lion tossers to a brilliant 4-0 rout over Elizabethtown in a game on the foreign diamond. Everything went right for Coach LeVan Smith's team as they brought a four game losing streak to a quick close. Not only did Baumgaertel permit just three singles and one walk, but he struck out nine Lizzy swatters.

Twelve base knocks, three by little Jessie Ervin at short, swamped E-town tosser, Mike Walters. Leaving twelve men stranded on the sacks, Albright could have raised the score still higher with a few more timely bingles. The Lions went wild on the bases too three sacks being pilfered by Bill Krohto, two by Russ Millard, and one each by Ervin and Baumgaertel.

In the first inning, Millard and Krohto pulled a neat double steal to score the Red and White's initial tally. Krohto came home on Ervin's first safety, for the 2nd run. Ervin scored in the first on an error by third baseman Snavely. Following in the fourth frame, Baumgaertel slashed out a double, stole third, and dented the rubber as Krohto smashed his second base hit. Crafty Emmet Glass paced the hole between third and short most adeptly, besides getting two singles. It was his first contest after recovering from an infection.

The win over Elizabethtown was a happy one for the Lions. Earlier in the season they had dropped an 18-0 game to Franklin and Marshall, who had been defeated by E-town 6-2.

This afternoon the Albright diamondmen will open a very full week of games, first in a contest at home with Juniata College from Huntingdon, Pa. Coached by Bill Smaltz, former Penn State football tosser, the Indians are expected to give the Lions a real battle. However, last year the locals handed the Juniata nine one of their four defeats by a score of 14-3, which lets LeVan P. Smith's men have an edge in confidence. Against the Quantic Marines in their first game, the Indians were routed 15-4.

The Lions will then meet Ursinus College on Wednesday, May 5. Having had a loss at their last year, the Albrightians will be looking for sweet revenge to even the score. The Bruins lost to Albright's first conqueror, LaSalle, 5-4.

West Chester State Teachers' College offers the opposition to the weary Lions the very next afternoon on the home diamond. Since the Teachers just recently copped their ninth straight victory, the Red and White can look for some stiff competition.

After a long-awaited one-day rest, the Lion nine will journey to Annville to face Lebanon Valley for their second fray of the season with the Dutchmen. After a close, well-played game, in which the Dutchmen edged out the Lions, 3-2, anything can happen in this one. We hope to see the tables turned on the Lebanon charges, lead by DeJohnsson, Hess, and Marquette.

Due to the cancellation of the Softball Playday scheduled for April 24, the Albright Lionesses have moved their starting date to May 1, when they will face their toughest foe of the season, Ursinus. The Ursinus gals are undisputed softball queens in their class. Although the Collegeville team has lost its star pitcher and a number of veterans, it is still a powerful combination.

Considered stronger than last year, the Red and White, with plenty of fighting spirit, is something to be reckoned with by the snazzy Ursinus lassies.

"Everyone talks about it, but no one ever does anything about it," concerning orienting the girls' varsity softball team into the more varsity methods of play. Most doting males sit sedately on their haunches and smirk while the girls try as best they can to overcome their feminine handicaps. Not one masculine finger was lifted to help the gals — until last week, when two very courageous lads, Bryant "Trigger" Smith and Eugene "Heffer" Schollenberger took the field.

Since the debut, the male coaches have kept a faithful 4 o'clock meeting with their feminine prodigies. Hats off from the girls to "Trigger" and "Heffer," who did what a lot of other men on campus should have done! The revised schedule for girls' tennis and baseball teams looks as follows:

Not because your author himself is a senior, but as a fitting tribute to the outstanding biology department we have on our campus, I would like to bring my term on this column to a grand climax by telling you what the premedial section of the class of 1948 is going to do after they graduate.

First off, your Student Council President, John Woynarowski, has been accepted at Temple University School of Medicine. He will probably be abetted by a graduate of last year's class, Bill Tragle. Leonard Woodring will be going along with him.

The big and little "Gold Dust Twins," Bill Clouser and Hal Cooper, will not be separated next year when they bunk together in the anatomy lab—with the other cadavers? Johnny Deam, "Admiral" Grubb, and Dick Bertolet will take them under their wings and guide them through the "in and outs" of Jefferson Medical College.

Last but not least, I hope, are the two "junior" members of the class, Heber Yeagley and your author, who are headed, like the pioneers from the early days, for the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine.

Bob Kemp is going to Kutztown S.T.C. to take education courses so that he can go into teaching biology.

B. J. Jones and Frank Ritter, according to latest reports, are heading for Kent State University where they will take their master's degrees in biology.

Walt Konecki will begin his working for Beryllium Corp. this summer. He anticipates going to medical school next year.

Bob Sokol is going to medical school somewhere in New York. New York appointments come a little late and he has not as yet heard about his acceptance.

Your reporter has to not hear what Fred Perfect is going to do, like I feel sure he will keep up his end for the honor of the class.

Cathy Frantz and Jeanne Flickinger, the lab technologists of the class, will probably be working in hospital laboratories giving aid to humanity in their own way.

Good luck to all of you in your cruise throughout life. May your lives be shipshape. Remember to strive for something better all the time and keep the motto "Outward Bound" always before you.

Mus Induct 14 Neophytes

Fourteen pledges of the Phi Beta Mu sorority were inducted last night at the home in Mt. Penn of Virginia Woerle, past Mu president. Grace Miller, present proxy presided at the traditional induction ceremony. The new sisters are Betty Berger, Betty Bratton, Evelyn Brown, Virginia Fox, Marjorie Gardiner, Kathleen Guenther, Nan Heckman, Louise Hoff, Betty Jane Jones, Jean Magee, Barbara Miller, Betty Sarge, Polly Sowa, and Charlotte Winner.

Detroit Symphony Tickets Available

Rev. Lester Stabler announced that tickets are available for a concert by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra to be given at Lehigh University, Thursday, May 20, at 8:15 p. m. in Grace Hall. Anyone interested in attending should notify the Public Relations Office not later than Thursday noon, May 6.

Dr. Karl Kreuger who has been hailed by music critics throughout Europe and South America as the "cultural ambassador of America," will conduct the orchestra. Reserved sections have been established for seats on the main floor of Grace Hall at $1.80 and in the North Balcony at $2.40. The remaining 2500 seats will be offered at the general admission price of $1.20.

HEO Demonstration! On Friday, April 26

On Friday, April 26, the junior girls gave a demonstration on summer entertaining and picnics to a teen club of the Reading Y.W.C.A.

COUNCIL SAYS

Meeting of April 22
John Woynarowski, Presiding

President Woynarowski announced the swearing in of new Council members at the next meeting, and requested that the various organizations hold elections before that time. He also made it known that the former ruling pertaining to dancing at jogging roasts, as decided by the faculty committee, still holds. This statement resulted from the problem presented to Council at the previous meeting: Would a doggie roast at which there is dancing be considered as a dance?

Little Cultural Chapel

Ray Fidler reported for the committee that representatives of the N.S.A. would speak at the April 27 and 29 Chapel programs, and that the tentative date for the Mantle Ceremony is May 11. The recent all-campus election polled 428 votes reported Joyce Thompson, of the student activities committee.

The evaluation forms for the grading-of-the-professors will be placed in the college mail boxes indicated George Koehler of that committee. Koehler requested that these forms be returned by April 30 to a box on the main floor of the Administration building. Names of the committee for tabulating the returns will be submitted by Koehler at the next meeting of Council.

Miss Thompson attempted to present several amendments to the Constitution. The two-thirds majority of students necessary for amendment procedure was not present.

Thompson Guest At PGM Banquet

The annual banquet of the Pennsylvania Zeta Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu will be held at the Thomas Jefferson Tea Room on Friday, May 7, at 6:30 p.m. The Reverend W. Paul Thompson, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, will be the speaker. His subject will be "Christian Social Service."

The new officers of the Chapter will officially be presented to the active and alumni members and will assume office at the banquet.

Kehler Leads Chess Tourney

Harold Kehler is ahead by three and one half games in the chess tournament now in progress in the S.U.B., announced Mrs. Frank Voss, hostess. Next in line are Robert McKinney with one and one half out of three; Fred Perfection with one out of one, and Donald Whitman with two out of five. Others in the tournament are Albert Aulenbach, Tom Clark, John Comins, John Dohner, John Hoffer, Ray Miller, Bob Moser, Strat Yatron, Chris Zander and Donald Diehm.

Kehler is now organizing a chess team which will play a team from the Reading Jewish community Center and possibly Ursinus College.

The "Bard" Presented By Radio Workshop

"The Bard", an original one-act play written by Russell LaMarca, was presented last Wednesday evening on the Radio Workshop broadcast. Members of the cast were Betty Ann Cohn, Kathleen Guenther, Jay Kyle, Harold Matter and David Smith.

After the broadcast, a business meeting was held at which plans were discussed for next year. Jack Gouder and Harold Matter will act as chief announcers; Marjorie Lyman and Marilyn Himmelstein will be co-chairmen of public relations. Certificates will be given to those who work a minimum of eight radio workshops per semester.

Radio Time Chaired

"What's News at Albright?", the college radio news program, has changed its broadcasting time to Wednesdays from 5:30 P.M. to 5:40 P.M. over W.H.U.M., starting May 5, announced Walter Hayum, radio news editor.

Meeting of April 29
William Carson Presiding

John Woynarowski, retiring president of Council, administered the oath of office to William Carson, after which time President Carson presided.

Reporting for the Chapel committee, Ray Fidler expressed regrets that the N.S.A. speaker who was scheduled for last Tuesday's program was unable to be here. Fidler also indicated May 13 as the definite date of Council's Mantle Ceremony.

Beverly Bressler, of the grading-of-the-professors committee reported that members of the committee had met with Dean George Walton to learn what should be done with the grading forms.

Jerry Dersh requested that Council schedule an all-campus election next week, after The Albrightian comes out, for the purpose of students' acceptance or non-acceptance of the N.S.A. constitution. Dersh said that an election is preferable at that time because the matter would then still be fresh in the minds of the students. After Dave Voigt moved that we hold an election for accepting or rejecting the constitution, Bob Reed moved that the students be informed on the ballot that the student vote would indicate our wishes, but that the matter would still await administrative approval. Both motions carried.

Jay Shenk moved that the bare facts of N.A. be presented in an article. The motion carried.

A Thank You

The Patron's Division of the Albright College Auxiliary wish to take this opportunity of expressing their sincere appreciation and thanks to all the students who participated in the program presented at their annual Silver Tea last month.

Both the members and their guests enjoyed the program very much and will be looking forward to the next annual Silver Tea.

Sincerely yours
Mrs. Harry Yeagley
President

Varsity May Offer $100 For Stories By Students

There's cash waiting for student writers in Varsity Magazine's new search for short-short stories — to be specific, $100 for any story accepted for publication.

Varsity's offer, growing out of a desire to develop new talent among America's young writers, is open to any student at this school.

Submitted stories should be about 1200 words in length, and may be on any subject. It is important to note, however, that Varsity is a long man's magazine, read regularly by hundreds of thousands of male undergraduates. While fiction or this audience can be either serious or humorous, it must be slanted for male readership.

Manuscripts should be typed, and mailed, with stamped return envelope, to Short Story Department, Varsity Magazine, 52 Vanderbilt Avenue, New York 17, New York.

What the World Is Looking For

The world today is looking for men who are not for sale; men who are honest, sound from center to circumference true to the man's core; men with consciences as steady as the needle to the pole; men who will stand for the right if the heavens totter and the earth reels; men who tell the truth and look the world right in the eye; men who neither brag nor run; men who neither flag nor flinch; men who can have courage without shouting it; men in whom the courage of everlasting life runs still deep and strong; men who know their message and tell it; men who know their place and fill it; men who know the business men attend to it; men who will not lie, shirk or dodge; men who are not too lazy to work nor too proud to be poor men who are willing to eat what they have earned and wear what they have paid for; men who are not ashamed to say "No" with emphasis and who are not ashamed to say "I can't afford it."

2,000,000 Jobs Planned for Summer

Last year a national young man's magazine surveyed the summer job field and predicted that one million vacation-time positions would be filled by students. A recently-published government census revealed that the actual figures came to about 1,001,900.

This year that same magazine—Varsity—has surveyed the field again and predicts that twice as many jobs will be available during the summer months of '48.

In an article that tells how and where to get these jobs, Varsity splits the vacation employment field into seven categories: self-employment, governmental work, transportation, sports and entertainment, summer camps, industry, and service and trades.

According to the article in the current issue, the first two job categories offer some of the best opportunities in summer work. Jobs are open in three branches of the Department of the Interior—in the Geological Survey division (for field assistants); in the Fish and Wildlife Service (as refuge and hatchery laborers); and in the Bureau of Reclamation (for engineering aids, survey aids, soil specialists and raftmen.) Numerous other positions are open in the National Park Service, and in hotels, restaurants, and concessions at these parks.

In each of the job divisions listed, Varsity Magazine points out the outstanding positions; in Transportation, for example, there are airline passenger-relations jobs available. In the Summer Camp field, public and settlement camps often give jobs to inexperienced applicants—although they pay less.

Geiss to Speak At FTA Session

Mr. Newton Geiss, Superintendent of Berks County Schools, will speak at the final meeting of the Future Teachers of America this Thursday evening, May 6, at 7:00 p.m. in the Lower Social Room. The subject of Mr. Geiss's talk will be "A Cross-Section of Problems in Small Schools."

A report of the regional F.T.A. conference will also be presented at this meeting. F. T. A. election returns will appear in the next issue of The Albrightian.
