Albrightian Awarded First-Class Rating

The Albrightian has been awarded a first-class rating for the first semester of the present academic year, the Associated Collegiate Press announced last week. The award, covering the first twelve issues of the newspaper, resulted from The Albrightian's entry in the fifty-sixth All-American Critical Service sponsored by the ACP, which in turn is sponsored by the University of Minnesota.

The last time The Albrightian received an honor rating from the ACP was in 1950, when it also received a first-class designation. In the previous year, 1949, the newspaper received a second-class award.

Editor Judges

Robert T. Smith, city editor of the Minneapolis Tribune, served as judge of the classification of college newspapers that included The Albrightian. Nearly 500 college newspapers were entered in the nationwide competition.

The editorial board of the newspaper for the first semester consisted of: Sandra Geopfert, '58, editor; Philip Eyrych, '58, associate editor; Jack Linton, '58, business manager; Louis Rossi, '59, news editor; Betty Williams, '58, feature editor; Robert Fox, '57, photography editor; Anne Young, '59, copy editor; and Mary Bray, '59, typing editor.

The Albrightian scored highest in the categories of news stories, style, copyreading, sports coverage, nameplate, sports display, and printing.

Program Will Feature Many Folk Dances

Tomorrow afternoon on the greens between the Administration Building and Selwyn Hall the traditional coronation of Albright's May Queen, Barbara Ross, '57, will take place as part of Parents' Weekend. The crowning of the queen by Jeanne Palm, '57, custodian of the crown, will highlight a colorful program consisting of a procession, band music and various dances representing different nationalities.

Beginning at 2 p.m., the trumpets will be sounded and the procession will get underway. The Queen, her court, the dancers plus all other attendants will begin their march from the Library to the greens.

Crowning

A proclamation will then be made by Mary Jo Wolf, '57, mistress of ceremonies, followed by the crowning of Miss Ross. After the coronation, the dancing by the junior, sophomore and freshmen women will begin. The dances will consist of a French, Swiss and English dance which are centered around the theme of folk dancing.

Sophomore Dancers

The sophomore women will do an English folk dance. They are: Barbara Cox, Eileen Dennison, Doris Etzler, Sandra Frey, Marilyn Grill, Jean Hansen, Betty Henry, Rosario Orlando, Margaret Parker, Margaret Raab, Louise Reid, Barbarr Rittenhouse, Martha Richards, Elizabeth Smith, Maxine Thus, Anne Young and Mary Lois Young.

Freshmen women will also perform a dance. Theirs, however, will be centered around the Swiss folk dance. Freshmen women participating are: Dorothy Bookhammer, Sandra Bressler, Margaret Brooks, Anna Clemmer, Patricia Cush, Margaret Coleman, Grace Engleman, Nancy Foote, Janice Hochhaus, Rachel Hinman, Marian Hutchins, Henrietta Miller, Anne Purvis, Nancy Ratajezak, Margaret Schultz, (Continued On Page Four)

Y Doggie Roast Set For Tuesday Evening

A doggie roast, sponsored by the combined Y's, will be held at Egelman's Park next Tuesday. Besides group singing and the roasting of hot dogs, the program includes the installation of new officers: Frank Fisher, '58, YMCA president; Carolyn Stillwaggon, '59, YWCA president.

Eustace Renner, '59, and Mary Ellen Wray, '58, YM and YW vice-presidents respectively; Dorothy Spohn, '58, secretary; and Larry Heinrich, '58, treasurer, will also be installed. Cars will leave the parking lot at Selwyn Hall at 7:30 p.m. Fisher is in charge of the affair.

Albrightians Compete In Annual Kelchner Oratorical Contest

Credos of the Modern World was the topic for the annual Kelchner Oratorical Contest held Wednesday evening at 7:30 in White Chapel. Six student finalists competed.

Mrs. Anadora V. Shirk, assistant professor of English, Benjamin E. Brown, instructor in English, and Patricia A. Hostetter, instructor in English, chose the six contestants from a group of ten semi-finalists.

Council Elects New Officers

Election of Student Council officers and two official appointments dominated the business during the Student Council meeting on May 2. Those selected by Council members to form next year's Executive Committee, along with Council President Frank York, are as follows: Daniel Skeath, '59, vice-president; Larry Heinrich, '58, treasurer; Carol Stillwaggon, '59, recording secretary; and Suzanne Schick, '59, corresponding secretary.

Appointments Made

Two appointments were made by York and approved by Council during the meeting. James Still, '59, will head next year's Freshman Orientation Committee. Ronald Shannon, '50, was named Student Council Chaplain. Other committee chairmen will be named by York at the next Council meeting.

York also announced the formation of the Albright Sports Committee, and he distributed committee preference sheets to the Council members. The Albright Sports Committee will have the responsibility of encouraging attendance at Albright athletic events, arranging for chartered bus service for away games, and, in general, stimulating interest in sports on campus.

The committee preference sheets are to be used by York in determining who will be the various Council committees next year. York requested that these forms be completed and returned to him before the next Student Council meeting.

Prizes Given

Oratorical prizes are the gift of Charles S. Kelchner, who was a member of the Albright faculty and athletic coach.

Last year the first prize of fifteen dollars was awarded to Eustace Renner, '59. The second and third prizes of ten and five dollars were awarded to Jane Ann Dewald, '56, and Anne C. Young, '59, respectively.

Other students who competed in the preliminary contest included Robert Polgar, '60, Terrance Reedy, '60, Gerald Robbins, '60, Michael Teitelman, '60.

The winners of the contest will receive their awards at the annual awards day assembly.

Kappa, Pi Tau Affairs Planned For Tonight

The Kappa Upsilon Phi and Pi Tau Beta fraternities will hold their respective spring dinners-dances this evening.

The Reading Country Club will be the scene of the Kappa's annual affair. The Clavolets will provide the music for dancing from 9 to 12 p.m.

The Pi Tau's will hold their dinner-dance at the Wyomissing Club. Music will be furnished by Wes Fisher and his orchestra.

Campus Beauties

Degeneration

Topic for the week: degeneration, the degeneration of another of Albright's long-standing traditions, the annual Mantle Ceremony. Last week saw the elimination of one tradition, Mardi Gras, and, within a few days, the lapse into uselessness of the Mantle Ceremony. For those who are not aware of the historical background of this event, and the freshmen certainly learned nothing last week from observing their first Mantle Ceremony, the term originated from the supposedly-annual presentation of a historic maroon cloak (mantle) by the outgoing president of the senior class to the new senior class head, that is, this spring it would have been given to the president of the class of 1958 by the leader of the class of 1957. Main problems last week: (1) no outgoing senior class president, (2) no mantle, and (3) a failure to present the affair in the proper atmosphere.

Perhaps the one thing that led to the establishment of a humorous atmosphere for a supposedly-dignified event was the way in which the officers of the organizations, other than Student Council, were inducted. The charges of office, once set up to bring some measure of meaning into the assuming of office of the new campus leaders, were carried on in such a manner as to make a farce out of the entire ceremony. The blame for the degeneration of the event does not fall on any one person or even on a specific group of individuals. Now is not the time to look bad and attempt to tag someone with the responsibility for this situation, but it is time to decide whether the Mantle Ceremony should be retained as a feature of Albright tradition, and then brought back to a worthwhile presentation, or whether it should be allowed to fade away with Mardi Gras due to lack of student interest in its continuation. A decision is needed.

Tennis Courts

Reports from a number of boarding students have indicated that there is some concern because people other than those connected with the college are making it difficult for Albright students to utilize the six clay tennis courts located on campus in the evenings. Dinner is not served in the college dining hall until 6 p.m. and thus the boarding students are not able to start play until at least 6:45 p.m. each night. Specifically, it has been charged that although the boarding students, in particular, like to spend the daylight part of the evenings playing tennis, by the time they are able to begin play, other persons have already taken over the courts for their own use, and the students find it extremely difficult to obtain courts before the few remaining hours of daylight suitable for playing tennis are consumed.

The Albrightian wholeheartedly supports efforts to make available the college facilities to people other than those connected with the college, whenever this does not conflict with legitimate student activities. It is well known in Reading and Berks County that the Albright tennis courts are about the best to be found in this area that are open for public use, and for this reason, large numbers of net addicts have always turned out to use the campus facilities. However, these are college facilities presumably built for the prime purpose of having them available for the students, and, although no one is at fault for allowing the situation to have developed as it did, adequate measures should be taken to insure the availability of the courts for student or faculty use in the evenings.

Movie Review

By Sandra Gerhart

For the past three weeks, everyone's been talking about Lucky Lindy, the first man to make a solo flight across the Atlantic Ocean. The people of Hollywood have finally made a movie of this famous flight. For the unlucky few who haven't seen it yet I would like to enlighten them on the plot of the story.

The great drama begins as Charlie is trying to sleep in his hotel room. It's the eve of the flight and the time is around four in the morning. He tries hard to fall asleep but there are a few things on his mind. First of all, he stares out the window and sees that there is a slight precipitation in the air. He begins to wonder if he'll be able to get the "Spirit" off the ground. Meanwhile, there's the pessimist in the audience who is wondering why Charlie didn't test the plane while it was raining. But that's the way the cookie crumbles.

Reporters

Charlie is also wondering about the reporters in the next room. He knows what they have been writing about him and he probably is wondering if they are spelling his name right.

He finally gets out of bed and begins to dress. He tells himself that he won't need a toothbrush, because he can buy one in Paris. Now there, I think he was wrong, because a person who has halitosis will not make a very nice impression on the people in Paris.

Complications

Finally, after a few arguments with his best friend, he arrives at the plane hangar. Complications set in when they can't find a small mirror. They need a mirror so Charlie can read the compass which is hanging from the roof of the plane . . . understand? And here is where the girl enters the picture. Everyone gets excited because we're all hoping that romance will enter the picture. But the All-American boy just explains the mechanism of the plane to her and she leaves the hangar. By the way, she was the one who donated the mirror.

After saying farewell to all his bosom buddies, he starts down the runway. The audience is sitting on the edge of their seats and everyone gives a sigh of relief as he leaves the ground.

Go!

The race is on! Will he reach Paris or will he meet his death in the icywaters of the Atlantic Ocean? I'll let you in on a little secret—he makes it.

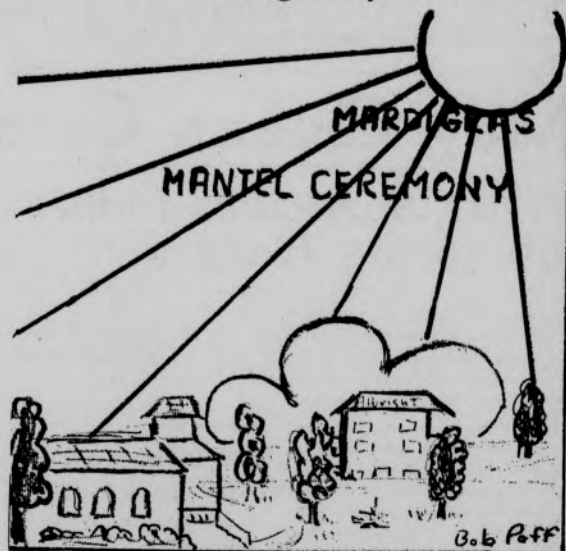

Before he reaches Europe, he has a few encounters with death. He realizes that he should have slept at the hotel, because he falls asleep several times. But there is always something there that wakes him. The part that I liked best was when a fly happened to land on Charlie's nose. To top it off, the fly seemed to understand everything that Charlie said.

Paris Gained

He finally makes it to gay Paris, and just like a tourist he can't find the airport. He sees some spotlights and makes the brilliant deduction that this must be the place. He lands and the happy Frenchmen start to rip him apart. He worries about his plane, is grabbed by the police, and finally ends up in the hangar.

Of course, there's the traditional happy ending. Lindy returns to New York and is received by the usual reception committee. He rides down Fifth Avenue under a blanket of ticker-tape and confetti. Sounds swell, doesn't it? Oh well, anyone can be famous. It takes real guts to be ordinary like me.

Fading Away

Albright Personality

Midge Tims

By Billie Williams

Midge came to Albright from Woodrow Wilson High School in Camden, N. J. where she was an honor student. She entered eagerly into campus activities as a freshman. She was a junior varsity cheerleader and went out for basketball. She joined Skull and Bones and the German Club.

Pledge

As a pledge of the Pi Alpha Tau sorority, Midge probably never dreamed that she would become vice-president of that organization in her senior year.

Her sophomore days were kept busy by her serving on the Women's Student Association and the dorm council of Selwyn Hall. This year she held the position of president of WSA, having been vice-president last year.

She was pledged to Delta Phi Alpha, national honorary German fraternity, last year. At that time she also occupied a chair in the student council.

Lab Tech

Laboratory technology is Midge's course and field of interest. During the summer months, she has spent many hours working in hospitals as a lab technician. After graduation she hopes to enter industry as a bio-chemist. Once she embarks on a career there will be little time for her to indulge in her hobby of knitting.

Not far off in the future Midge will be given a mate to the brilliant diamond she sports on her left hand.

Bermuda Ruling

By Betty Co-Ed

Being one of the most liberal of the EUB colleges, Albright has made many concessions to the students in the interest of progress. Men are allowed to smoke on campus and women are allowed to smoke in the Sub. Dancing is not outlawed. Last year the administration took another step forward by allowing the women to wear bermudas on campus. Rationally, that would be that. However, many strategic "buts" have been inserted in the ruling.

Little Sense

"—but bermudas may not be worn at night without a long coat." This makes little sense. If the rule-makers are worried that the co-eds might catch a cold in their legs, we appreciate the consideration. We're big girls now and we realize that trudging through snow drifts is not comfortable in bare calves. If the reason for this ruling concerns appearance there is even less rationality involved. Which is more attractive, a girl in a tailored pair of bermudas or one in a long raincoat on a balmy spring evening? If the plot behind the long-coat clause is safety, naïve is the administrator who thinks a coat can stop anything. Part of the safety first approach may be behind the "—but bermudas may not be worn in the parlors" stipulation.

Aside from the above modifications of the ruling, there is now a new amendment released only this spring. This states that the bermudas worn by the co-eds have been too snug. Little does the legislative body of Albright realize that the meals are so delicious here that a girl can't help but gain weight. It is impossible to adjust an entire wardrobe to a changing figure.

Test

However, a clever test has been devised by several co-eds to test the suitability of the size of a pair of Bermudas. It is up to each dormitory counselor to carry this out. The wearer must be able to zip the zipper without a surplus of agony. Another person may assist the wearer in this endeavor. Step two: the wearer must be able to flex her thigh muscles within the confines of the fabric without splitting any seams. This helps avoid mishaps while climbing steep stairs. Step three: the wearer must be able to sit down like a lady without pulling here or tugging there. If a co-ed passes the three simple steps of this test, she will have physically-fit bermudas.

Purpose

The purpose of this article is to state that the stipulations made on the bermuda ruling are not understood. We appreciate the liberality shown by the administration, but not the inhibitions.

Lions Even Record In Winning Three Straight

IN THE LION'S DEN

By Lee Swartz, Sports Editor

The Bullet pitcher lets one fly
The spheroid bashes straight and fast.
A crack, and sailing through the sky
Goes Bobby Shoup's game winning blast.

After four straight victories, Albright, 6-6, has finally hit the .500 mark. The hitters had a field day against Lebanon Valley clobbering the Dutchmen 23-6, but the latest two victories have come as the result of tight pitching. Against Gettysburg, Tom Pollock pitched one of the finest games of his career, a four hit, 1-0 shutout. Bob Shoup's homer was clutch hitting at its best. Shoup now leads the team in circuit clouts with three. At Elizabethtown, Verne Engle pitched his first victory and complete game of the season, thirteen innings for a 4-3 triumph.

Terry Reber is the Lions' leading batter in average and runs batted in. The fleet center fielder has driven home 16 teammates and is hitting at a .360 clip. Bob Shoup leads in extra base hits with seven and trails Reber with 13 RBI's.

The Lions have come a long way since they lost five straight earlier in the year and still have a long way to go to compile the record they are capable of. With five home games remaining, things are looking brighter.

Elsewhere . . .

Elsewhere on the spring sports scene, the Lions' squads are performing remarkably well. The track squad swamped a strong Dickinson outfit but bowed to tough Bucknell in a triangular meet at Ursinus. They will participate in the Middle Atlantic Championships tomorrow and Saturday. Of course LaSalle, defending champion, and St. Joseph's will be favored, but many of the smaller schools will do well. Albrights best chances seem to lie in the high jump, 100 yard dash, and shot put. On comparative records the Lions' top performances in these events equal or come close to equalling last year's winning efforts at the championships.

The two so-called minor Spring sports are compiling major quality records this season. The tennis team is on its way to its second straight winning season. With a 7-2 record the netmen are out to better their 10-5 slate of last year. Jack Rosen, Nelson Haller, Ernie Firestone, Jack Rinehart, and Charlie Sample have won consistently all year.

Good Record . . .

The golf team is currently having one of its best seasons in years. Its 5-3 record is second best behind tennis on the Spring sports program. The team consists of Bill Brennenman, Willie Smith, Ernie Brodbeck, Dom Mazza, Bill Protheroe, and Jerry Burns, and has defeated such powerful adversaries as West Chester, Muhlenberg, and Juniata.

Congratulations to the Kappa Fraternity for their first half Intramural League victory. It was a tough league with plenty of competition. This half promises to be a tight race right down to the wire. We urge you to step out to the Science Hall and baseball field and see competition as keen as in any varsity sport.

Golf Team Victors Record Win At 5-3

The golf team has had a very successful week. The linksmen defeated Muhlenberg on April 29 at the Reading Country Club. Bill Brennenman, Willie Smith, Ernie Brodbeck and Bill Protheroe led the Albright attack. The score was 15-5.

Traveling to Juniata, the golfers emerged the victors again. Willie Smith, Dom Mazza and Protheroe led the Albrightians. On May 6, Albright turned back St. Joseph's 10-8. Willie Smith had a 75 to lead the Red and White. Mazza, Brennenman and Jerry Burns were instrumental in the victory.

The Albrightians participate in the Middle Atlantic Championships on Saturday at Juniata. They also play Scranton at Scranton on Monday.

Tennis Squad Records Three

The Albright College tennis team has a fine record of seven wins and two losses. The Lions defeated Muhlenberg College, 8-1 at Allentown. Jack Rosen, Nelson Haller, Charlie Sample, Jack Rinehart, Ernie Firestone, and Norm Bennett were victorious in their matches.

Last Saturday, the Renkenmen defeated Moravian for the second time this year in a return match at Bethlehem. Captain Rosen, Rinehart and Firestone starred for the Red and White.

Away Match

On Monday the Lions traveled to Elizabethtown and beat the Lions 8-1. Again Rosen, Haller, Firestone, Rinehart, and Sample emerged victorious. All three of Albright's doubles teams won, Sample and Haller, Rosen and Rinehart, and Gamriel and Sarig.

The tennis team participates in the Middle Atlantic States Championships today and tomorrow at Swarthmore College. Albright plays LaSalle at home on Tuesday, and Gettysburg on Thursday at home.

Shoups Homer Spells Defeat For Gettysburg

The rampaging Lions evened the record at 6-6 with three consecutive wins over Lebanon Valley, Gettysburg, and Elizabethtown. Upcoming games for the next week include a home game with LaSalle on Tuesday, with Moravian and Muhlenberg playing host to the Lions on Wednesday and Saturday.

Terry Reber led the assault on five Lebanon Valley hurlers with four for five, including a homer. The Lions broke up a 6-6 ball game with 11 runs in the 6th which featured winning pitcher Fred Dietzel's second homer of the game, and another homer by Bob Shoup. Dale Yoder also chipped in with a homer as the Lions paraded 15 men to the plate in the sixth inning. Final score was 23-6 Albright.

Tom Pollock and Lou Schleicher, Gettysburg righthander, dueled each other for nine innings as Shoup hit a lead off homer in the bottom of the ninth for a 1-0 Albright win. Each pitcher allowed only four hits, while Pollock struck out five and walked four. The Bulls best chance to score came in the fourth when they loaded the bases with one out. However Pollock forced one batter to pop to Bob Kovack and struck out the other. The Lions loaded the sacks in the seventh but couldn't score.

Goes Distance

It took 13 innings until the Lions could record a 4-3 win over Elizabethtown as Verne Engle went the route for the first time this year, scattering eight hits, striking out six and walking five. Yoder's single in the seventh tied the game up at 3-3 as he scored both John Mishko and Dietzel. The Lions loaded the sacks with no one out in the thirteenth, and Jimmy Doremus knocked in the winning run with a sacrifice fly to center. Dietzel started two double plays and made a fine stab at a liner down the third base line in the thirteenth to insure the victory.

Thinclads Split In Two Meets

In their last two outings, Coach Eugene Shirk's cindermen won one meet and placed second in a triangular meet. In a home dual track meet with Dickinson, the Lions notched their fourth win with a 761-491 triumph. The Shirkmen captured nine firsts and placed second in other events. Co-Captain Ken Greenwald showed the way with a double victory in the 100 yard and 220-yard dashes. Freshman Charlie Smith won the broad jump, gained a tie for first in the high jump, and placed third in both hurdle events. It was the first loss for the Red Devils.

Finish Second

In a triangular meet at Collegeville, the Lions placed ahead of the home Ursinus squad. The Bisons chalked up 20 points in the high and broad jumps to seal the victory. Bob Wetzel won the 120-yard high hurdles, Don Gottshall, the quarter mile, and John Setticeze, the shot put, for the Lions. Setticeze's heave of 46 feet, 5 1/2 inches wiped out the old record of 45 feet, 6 1/2 inches for the shot. The Shirkmen are competing in the Middle Atlantic State Track and Field today and tomorrow at Franklin and Marshall College.

INTRAMURALS

Kappas Cop First Half Title

The Kappa Upsilon Phi Fraternity has won the first half of the intramural softball league. In compiling a 4-1 record the Kappa's displayed a spirited outfit of veterans. Their only loss came at the hands of the Dorm team which tied for second with APO and poses as a strong second half contender.

Second Half

With the second half under way, there is a good chance that a play-off will be needed to determine the overall league winner. Already the Kappa's have bowed to the Pi Taus and the Dorm team. The Pi Tau loss was a tough one with Bob Moller's homer meaning the difference, 3-2, as Myron Hallock hurled a no-bitter for the victors. In other second half activity, Dorm plastered the Zetas and APO whipped the Daymen.

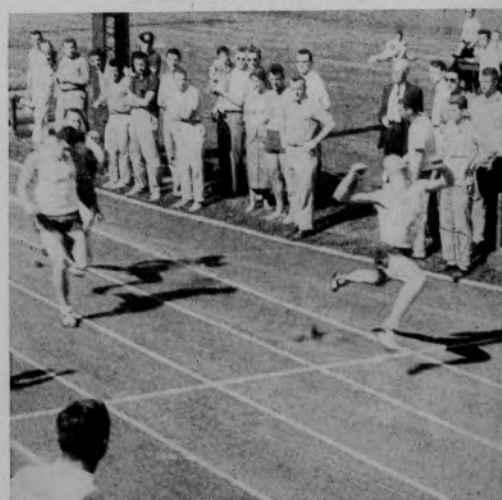

First-Half Standings

Kappa	4-1
APO	2-2
Dorms	2-2
Pi Tau	2-3
Zeta	2-3
Daymen	1-3

College Students Give Opinions About Albright's Traditions

In a recent all-campus survey conducted among the student body on the question, "Which tradition at Albright do you feel is the most important, and why?" the following comments were revealed as gathered by Robert Poff, '60.

Doris Schock, '60: "Homecoming to me seems to be the most emphasized because it is planned for the alumni's return to campus."

Rosario Orlando, '59: "Exams and the complicated manner in which they are presented."

Sarah-Anne Bell, '59: "I had heard so much about 'Hell Week' at Albright. After just experiencing it, I can truthfully say it does become a center of attraction."

Anonymous Young Lady, '60: "You mean there are some?"

Suzanne Schick, '59: "Seeing the frosh wander around the campus during orientation week is a definite Albright tradition."

Henry Saunders, '60: "Pledging to me seems to be the most traditional thing here at Albright, with the emphasis on 'Hell Week.' I feel the students enjoy watching the pledges as much as the pledges enjoy pledging."

Jack Pritchard, '58:—"May Day..."

Barbara A. Pelkus, '58: "Graduation—three guesses."

James E. Schuman, '60: "The lights ALL over campus."

Unanimous: "Dean Morton's teas—because men are invited."

Dave Pettit, '58: "The inter-fraternity athletic program here at Albright seems to be growing in tradition, spirit, and sportsmanship. I hope it continues to grow—WITH SPIKES!!!"

Sandy Stewart, '60: "I think exams are the biggest, if not the most important tradition on campus. They represent what the student has accomplished in college."

Teel Vespers

Robert Perless, '59, will be the speaker at this Sunday's vesper service in Teel Hall chapel beginning at 7 p.m.

Still Appointed Head Of Frosh Program

James Still, '59, was named chairman of the freshmen orientation and customs committee at a special meeting of Student Council on May 2. The appointment was announced by Frank York, '58, president of Council, and approved by the representatives. It was the first meeting of the new Student Council for 1957-58.

A veteran of the armed forces, Still is a native of Reading, and has returned to campus after serving in the military. He is a member of the Kappa Upsilon Phi social fraternity and The Albrightian staff.

Last Year

Philip Eyrych, '58, served as orientation and customs chairman in 1956.

Orientation is scheduled to begin on September 12 and end on September 16. Highlights of the program are an extensive testing program, daily assemblies, explanations of activities, academic registration, and numerous religious and social affairs.

Freshmen customs will begin on September 17 and continue for approximately four weeks.

Menges Named Prexy Of Skull And Bones

The newly elected officers of Skull and Bones for the year 1957-58 are Job Menges, '58, president; Robert Hussey, '58, vice-president; Elizabeth Allan, '58, secretary; and Philip Zullo, '58, treasurer.

Menges is a pre-medical student. His activities include Alpha Pi Omega social fraternity and our Daymen's Association.

Vice-president Hussey pledged Pi Tau Beta this spring and is also a pre-medical student and member of the Daymen's Association.

Miss Allan, a junior dormitory student, is corresponding secretary of Pi Alpha Tau Sorority for 1957-58. She is a laboratory technician major.

Zullo is a pre-medical student and served as corresponding secretary of Pi Tau Beta and also as a member of the Daymen's Association.

Greek Groups Elect Officers

New officers for the 1957-58 school year were elected by the Kappa Upsilon Phi fraternity and the Pi Alpha Tau sorority during recent campus elections. Incoming president of the Kappas will be William West, '58. Virginia Hatten, '58, is the newly-elected president of the PAT's.

Other Kappa officers include: Lee Garrigan, '58, vice-president; James Rouse, '59, secretary; George Mack, '59, treasurer; and Robert Wool, '59, corresponding secretary.

House Manager

Frank Adshead, '58, was named house manager; Steven Nicolo, '59, chaplain; and Richard Chaffey, '59, parliamentary. George Teittjen, '58, and James Still, '59, will serve as Student Council representatives while George Mack, '59, and William Protheros, '60, were named as representatives to the Inter-Fraternity Council.

Serving with Miss Hatten are: Elizabeth Domenick, '58, vice president; Barbara Kerschner, '58, recording secretary; Elizabeth Allan, '58, corresponding secretary; Jeanne Dufford, '58, treasurer; Bonnie Orr, '58, historian, and Carolyn Stillwaggon, '59, chaplain. Suzanne Schick, '59, and Miss Stillwaggon, '59, were named Student Council Representatives.

IRC Holds Induction Of New Officers

Philip Eyrych, '58, was installed as president of the International Relations Club at a meeting of that group on May 1 in the home of William R. Bishop, assistant professor of history. At the same time, the following other officers were also installed: Ivan Mendelsohn, '58, vice-president; Sandra Miller, '60, secretary; John Tibbetts, '59, treasurer; and Jack Linton, '58, delegate-at-large to the executive committee.

Charges Given

The charges of office were conferred on the new club leaders by Clement Cassidy, '57, past president of the organization. Charles A. Raith, assistant professor of political science, also attended the meeting.

Eyrych and Mendelsohn attended a meeting of the executive board of the Pennsylvania Association of International Relations Clubs last Sunday in the Harrisburg YMCA.

MAY QUEEN

Carolyn Thomforde, Dorothy Siegel, and Marianna Wonder.

Following the dances there will be a transfer of the roll from the senior to the junior women. This actually represents a transfer of responsibility. The fanfare will then be sounded and the recessional number will be played by the band.

Miss Ross will have a court of six senior women, which were selected during a campus election. They are Carolyn Smith, Eleanor Snyder, Marie Lorchak, Sylvia Schiavo, Mildred Tims and Cynthia Winner. Others in the program are as follows: pages, Doris Shock, '60, and Nancy Heilman, '60; Crown bearer, Jeffrey Pierce; Maid of Honor, Dorothy Englert, '57; train-bearers, Sally Bishop and Linda Raith; announcer, Sally Detra, '59; choreographer, Sheila Greene, '58; May Day is under the sponsorship of the Women's Athletic Association with the assistance of Mrs. Eva M. Mosser, instructor and director of physical education for women.

Music Program

Festivities of the day will be concluded with a concert to be held at 8 p.m. in Krause Hall. Under the direction of Mr. Lester Yeager, assistant professor of music, the Glee Club and band will sing and play a number of selections. The octet, consisting of Sonia Flicker, '57, Josephine Seyfert, '58, Kathleen Forry, '57, Barbara Boyer, '60, Daniel Skeath, '59, Donald Matthews, '59, William Garrett, '59, and Richard Reidler, '60, will also entertain with a few songs.

Mervine Elected Head Of Dramatics Group

Domino Club officers were elected for next year at the May 2 meeting of that group and seven members were also initiated into Alpha Psi Omega, dramatics fraternity. Those newly-elected officers are president, Vaughn Mervine, '59; vice-president, Harold Baughman, '58; secretary, Mary Ellen Wray, '58; and treasurer, Richard Matthews, '60.

The initiates of the fraternity are Lois Anderson, '57; Mervine; Robert Peckham, '59; Elizabeth Reynolda, '57; Frances Stauffer, '57; Marjorie Tipper, '57 and Miss Wray. Advisor of the group is Patricia A. Hostetter, instructor of English.

Fashion Show Planned Today

The freshman Home Economic's sewing class is presenting a fashion show at the Lancaster WGAL-TV studios today at 1:15 p.m.

The theme of the show is "A College Girl's Wardrobe" and will be divided into clothes for lounging, for classwear, street wear, and formal evening attire. The first two divisions will be shown in an informal living room background. The street and evening clothes will be shown in a terrace setting. Rachel Hinman, '60, is writing the script for the show and will act as narrator.

Frosh Models

Those girls modeling clothes will be Judith Barclay, Dorothy Bookhammer, Margaret Brookes, Joy Detweiler, Grace Engleman, Susanne Gatter, Martha Lee Koons, Doris Schock, Marianna Wonder and Jane Yeager, all of the class of '60. The girls will be modeling outfits they made in sewing class this year and will include everything from pajamas to evening wear.

Mrs. Anna H. Smith, associate professor of home economics, and Ernestine Elder, assistant professor of art, will accompany the group.

HEO Farewell Set For Monday Night

The Home Economics Organization will have a farewell buffet supper for the senior members on Monday at 6 p.m. in the Home Economics laboratory.

During the meeting the representatives to the Pennsylvania Home Economics Association Convention, held in Harrisburg last Saturday and Sunday, will give reports; also, junior girls will report on the juniors' recent New York trip. At this time each senior will give a brief informal talk on her teaching or field experiences. A highlight of the meeting will be a puppet show, sponsored by the Philadelphia Dairy Council.

On Wednesday, HEO will hold a strawberry festival in the Administration Building from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.
