TO THOSE . . .

The boys who sat next to us through math lectures . . . in bio lab . . . the boys who added their thoughts and ideas to frat bull-sessions . . . the boys who carried the ball for the "Red and White" down the length of our football field to make the final touchdown . . . the boys with their dinks who passed through frosh customs . . . the paddling . . . the "lake parties" and tribunal . . . the boys across the aisle who prayed in chapel with us . . . sang Christmas carols . . . thanked God for all the opportunities of life . . . the boys who jauntily flung wide their brain power to grasp some of the education offered within the gates of Albright . . .

OUR CLASSMATES . . . OUR PALS . . .

To those . . . the men who willingly departed for far flung soil as Uncle Sam's envoys for saving our freedom back home . . . the men who tramped through rain, mud, flurries of snow and sleet out under the roar of the big guns . . . the men whose sweat and blood made it possible for tomorrow's leaders to build where others left off . . . the men whose letters came home postmarked with foreign seals . . . the men who found companionship in being just a part of winning our greatest struggle . . . the men who made the supreme sacrifice . . .

Foreword . . .

We, who had grasped our pencils and books to fit ourselves for future service while our buddies had laid theirs down to free enslaved victims of tyranny, now stand on the threshold, keyed to readiness, moulded for leadership, waiting to cross over to the new life . . . that of serving mankind!

Our efforts will be turned to the building of a new spirit in this world of ours . . . a spirit evident even now among Albrightians. This spirit of working together for the common end of giving instead of taking; of understanding instead of misinterpreting; of believing what was impossible in the past can be possible in the future instead of shouting "It happened before; it will happen again!" The spirit of trusting instead of suspecting, of forever marching forward, looking ahead, and finally attaining a home for mankind where all can live in a peaceful serenity knowing that one's neighbor can also be one's friend!

And thus, it is our hope that through this book of memories, hopes, and desires accumulated while spending four war-torn years at Albright, we can step forth prepared to meet the challenge of life while carrying within our hearts the spirit of Albright . . .
OUR CUE TO TOMORROW'S WORLD.

And So,

We know that it was that first look at Albright that gave us the warm feeling inside—one of wanting to be a part of so fine a campus—a part of the youth who would do or die while trodding their chosen path.

Remember . . . our first day . . . the warmth of the sun as it beat down on our backs . . . the multi-colored leaves . . . the cool green grass blanketing the rich earth upon which young bodies were perched . . . the benches crowded with more lads and lassies . . . the grins of the upper-classmen as they gazed at the new frosh . . . the flag waving in the breeze . . . the cheery "hello" of new acquaintances . . . the chapel clock behind schedule . . . the clean white glow of the library and the science building steps . . . the purr of Jim Spatz's lawn mower . . .

As We Think Back,

the ripples on Selwyn "puddle's" surface . . . the up-flung dorm windows . . . the shouts of old friends . . .

Remember . . . the fall turning into winter . . . the snow flurries piled high . . . the moon sliding behind a cloud in the still whiteness . . . the clothes flung on the ad building's fire escape after any night's snow battle
. . . the crackle of logs in the dining hall fireplace . . .
the twinkle of the stars above the bare trees while mellow organ music drifted from the chapel . . . the snow balls on ice in the chem lab refrigerator . . . the glow of the candles at almost any banquet . . .

Remember . . . the arrival of spring with the trickle of water down the gutters . . . the birds, the bees, and the flowers . . . the new feeling of fresh life . . . the squirrels cracking nuts . . . the rain bringing with it high boots, kerchiefs, and umbrellas as well as all sizes, shapes and styles of hats . . .

Remember . . .

us . . . we were the young and bewildered frosh of years gone by . . .
we started off those gay and hectic four years at Albright on borrowed time . . . we studied . . . had fun . . . learned to live fuller lives . . . prepared for the future so that we could be geared for the leadership of tomorrow's world!

Our Hopes . . . Our

All these, and then some, became a reality as we, of the class of '46, entered Albright, one hundred and thirty-two in number, to spend four years together . . . but it was not too long before our boys departed . . . one by one we bid them farewell . . . eventually the manpower shortage became acute . . . men were things of the past . . .

Days, months, years passed . . . until we now look back with but few regrets . . . with fond memories of the happiness we found in campus life despite its abnormal condition . . . with inspired feelings that were ours after victory abroad was heard the world 'round . . . with a justifiable desire to remain a little longer among those who have shared our grief, conflict, elation and exalted joys . . . with an unconscious greeting stored within our hearts for those returning vets—former classmates—who will revive an exhausted spirit . . .

But, now . . . one-third as numerous . . . with a better knowledge of what will lie ahead in the future that we shall help to create . . . we stand poised and confident that tomorrow will be worthy of the efforts put forth in the past . . . looking back to those days . . .

Remember . . . us, the slightly confused frosh with that "know-it-all" attitude that most high school seniors carry with them for a few months after graduation . . . our first meeting with the upperclassmen . . . how our superior feeling was "knocked-down" to the lowly frosh level . . .

Desires... Our Memories...

Remember . . . the thrill of frosh customs . . . the white cotton stockings and red anklets whose colors ran into each other on a rainy day . . . the pigtailed . . . the onion garlands . . . the pillow fights . . . the "Button, Frosh!" . . . the doggie roast where we were paired off with new found friends of the opposite sex . . . the long, hard struggle to reach Egelman's and those hot "weinies" . . .

Remember . . . the pajama party and bull-session . . . how kind, considerate and friendly the family of Albrightians seemed to be from even that first acquaintance . . . the formal reception when we met the profs and administrative assistants . . . long dresses . . . dark suits . . . the fresh coolness of the handclasp of a new friend . . .

Remember . . . the football games under the stadium lights and most Saturday afternoons when our boys carried the ball, while we cheered them on as one united group . . . the Ivy Ball which marked our acceptance into the student body as equals—ready to strive for the common end of preparing ourselves for tomorrow . . . the lump in our throats as we passed our dinks up the chapel aisle for the last time when our first class president pointed out the potential qualities we could add to Albright . . . integrated and solidified for giving our best . . .

But, of course, we remember . . . and it is with all of the fighting spirit that our lion portrays that we step forth . . . hoping that we can and will succeed . . . knowing that others will soon follow our footsteps!

To Follow the Beacon

To emerge from a sea of potentialities into the individuals of tomorrow . . . to learn to live collectively; not individually . . . to interpret any book's knowledge into practical service . . . to struggle for a philosophy of life that would survive . . . these were just a few of our desires hidden within our deepest thoughts as we knocked upon Albright's gates to gain admittance in the fall of '43.

Now as the complacent juniors we continue to uncover truth through an unending search beyond the "jacket" of any book to the inner wealth of material . . . to reflect the views of others and ourselves in the work which we willingly perform . . . to live in the future year that is to be our last and, perhaps, our best at Albright . . . to await the return of the pigskin and all the stamina that goes with it, as we never had the opportunity of finding out what Albright's football really means . . . to strive harder . . . to better our character and that of others coming up to our role in college, by avoiding all temptations whether it be in the classroom or the dormitory, or just our everyday life . . .

We've seen only abnormal campus life . . . never the same as that which the older students seemed to have enjoyed so much . . . never the same as seeing brown and gray tweed in place of khaki . . . or frat formals instead of dining hall dances where orchestra, decorations, and partners were lacking . . . or banquets, bonfires, and the whirl of batons . . . but, we had a different kind of capacity for living a full campus life . . .

We the class of '47 learned to endure the hardships at home . . . learned that in order to receive one has to work for even the minute gifts in life . . . learned that wherever there is a will to do; there is a way to do it . . . learned that our share in the future would only be secure by our share in today's struggle . . .

And thus, we continue to climb up to the role of a senior knowing that our methods of living, working, and playing will influence the younger classes . . . knowing that what yesterday could not give us, tomorrow will . . . knowing that with faith tugging at our minds, we will close the last chapter of our college career with the final touch of an author closing his novel—the touch that created a spirit for future use not eventual rejection.

CONFIDENT SOPHOMORES

“We are the class of '48
You've heard so much about———”

Familiar words to the rollicking tune of the Class of '48's theme song. Despite their carefree ways, they take the business of being a sophomore seriously.

Going back to the memorable days when this year's sophomore class assumed the lowly title of “Freshmen,” ardent committee members dotted the social calendar with such social highlights as an Ivy Ball program, picnics, and swimming parties. According to tradition, they lent a helping hand to the Freshmen in planning the Frosh-Soph prom.

“X” marked the spot before Owen Henry's name on the presidential ballot. “Brook” took over when Owen donned his bell-bottomed trousers last year. By the sweat of Brook's brow, a paper containing news of class members was edited during the summer season.

Came the '45-'46 year, and “Christy” in collaboration with her ingenious committee members, engineered a doggie roast at Egelman's and get-togethers after basketball games. Such activities as planning a chapel program, sending cards to servicemen, and contributing to drives were a part of the Sophomore program.

An organized body, the Sophomore Class is headed onward and upward to fill the role of next year's Juniors.

ANTICIPATING FROSH

“Off your knees, you lowly neophytes.” Thus, spake the magnanimous upperclassmen, and with these words, the long-suffering frosh emerged from their six-week metamorphosis to become a full-fledged class of Albright.

The culmination of frosh orientation was celebrated amid the ivy leaves at the traditional Ivy Ball. The on-looking upperclassmen commended the talent displayed by the frosh in Walt Hayum’s amusing skit, “Club 49.”

Now old enough to vote (for class officers, that is) the eager frosh hurried to the polls to make Frankie Hodgkins their able leader. But Frankie’s plans took on a military tone when Uncle Sam tapped him on the shoulder at mid-semester.

Spurred on by Jean Long’s enthusiasm, the social committee began a fast and furious campaign of social activities. A theatre party started the ball rolling. The acid test of social leadership was passed when the frosh sponsored their first student council dance. Albright’s newest class held its end up at the Frosh-Soph dance—one of the social highlights of the season.

A unified body, the Freshman Class shows promise of a profitable career for itself and for its Alma Mater.

The Vets who returned in February, 1946 . . .

They Have Returned . . .

Returned to civilian life after days, months, and years as seagoing bell-hops, doggies, swabjockies, etc. . . . returned to civilian education as men ready to advance themselves intellectually through honest toil . . . returned to the masses of young men and women who, like them, never stopped having new ideas . . . returned to remove the roots of evil by influencing others with the Christian doctrine . . .

Returned to carry out their ideas by using American ingenuity for the improvement of the horizon ahead for tomorrow . . . returned to work as "modern pioneers" on the frontiers of science in both laboratory and workshop to discover technological advancements for our world . . . returned to acquire the fundamentals needed to teach the next generation the noble way to live . . .

Returned to smash the greediness and hatred that has been prevalent on foreign soil as well as in our own backyard . . . returned with a humanitarian code to lift others from the depths of starvation, disease, and failure . . . returned to use their opportunity for a better value than just to "put in time" . . . returned to acquire the culture that so many of society's children lack . . . returned to add their zip and pep to campus life . . .

It is to them . . . to these veterans . . . that we, of the classes soon to depart, bequeath the task of creating a greater Albright; while we start nicking the walls of world injustices, awaiting their arrival to aid in patterning Albright's spirit 'round the globe.

EDITOR'S NOTE:---

On the following pages as many of the familiar faces, seen in the fall of '42 and '43 as part of the classes of 1946 and 1947, as were possible to obtain are compiled. This has been done for the benefit of those who have fond memories of days gone by when these men were a part of campus life; and for those who will greet them as returning students sometime in the future.

Due to changing circumstances, you will note that some have returned February 6, 1946; others are listed in the SERVICE HONOR ROLL in spite of the fact that they have temporarily lost contact with Albright while in the service.

With the Hope . . .

that all of our former classmates will return shortly to continue studying for the professional world . . .

With the hope that they, too, will know that education acquired here at home is only a part of the education needed for international understanding . . .

With the hope that they will convert their strength in strife for a strength in peace . . .

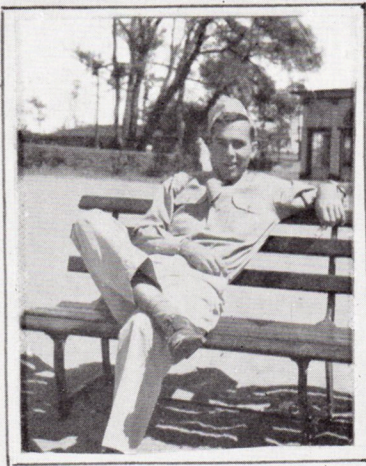

With the hope that they will educate others through thought, word, and deed never taking for granted their educational facilities as mere political puppets . . .

With the hope that they will become rehabilitated fast enough to begin forming the kind of brotherly love that nations need to insure co-operation on a world-wide scale . . .

With the hope that they, too, will return as men mature enough to restore the hopes and ideals to those who gaze only at the shattered ruins of that which could have been theirs . . .

With these hopes and all others that will cement the roots of new ideas with the foundation and bricks of decisive action, the Albright of today looks ahead to the Albright of tomorrow—sealed and bound by the bonds of affection, kindness, and whole-hearted goodwill . . . kindled by a flame to blacken out discrimination, prejudice and bigotry.

Seeds for future debates were sown in each meeting of this supreme student executive campus organization that Kenny called to order. Policy and procedure were discussed and followed. Heated issues often kindled on the fire, but no fist fights or general brawls were indulged in since this organization, voicing the opinions of students through free speech, was DEMOCRACY at work.

Always aiming to please, this governing body for the students and by the students, with the administration's suggestions aiding them to reach their goals, operated to do its utmost in supplying the demands of student desires. Along this line, Student Council's accomplishments include organization, sponsorship, and supervision of many varied and interesting activities and programs on campus as the Ivy Ball, May Day, Friday Night Dances, Parents' Day, Little Cultural Series, Frosh Customs, Orientation, and Stunt Night.

With representatives from all the varied recognized organizations and classes, Student Council has in the past, is at present, and will continue in the future to survive as Albright's governing body.

Pass on the gavel! A new organization, the Women's Senate, has been originated to help make things tick for both dorm and day-women. The Senate, meeting monthly, satisfies Albright women with its activities and constructive programs.

Leading Albright co-eds along the path to make the years spent together a most enjoyable and memorable experience, the Women's Student Senate assumed the responsibility of setting certain standards best for the individual attending a college. The purpose of the Senate is to control the management in all matters concerning activities of women student in college life that are not academic in nature.

Through the efforts of this group, the handbook "The ABC's of All Bright Co-eds" rolled off the presses. Highlighted in the years schedule was the engineering of a career conference of noted American career women for the campus co-eds. The Mardi Gras held in the stadium in spring will be another outstanding accomplishment of the organization. From the proceeds of this all campus affair the women's day student rooms will be re-furnished.

To establish and maintain high standards of scholarship, social life, and community co-operation among resident women is the main purpose of the Women's Dormitory Council.

By democratic procedure of individual responsibility and a representative system for regulating dorm life, this council has the prime function of meeting and greeting all problems of the dormitory females. With representatives from each class and every dorm, the group administers the written constitution.

However, it not only sends out reprimands and notices of campuses, but also, organizes varied social affairs including Friday afternoon teas, open house, a gala Christmas party for dorm women, and the traditional Sadie Hawkin's Dance, where all campus females arrange for their male dates even to vegetable corsages. Thus, this organization typifies the democratic procedure of living in a "home" away from home.

"Mr. Anthony, I have a problem!" That is where the sophomore counselors step into action. Having the problems of the green frosh still fresh in their own minds, these five girls meet with the resident freshmen women weekly to discuss matters pertaining to the new difficulties that arise in their new living quarters, where they live away from home with campus "sisters."

The counselors are not mature advisors, and do not tell the frosh what to do . . . they do, however, suggest solutions. Their duty each Wednesday night is to discuss confused thoughts and arising handicaps that weigh on the minds of most lassies, who are free of their mother's apron strings and on their own while orienting themselves to campus life. Through this method the girls have a better understanding of the ways to avoid a repetition of similar situations.

The organization that boasts most of the manpower at Albright is the Fraternal Order of Daymen. These commuters reside and have headquarters in the basement of Selwyn Hall, which is a "heaven" for most lads from Reading and Berks County.

At lunch time, when the group generally convenes, one can entertain himself by venturing into the club room and listening to bull sessions, or by stopping off just long enough to hear the latest hit tune on the "static-free" radio.

Among the many progressive undertakings of this organization this year were the renovation of its quarters under the supervision of Ira Custman, Vladimir Kolton, Russell Luck, and Heber Yeagley. Adding Venetian blinds and GE fluorescent lamps was only a part of this task.

At Christmas, the men contributed a complete dinner to an underprivileged family; and later in February, they sponsored a Valentine's Dance in the dining hall. The all-male group is now gaining a firm footing on campus after many years battling to obtain that goal.

President .....	ANNA WARTLUFT
Vice President .....	MARTHA FRIEDERICKS
Secretary-Treasurer .....	MARGARET BALL
Faculty Advisor .....	PROF. ANNA H. SMITH

All female commuters of Albright form the Daywomen's Organization, which has its headquarters deep in the heart of Selwyn Hall Annex. Here many a lass sits, sandwich in one hand and text book in the other, trying to divide her time equally between the two.

The Daywomen's Organization has in its calendar of events several social affairs including a Christmas party and the juggling of teacups on Friday afternoons in co-operation with the Dormsters. The Daywomen's Council, composed of the organization's officers and a representative from each class, handles all matters not requiring a mass meeting.

Looking in on a typical scene in the day-room, one finds the girls chattering in true female fashion; engaged in exciting telephone conversations; tapping the ivories to produce some after-dinner music; distributing cokes from the canteen; or batting a ping-pong ball back and forth in a fast game of this sport. Undoubtedly, this organization will continue to be a place for female socialization and relaxation.

"Who? What? When? Where?" queries the news-minded stude as he zips across campus hot on the trail of the latest scoop. He belongs to that select number of campus informers with printer's ink in their veins, who convene to form the staff of the campus newspaper—THE ALBRIGHTIAN. He doesn't miss a trick when it comes to complete news coverage, nor do his feature-writing colleagues miss a laugh.

With tabulations in basketball, baseball, tennis, and any other sport that rears its head on the Albright green; with word-bandiers who can worthily call themselves feature-writers; with the business end of the paper never "in the red;" with students who have the knack of putting certain profs through a verbal third degree in order to meet that deadline; with composition in neat paragraphs of print; with "Hold that deadline!" as its motto—the Albrightian continues to send its news to all who are a part of the Albright campus—both at home and on the shores of foreign soil.

Having reached their goal of being able to send "Albright in print" to the three hundred Lions-in-the-Ranks, this group realizes how much of a pleasure it was to send Albright to others who will soon return. The CUE Ball, a chapel program with the radio skit, "REMEMBER ME!"; and finally the "CHEER-FOR-A-BUDDY" Drive were all just a part of this vast junior-senior publication aided by underclassmen volunteers.

It is with the warmest feelings towards their Alma Mater that the Cue Staff brings you this composite picture of Albright as it will always exist in the memories of those who have attended this institution of higher learning. It was the Staff's desire to impress all students with the challenge that awaits each as an individual unit in the creation of their world. And so, as they put the finishing touches onto this book, they hope that through its thoughts, Albright's spirit will thrive in all students' lives.

President .....	IRENE FISHER

CABINET MEMBERS: Martha Friedericks, Marion Gerberich, Jean Harer, Mildred Kaufmann, Mary Alice Lippert, Agnes Snyder.

Members of the Y. W. consist of female Albrightians who put in frequent appearances at their weekly Tuesday evening meetings. One of their "Helpful Hanna" jobs is bestowing names of "big sisters" on awe-inspired freshmen women. Y. W. members make it their Thanksgiving duty to assemble food baskets for needy families, too.

The "chief engineer" of Y. W. activities supervises another annual "chore" consisting of joining forces with the Y. M. to serenade the illustrious profs at Christmas. From time to time, the voices of Y. W. members are heard over the networks during one of their sponsored programs.

Aside from their secular activities, members of this cabinet maintain an earnest view toward religion. They aid in planning the schedules for one of the annual highlights—Religious Emphasis week, for Thanksgiving and Lenten services, and for worship seminars initiated in collaboration with Y. M. members. Through their sincere efforts religious feeling has become more alive and more meaningful in the lives of not only Albright students; but also, the students on foreign soil who are aided by the Y's participation in a World Student Service Fund during the spring months of everyone of our College years.

Now it can be told! The brains behind the brains of Y. W. belong to none other than active Y. M. members. Without the aid of this all-male organization, such events as spring and fall retreats at the Blue Mountain Camp would be impossible. This group among other services for students specializes in organizing doggie roasts, hymn hikes, and Hallowe'en Hoe-downs.

With a knack for organizing benefit programs and welfare drives these Albright men promote a program of wholesome religious activity living by what they preach. At the top of their list of accomplishments is the World Student Service Drive, whose chairman is selected from this gathering of men.

Dawn Communion services are performed by the capable religious efforts shown by these Albright males. Then too, the Y.M.C.A. Cabinet joins with the Y. W. C. A. to perform all other wholesome activities on campus, where it is an active part of the Regional Student Christian Movement. Thus, religion will remain a stationary part of Albright.

The main purpose of Kappa Tau Chi, an organization limited to only preministerial students, is to contribute a valuable religious element to campus life. Furthermore, it fulfills its duty of promoting the challenge of the Christian ministry and giving not only, mutual aid; but also, encouragement and inspiration to all Albright men who have chosen the ministry for their life's work.

Following a definite code of ethics, these young men discuss the problems of ministers serving their first charges; and through their combination of ideas and advice, the group is better able to meet the challenge of the work its members hope to undertake. Advancement in a world pattern of brotherly love is what they are striving for through the survival of KTX on the very same basis.

Something new has been added! Albright's pedagogues-to-be have decided to unite for their mutual benefit. Under the guidance of their advisor, the future teachers plan to keep up on the latest methods of teaching the three R's. Since FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA is a national organization, the Albright chapter is favored with a charter for its own display. This imposing parchment is in the campus library.

In general, the young teachers' problems are reviewed so that these future teachers can build up the educational system through their own vocation. Home Ec'ers attend meetings to get some "hot tips" on the way to handle amateurs of stoves and sewing machines; others learn the presentation of topics of interest to younger, inexperienced boys and girls in any American school. Through such a method of analysis, this group hopes to do a better job of passing on knowledge to others for further utilization.

Among its programs of interest to embryo scientists was a talk on Beryllium Extraction and Metallurgy by Henry C. Koniecki from the Beryllium Corporation in Reading; double feature movies on pest control and glass blowing; and other films on fabrics and oil industries.

On the lighter side, the club enjoys sitting in on Reading Chemist Club meetings as well as taking a front seat when refreshments are passed around at their own gatherings. To finish their year of events the Alchemists sponsor a picnic—famous for food.

What'll you have? A Sousa March, a Vic Herbert Waltz, or a Reubenstein classic? All requests are handled by Director Hans Nix and his collection of "brass blowers," "percussionists," and "cat-gut scrapers" comprising the instrumental talent at Albright.

Concerts given by this select group of budding artists are not too numerous, but well worth hearing on those special occasions when the public is invited. All the "lucre" taken in by their annual concerts is given to other campus organizations.

Gazing on an orchestral scene, one finds an artist fingering the ivories to make a harmonious whole; and another carrying the flute melody to dizzying heights. Nearby are fiddlesticks for the two who know how to slide them gracefully over the catgut; while a diminutive figure occupies the space behind the big drum and booms away at the "stretched hide." Thus, the "Little Symphony" of Albright carries on—doing justice to the music of the great masters!

There's a long black gown and stack of choral music awaiting each of these young women—aspiring prima donnas—at their next Glee Club gathering. This group of harmonious songsters worked hard and long to achieve their excellent rendition of Handel's "Messiah." Spurred on by their director, Prof. John H. Albright's campus isn't the only setting for the warblings of the girls. Reading and sur-

Well remembered were the concerts given at Berks County District Hospital, Shillington; Trinity Evangelical Congregational Church; Salvation Army; Shillington Reformed Church; Community General Hospital Auxiliary; West Reading High School; Muhlenberg Women's Club; Reading Senior High School; Kiwanis Club; York Trio Tour; and the Philadelphia Trio Tour.

Parlez-vous francais? Mais oui, mais oui. Translated in "le cercle francais" language this means, of course, that they speak French—but fluently.

In order to more fully appreciate the beauty of the language of France and many parts of the world, these French aspirants meet monthly during which time they speak nothing but their beloved tongue.

Songs, reading, and dramatizations of famous French writers are used to carry out this program. The messieurs and mademoiselles settle themselves comfortably in the music studio.

There in the sedate, quiet way that is most prevalent at a French rendez-vous, the members listen to records and absorb Prof. Garlach's stories of her journeys abroad. Good fellowship is shared and an increase in the understanding of French people and customs has been apparent. And so, France as a nation continues to be recognized.

The perfect set-up for some exercise in mental gymnastics can be found at the home of Dr. Morris S. Greth during one of his monthly sessions of Philosophy Club. Usually the club opens its doors only to that select group of "intelligentsia" which is scheduled for an advanced course in philosophy and hasn't hit the alphabet below a "B." But, once a year the meeting is open to the "Hoi Polloi" if they care to ponder over such philosophical concepts as God, immortality, good, and evil.

Original ideas stimulate the members to mental action. Rapt looks on their faces appear as they listen avidly to a current paper being read. Youth enjoys the metaphysical speculation while indulging in a mental wrangle with topics concerning the supernatural. All these happen when another session of thinkers starts thinking.

Any phase of social science, like psychology and sociology, is discussed at its monthly meetings.

In order to better acquaint the members with the problems of society, guest speakers are invited. Each member is also required to present a paper on some original research in this field. Following each presentation the group enters into a discussion from which definite conclusions for bettering society and solving problems are drawn. To conclude the semester's schedule a banquet will be held in spring.

This honorary English fraternity seeks to stimulate a desire on the part of its members to express life in terms of truth and beauty and to make a first-hand acquaintanceship with the chief literary masterpieces of our language. It endeavors to stimulate achievement by providing the reward of membership and the congenial companionship of those of like aspirations.

Besides its monthly meetings, the organization sponsored a chapel program featuring short stories, poems, and essays. It, also, will have a banquet in the spring when its new members will be initiated. Sigma Tau Delta through its English major and minor members shows forth its creative ability in its literary works. These works are not professional, but they do show promise for that goal.

They're well prepared to continue carrying on a war of words with opponents from Moravian College for Women, Cedar Crest College, Lehigh University, and Ursinus College.

The members also attended and participated in the State Debaters' Convention at Harrisburg in the fall. Adept at bandying words and ventilating all their pet ideas while dreaming of their bid after two years of such a pastime to Tau Kappa Alpha, the National Honorary Debating Fraternity, this mixture of logomachists continues to present the pros and cons on world issues.

IRC, as an organization, keeps up with the times. With a limited membership of twenty-five students who have completed one year of college work with a general average of "C," this organization has the earnest desire to learn more about international affairs so as to help prepare the world for a lasting peace.

Symbolizing the youth of America in its eagerness to learn more about the world, the International Relations Club has had under discussion this year following its speakers' views; "Uncle Sam's Step-Cousins from Puerto Rico;" "Communists vs. the Nationalists in the China Conflict;" "Structure and Function of the United Nations Organization." Later the club sent several delegates to Lafayette college for representation in a Collegiate Model U.N.O. Conference. Current events around the world is their prime interest.

Albright dramatics, in spite of the lack of much equipment, has tried to flourish again this year with their productions of "Much Ado About Nothing," original one actors, and a musical comedy.

Under the enthusiastic direction of Miss Helen Ahrens, who achieved critical laurels for her accomplishments, the Domino Club has tried to get back on its feet. In addition to its meetings each month, where current plays were discussed and short skits were dramatized, Domino has sponsored a Student Council Dance with the entertainment being furnished by its aspiring actors and actresses.

Looking forward to a more integrated organization in the future the "dominoes" continue to entertain their audiences by dramatizations.

To promote the intellectual and social welfare of their Alma Mater as well as to foster good fellowship among the alumnae of Albright College, a group of girls on the campus of Old Albright at Myerstown founded Phi Delta Sigma Sorority in 1913. Cherishing the ideals of Truth, Virtue, Love, Loyalty, and Chivalry, they planned an organization that would weld them together in a manner that would permit their enjoyment of an indissoluble friendship and unity of purpose despite the parting of ways resulting from Commencement. It became the purpose of these women, who have so proudly worn the gold sphinx with amethyst eyes, to keep living in their hearts the college spirit and fellowship of pre-graduate days, to manifest it in their deeds, and to reward the efforts of those few students who during their four years on campus would seek to uphold the ideals of the founders. These few individuals who have kept the faith are bid to Phi Delta Sigma and are initiated into its ranks the Saturday preceding Commencement.

Social functions are held semi-annually and are eagerly anticipated as events for joyful reunion. Then, too, the sorority has shown its interest in Albright in various ways. Books have been purchased for the college library, furnishings have been given to the girls' dormitory, a receiving desk was placed in the library, and financial support has been loaned to other projects. A loan fund is available to a deserving girl of the three upper classes and has been instituted to help maintain the recipient's expenses at college.

And so, this sorority progresses as a shining example of a way that Albright can remain permanently in one's life.

The Alumni Association of Albright College is an organization designed to join together the more than two thousand alumni of the college; to foster the spirit of fellowship among the graduates, teachers and former students of Albright, and those institutions out of which it has grown; to promote a spirit of loyalty among alumni, former students and friends; and to further its interests and prosperity.

The Association attempts to achieve these objectives through an Annual Meeting in the Spring and a Homecoming Day each Fall, both held on the college campus; the promotion of local clubs in strategic areas; the publication of "The Albright Alumnus," a quarterly magazine; representatives on the college Board of Trustees and Athletic Council; regular meetings of the Executive Committee; and a continuing program as outlined by the Executive Secretary.

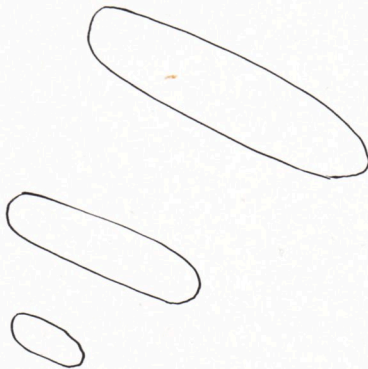

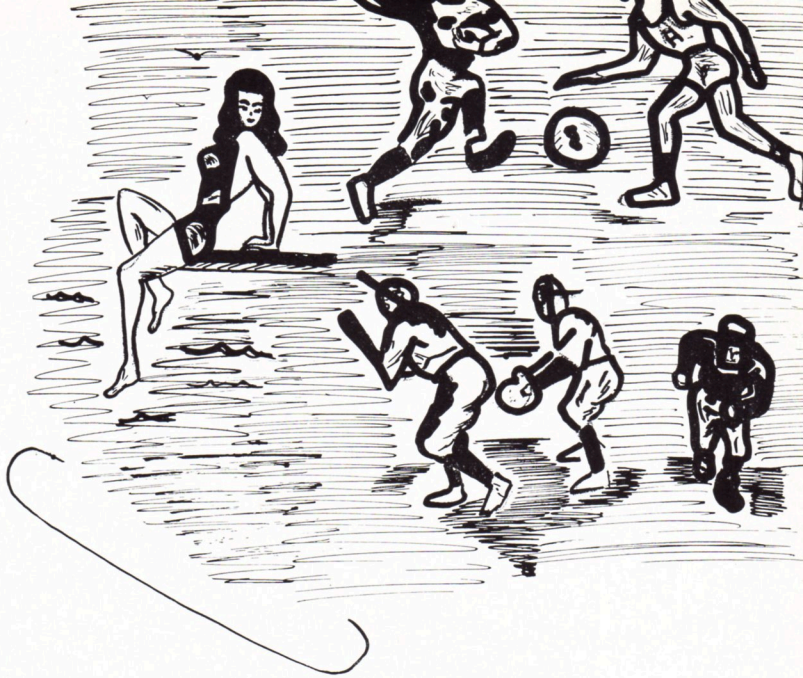

The active membership of the Association consists of those students of Albright College, or of those institutions out of which Albright has developed, who have been regularly graduated from their respective institutions. Non-graduates who have been regularly qualified students during a period of two or more semesters, and who were in good standing, are also considered active members of the Association. Opportunity is also provided for honorary membership.

Coach Neal O. Harris

Basketball—1945-46 Season

With Bill Landis and Red Seifert as the only holdovers from the 1944-45 basketball season, Coach Neal O. Harris had to completely rebuild his team with freshmen. All along the way, the team was plagued by players' illnesses, injuries, selective service letters, and questionable scholastic eligibility. Then, too, the year's schedule included a number of teams who were placed among the best competitors in the country. However, in spite of these facts, as this book goes to press, the team has ten victories to its credit and nine losses with three games still to be played including Millersville State Teachers College, March second, a return match with Elizabethtown, March fifth, and another engagement with the Valley Forge "powerhouse," March seventh, in Reading.

PHILADELPHIA COAST GUARD 44 —ALBRIGHT 35

In the season's opener the Lions dropped a tough game to the Philadelphia Coast Guard. Although the Lions held a 14-2 first quarter lead, they were unable to maintain it; so the guardsmen were victorious.

GETTYSBURG 52—ALBRIGHT 25

The second game of the season found the Lions without the services of their ace, Bill Landis, six feet nine inches tall, and promising freshman, Ronald Berger, due to scholastic ineligibility. To add to this loss Lee Cappel, high scorer of the team, was stricken with pneumonia.

The Lions fought against the "service-men-laden" Bullets, and held them for three quarters, but were outscored 18-6 in due time, as the Bullets turned the game into a rout.

VALLEY FORGE 58—ALBRIGHT 35

The first away game of the season found the Lions battling Valley Forge's power-studded hospital unit. This team was composed of several ex-All-Americans who play professional basketball on the side; thus, the team was considered as one of the top teams in the country. A disastrous second period ruined Albright after they had held the medics 6-6 for the first quarter.

PHILADELPHIA NAVY YARD 40— ALBRIGHT 27

Undoubtedly, Albright played its best game of the season when they bowed to the Philadelphia Navy Yard Quintet 40-27. The navy team has not been defeated since early December, having won thirty-five straight games for a total of forty-six victories out of forty-seven contests. The navy team was ranked second to New York University in the country. Albright put the sailors on their toes when Bernie Lellis tallied in the first period to finish the quarter with a lead of 14-11. However, the Lions were unable to carry through and All-American Ed Conley dunked the balls into the basket from all angles. The big center rolled up fifteen points which almost singly downed the roaring Lions. The Navy's final score of forty points was, incidently, the fewest number of markers the team had scored in its total of forty-seven games.

MANHATTAN 58—ALBRIGHT 41

Following the holidays, the Lions lost their fifth straight game of the season to Manhattan's Jaspers. Forward Leo Kelly led the Metropolitans with sixteen points while Bernie Lillis and Joe Kubisen acquired twenty points for the losing team. It was in this game that Franklin "Red" Seifert was injured and lost as an effective player for the remainder of the season.

LEBANON VALLEY 67—
ALBRIGHT 47

The Lions hit a new low when they lost their sixth game to their arch-rivals, Lebanon Valley. The Albrightians just couldn't stop the fast-breaking Frankie Shupper, big Marsh Gemberling, and guard Rinso Marquette. This trio captured 59 of Lebanon Valley's 67 points. Jolting Joe Kubisen was hot for the Red and White collecting seven goals of each variety for 21 points.

ALBRIGHT 69—WEST CHESTER 27

Albright's victories began when the Red and White mauled West Chester's Teachers. West Chester had the state's high scorer in their center Dave Kirk, who was averaging 18.5 points a game. However, he was held to three points by the Lions. Lee Cappel and Joe Kubisen each had 12 points to lead the Lions, with nine other teammates contributing scores to aid in the rout.

ALBRIGHT 41—UNIVERSITY OF
SCRANTON 35

Albright won their first away battle of the season by defeating the University of Scranton. The Lions took this one the hard way, being behind in the first quarter 14-1. Later they were still way behind 20-3. Nevertheless, the Lions under the leadership of Bernie Lillis, Lee Cappel, and Dick Thomas rallied to shave the lead to 21-20 at half-time, and after the intermission went on to victory.

ALBRIGHT 39—KUTZTOWN 38

Another victory, but in this case, staved off in the very last minute to eke out a 39-38 win. The Harris team was behind at the half 20-19 but rallied to take a ten point lead at the end of the third quarter. In the last quarter Kutztown held the Lions to a close lead, but did not have enough gusto to overcome Joe Kubisen's seventeen points.

ALBRIGHT 63—LASALLE 59

In this high scoring game Albright defeated LaSalle College's flashy team 63-59. Although the Albright boys were never behind, they had trouble in keeping LaSalle from sharing the lead. Lee Cappel's 26 points, high for the season, were what the Lions needed most to offset the shooting ability of Bobby Walters, ace marksman in the Philadelphia district.

ALBRIGHT 49—
ELIZABETHTOWN 32

Wielding a much tougher combination than that of last year, Elizabethtown came to Reading ready to beat the Lions for the first time in history—or so they thought. However, Bernie Lillis and Joe Kubisen ruined their hopes with 32 points tallied between them.

ALBRIGHT 40—UNIVERSITY OF
SCRANTON 32

Albright reached the .500 mark for the first time in the season by again defeating the University of Scranton 40-32. As in the previous game Scranton held a one point edge at half, but again the Lions tallied to win the game. Mort Witman led the Red and White by collecting 15 points and also playing a brilliant game on the defense where he caught most of the rebounds.

ST. JOSEPH'S 59—ALBRIGHT 41

St. Joe's changeable team was "hot" when they met Albright. As a result, they broke a Lion winning streak of six games. Even the return of Albright's servicemen could not stop the "hot" Hawks led by Bill Poletti with 12 points. Bernie Lillis on the Albright team was high man for the night with 16 points. Twenty of the twenty-five players participated in this losing battle.

LEBANON VALLEY 44—

ALBRIGHT 33

Lebanon Valley defeated Albright for the second time in spite of the fact that the home team gave them a tough battle. The game was not a push-over as the Readingites were ahead at the end of the first quarter with a lead of 8-4. At the half, they trailed by two points. Then, the Flying Dutchmen using their five "Iron Men" managed to slowly pull ahead of the tiring Lions and win their second Albright battle of the year.

ALBRIGHT 52—KUTZTOWN 48

Back on to a very short winning streak, Albright defeated Kutztown for the second time in the season. The Lions managed to continually stay ahead for three quarters, but in the last period the lead changed three times, and the score was tied twice. With 28 seconds to go and the score tied, Kutztown attempted a long pass, but Albright intercepted. Russ Guensch, a former Navy man who returned to Albright, scored. This was followed by another intercepted pass, and a goal by Mort Witman gave Albright a final four point lead. Lee Cappel was high scorer for the night with 16 points, Russ Guensch followed with 13. Hops Guldin, another returned serviceman, aided Albright's cause with three timely set shots.

ALBRIGHT 70—GANNON 46

Albright hit the big time and their highest score in this game having traveled to Buffalo, New York, to defeat Gannon College of Erie, 70-46. With Russ Guensch hitting the hoops for 21 tabs, Lee Cappel 20, and Hops Guldin 11, the game was in little doubt. With this high score and another victory, Albright regained its foothold and brought its win-loss percentage back to .500.

VILLANOVA 54—ALBRIGHT 53

Losing their ninth game of the season, Albright lost this "heart-breaker" to Villanova 54-53. Although trailing 32-19 at the half, the Lions, with Russ Guensch's high score and smooth playing, rallied to take a 53-52 lead with a minute left to play. Victory appeared to be certain when Villanova's two best players fouled out, but one of their subs who had scored only two points previously in the game, sank a set shot from the corner of the floor to give the Wildcats the margin of victory.

ALBRIGHT 67—LASALLE 61

In another high scoring fracas Albright edged out LaSalle's Explorers for the second straight time 67-61. In the field goal department LaSalle outscored Albright 27-22. However, the Lions converted 28 out of 31 fouls to gain in points. Hops Guldin was largely responsible for the Lions enjoying a 32-22 half time lead. When the Explorers stepped into the second half, Russ Guensch and Lee Cappel cooled them off with several picture shots. Mort Witman saved the team when it was leading by a mere two points by scoring. Cappel, Guldin, and Guensch all sank field goals to ice the verdict for Albright.

ALBRIGHT 62—WEST CHESTER 33

The fighting Lions finally passed the .500 mark by drubbing West Chester

Teachers for the second time in the season. West Chester was determined to win with the addition of some ex-servicemen to its team, and half way through the first period led 9-0. And then, the Lions rallied to tally 14 straight. Russ Guensch was top scorer with 24 points; Cappel had 13, Guldin 10 and Glickman 8.

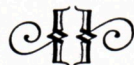

And so Albright men practice on, using up hours of energy and time to carry on the name of their Alma Mater. Victories are not always certain, but we can always feel sure that our Albright team is in there fighting.

Basketball—1944-1945 Season

The year 1944-45 goes on the records as being Coach Neal O. Harris' success year at Albright. During the season that year, the Albright court team mentor established more new records with his team than any other basketball squad in the history of the school. The Lions broke the win-loss record by winning 19 out of 20 games. They also shattered the straight win record for one year by winning 11 consecutive games. In addition, to smashing many other marks, they extended the home game winning record to two straight years.

William "Tiny" Landis, who throughout the season acquired 269 points, got off to a flying start in the season's opener by gathering 19 points against the Philadelphia Coast Guard. The Lions held a lead which was never threatened throughout the contest. Final score was Albright 51—Coast Guard 38.

In the second contest of the record breaking season, the Red and White met the Philadelphia Marines. Jesse Ervin and Stew Beyerle paved the way for this victory gathering 16 and 17 points respectively. The home-towners again held a lead throughout the game. Final score Albright 65—Marines 35.

The "kids" from Reading extended their wins to three straight when they won their first away game at Kutztown. Sonny Chelius led the fight, scoring 14 points. Final score Albright 48—Kutztown 28.

In the fourth contest, the Albrightians played on their home floor to defeat Franklin and Marshall 40-31. Landis, scoring 12 points, was high in this battle.

In a return game, Kutztown traveled to Northwest to engage the undefeated Lions in their fifth contest. Frank "Red" Seifert and "Cookie" Wagner teamed together to garner 26 points and give Albright a 64-43 victory over the Golden Avalanche. In this game, the friction between the two traditional rivals was so great that fisticuffs resulted. Reading policemen were summoned to separate the enraged players.

In the sixth and seventh contests of the season the Albright boys defeated Lehigh and Dickinson. In the Lehigh game, which was played away from home, the Harrismen came through with a 57 to 47 victory. Big Bill Landis gathered 24 points to help the Lion cause. Albright next met Dickinson at Northwest and defeated them 67-28. Cookie Wagner was high scorer for the local lads in this rout.

Contest number eight found the whiz kids traveling to Colledgeville where they were aided by 39 points from Bill Landis and Jesse Ervin to defeat Ursinus 65-50.

Then began a hectic week for the Lions, for in the space of seven days they played the Military College of the University of Mexico (Pentatlon Militar), Franklin and Marshall College at Lancaster, Detroit University at Boston, Mass., and Muhlenberg at Allentown. In the closest contest of the year, the Berks boys came through with a 47-44 victory over the passers from Mexico. Landis and Ervin shared scoring honors for the evening.

Following the Mexican game at Northwest the Albrightians took to the road. In the tenth game, the roaring Lions defeated Franklin and Marshall 52-49 in a closely fought court battle. "Tiny" Landis swished the cords for 28 points. Next, the courtsters entered the "big time" by playing the first Garden game in the history of the school. Boston Gardens was the scene of the eleventh victory, with the powerful Lion squad coming from behind to defeat Detroit University 39-33. Jess Ervin led the attack.

Albright's tired team finished up the week by meeting Doggie Julian's crack Muhlenberg varsity at Rockne Hall in Allentown. Suffering from fatigue the local boys played way below par and were defeated by the Mules 59-34. Oscar Baldwin, Allentown ace, was high for the Julian men with 20 points.

Elizabethtown was the next team to feel the might of Albright's varsity. After losing the first contest in twelve starts the Harrismen bounced back to take Elizabethtown 66-37. Landis with 7 field goals for a total of 14 points led the conquest.

Dickinson and Ursinus were the next schools on the defeat list, with Albright getting scores of 60-24 and 57-37 respectively. Jim Braun and big Bill Landis were high in these games. In the sixteenth contest of the year the red and white attained a personal victory as they were the first Albright College basketball squad to defeat Gettysburg away from home. The Lions did this by a 47-44 victory with Tiny Landis paving the way.

The next contest might well be considered the game of the year. In this battle the "point-hungry" and record-breaking courtsters gained revenge for their lone defeat of this season. In an event that saw Northwest gymnasium filled with 2700 spectators, the slick Muhlenberg squad was defeated 43-40. The speed and deceptive play drilled into the boys by Coach Neal O. Harris proved to be too much for the Mules, even though their star, Baldwin, captured the evening's scoring honors with 19 tabs.

Following the upset of Muhlenberg the Albright pacemakers had smooth sailing again defeating Lehigh 74-38, Elizabethtown 85-45 and Gettysburg 61-41.

The highlight of the season came near the conclusion of the schedule when Albright was lined up for a bid to Madison Square Gardens to play in the National Invitation Tournament. However, the hopes were premature, and several other schools received bids instead of Albright. Nevertheless, it was quite an honor for the school to be on the list to be considered for this tournament.

Albright in 1944-45 had one of the best records of any school in the country and in the east. Tiny Landis gained the scoring honors for the season with 269 points; and also won the Ronald Regar Trophy for being the most valuable player on the team, along with receiving state honors by being voted a member of the second All-Pennsylvania team.

FOOTBALL

to return to Albright . . .

David A. Strong will turn out gridiron team . . .

Albright's roaring lions of the gridiron will have as their coach for the 1946-47 season David A. Strong, a former collegiate football star and an ex-Navy man with coaching experience in several western universities, announced Eugene Shirk, Faculty Manager of Athletics February 26, 1946. Strong will coach the first gridiron team here since the 1942-43 season.

Beginning his football career on the freshman team of the University of Illinois in 1935 and playing quarterback on Zuppke's regular '36 team, Strong transferred to the University of Michigan in 1937 and won his letter there as halfback on Crisler's '38 and '39 teams.

After receiving his Bachelor of Science degree in Physical Education from Michigan in February, 1940, he remained there as an assistant football coach on Crisler's staff and received his Master of Science degree in Physical Education from Michigan in August, 1941.

Following a year as head football, basketball, and track coach at South Dakota School of Mines College at Rapid City, Strong entered the Navy as athletic officer in Commander Tom Hamilton's Physical Fitness Program for Naval Aviation in May, 1942.

Assignments in Dallas, Texas and Norfolk, Virginia and a turn as an executive officer aboard ship in the Pacific preceded Strong's return to football. In the fall of 1944 he was backfield coach of the San Diego Naval Training Center football team under Lt. "Skip" Stahley, former head coach at Brown University.

Since his discharge from the Navy on March 5, 1945, Strong has been on the athletic staff at the University of Idaho and was backfield coach under Potsy Clark at the University of Nebraska for the 1945 season.

And '46-'47 Will Bring Forth More Action . . .

Albright's roaring Lion has been absent from the stadium for almost four years now, but Albrightians can look to the future with the realization that the Red and White will be back on the gridiron next year.

In the last season in which Albright had a football team (1942) Albright's record, because of army inductions and injuries, was not too impressive. Coach William "Lone Star" Dietz could do no better than four wins against five losses.

At the start of the '42 season, the Lions defeated Indiantown Gap military team, trimmed Ithaca, then Franklin and Marshall College. This was followed by a defeat with Lakehurst Naval Station, but the Lions came back to win their fifth tussle with Moravian. Army draft and injuries caught up with the Albright squad and so the pigskin totters lost the next four contests with West Chester, P. M. C., Lebanon Valley, and Muhlenberg.

Next year the Albright Lion will probably face a six game schedule with plenty of home games to satisfy Albright rooters. Definite plans as to players and teams to be played are not known but several possibilities are found among the returned veterans who formerly aided the team in years gone by. You can be certain that whoever plays, the Albright football Lion will roar with lots of fervor.

Track . . .

After a lapse of almost six years Albright will again enter the realm of track. Under the tutorship of Faculty Manager of Athletics Gene Shirk, Albright will have a track team this spring. The school will probably not enter into very much competition the first year; however, by next season a track squad will be in full swing. Mr. Shirk is well-known as a track coach throughout Pennsylvania. The manager was track coach at Birdsboro High School for many years before coming to Albright. Among some of the stars he developed was Tony Didamio who was PIAA mile champion for two years.

By 1947, track should be just another asset to the athletic program of our school.

Intramural Softball . . .

Softball proved to be the most successful war-time intramural sport. In 1945 the Frat council set-up a league consisting of three teams, The Zetas, A.P.O.s and the Pi Taus. The Zetas won the softball title that year with a clean slate. Tiny Landis, home run ace, and Forrest Saylor, speedball artist, were the two main cogs in the Zeta victory machine. The Zetas defeated the Pi Taus twice with scores of 11-7 and 13-8. They also defeated the A.P.O.s 9-1 and 7-1. The A.P.O. team, under the leadership of Butch Harting, took the runner-up spot by defeating the Pi Taus 22-16 and 18-7.

The league last year stands as a challenge to the interfrat council this year. With more and more veterans returning and the student enrollment increasing constantly, the intramural leagues from here on in should be highly successful.

Other Intramural Sports . . .

Intramurals were, outside of football, probably the hardest hit sports during the war. Interfraternity Athletic Council on several different occasions tried to set up leagues in various sports but in most cases their efforts were in vain. The decreased college manpower made it almost an impossibility for fraternities to have teams; nevertheless, several games were staged between groups who could muster enough playing power.

In '44-'45 the frat council set up a league, but it was dropped due to the loss of men. At the time when the league disappeared the Reading frosh were in the lead with two wins against no losses. Stew Beyerle and Jim Braun teamed for the Readingites to give them winning form. The game of the year was the one in which the Zetas defeated the Pi Taus 7-6. On the first touchdown play Bill Miller intercepted a pass thrown by Tiny Landis and galloped the length of the field for a touchdown. Near the close of the contest Bob Buxton heaved a long one to Newell Wert who completed it with a Zeta touchdown. Buxton sewed up the Zeta victory by converting the extra point.

In '45-'46 the Interfrat council after inquiry found that football would probably take the path it took in the previous year, so no league was set up. A few games between frat teams were played. The first game was a defeat for the frosh from the Zetas 26-13. Warren "Brook" Pfof, Newell Wert, Bob Buxton, Bob Holtzapple, Charlie Russ, and Bob Schneider were the mainstays for the Zetas; while the Dorm frosh were supported by Rick Von Seekamm, Pete Bohran, Lee Cappel, Don Gross, Joe Kubisen, and Bill Emerich. In the only other important game played this season, William "Butch" Harting's A.P.O. aggression defeated the daymen 6-0. A freak play in which Herb Hyman fired a pass intended for Harting but which was batted into the air by Dick Ulrich, left Harting able to snatch the ball in mid-air to gain the only score of the game. Those who played in this contest were, Glenn Bailey, Hyman, Harting, Doc Perfect, and Jack Shafer for the A.P.O. Frat; while Ulrich, Don Liddicoat, Russ Millard, Frank Hodgkins, and Don Gittleman played for the daymen.

During the 1945-46 season intramural basketball hit an all time high. Under the guiding eye of Coach Harris, a four team loop was started. The Interfrat Council was in charge with four frats in the loop, the A.P.O.s, the Kappa - Pi Tau - Non-frat, the Daymen, and the Zetas.

The A.P.O.s opened the season by winning their first game 40-20 at the expense of the Zetas. The Daymen won the second contest by defeating the KPTNF boys 26-16. Jack Shafer, Steve Winter, Bob Buxton, and Paul Siegfried were high scorers in these first two battles. At this writing more games in the league set-up are to be played.

W. A. A. Cabinet

The purpose of the Women's Athletic Association is to interest the feminine sex in sports—varsity or class—and to give them a chance to participate. All the girls at Albright are members of the W. A. A. These members elect a cabinet consisting of president, vice president, secretary and treasurer, and a representative from each class. It is this cabinet which meets and acts on all business which concerns Albright girls' sports.

A typical monthly meeting of the cabinet with Mrs. Eva Mosser as advisor consists of discussions on fall, winter, or spring elective sports program or on an inter-class and inter-house schedule. Sports arranged by the W. A. A. include the varsity sports of hockey, basketball, softball, and tennis; also bowling, swimming, badminton, archery, and ping pong. Plans for the traditional May Day, which is sponsored by the W. A. A., is also discussed at one of their meetings.

The concession stand at the varsity basketball games is an important source of income for athletic equipment and varsity trips. Also, among the duties of the W. A. A. is the setting up and carrying out of a point system which awards those who participate in a certain number of athletic activities. These awards include numerals, letters, sweaters, and keys.

All in all, the W. A. A. is an important association for the benefit of Albright's feminine sex in the sports world.

Girls' Varsity Hockey

Streaks of white, swinging hockey sticks, balls flying, and shrill cries are just a few of the visible sights on the field when our speedy Albright Varsity Hockey-ettes go into action. The Hockey-ettes began their season with a clashing of sticks which brought them the championship in the Hockey Sports Day held at Kutztown State Teachers College. Lois Taylor starred in the first game by scoring single-handedly. The score was Albright 1; Moravian 0. The Lionesses defeated Kutztown 2-1 in the second game. After being the victors of two games out of three, the lassies gained the championship honors.

Those included in the championship team were Jean Borgstrom, Virginia Reinsel, Marie Bonner, Martha Herrick, Lois Taylor, Mary Eschwei, Meg Hendricks, Midge Abrams, Joan House, Joy Cutler, Alyce Voit, Josephine DeSantis, Fay Sheetz, Phyllis Carter, and Dotty White. The captain of the team for the day was Marie Bonner, with managers Alice Albright and Betty Burnett taking care of the pre- and post-game details.

Albright also played a game with Moravian. This game ended with a defeat for Albright 5-4. At the end of the first half of the game the goals scored were 3-1 in favor of the Moravian team. In the second half our Hockey-ettes gained three tallies, but Moravian was able to achieve two more goals in the final quarter to give them the victory for the day. Virginia Reinsel, Marie Bonner, and Lois Taylor scored for the game.

Phyllis Carter, Ruth Homan, Beth Sanger, Ferne Allen, Marion Swartz, Adele Boothroyd, Betty Deibert, Jeanne Flickinger, Gladys Savidge, Jean Schwartz, Lois Lackey, and Phyllis Ibach, compose the Varsity team in addition to the aforementioned Championship team.

Girls' Varsity Basketball

The Albright Lionesses, coached by Mrs. Eva Mosser, turned in a commendable record of five wins, five losses and one tie for their 1945 basketball season. Statistics show that the gals put up stiff competition against their opponents and were outscored only by two strong forces at Philadelphia schools.

With this year of valuable experience behind them, and with the loss of only one player through graduation, the squad approached an even more successful season for 1946. Erma "Worm" Leinbach, captain and star performer in the guard position was a great loss to our Red and White team by graduation in 1945. "Worm," with the able assistance of such guards as Elaine Schwartz, Jean Borgstrom, Beth Sanger, Gladys Savidge, and Joy Cutler, held down threatening opposition and gave inestimable support to the forwards. On the forward line-up were Ginny Woerle, undisputed high scorer, Mary Eschwei, Phil Carter, Marie Bonner, Shirley Sperans, and Jeanne Flickinger.

This entire squad reported back for duty in 1946 with Ginny Woerle piloting them through much the same schedule as the previous year, opening with Lebanon Valley, away, on January 9.

Badminton

The odd-knack of hitting the feathered "birdie" is exhibited by talented feminine aspirants in the popular game of badminton.

Softball

Bats and balls get their spring "airing" on the Science Hall Field when these girls start playing on their diamond as the snow disappears.

Varsity Tennis

The opening of the three clay courts on campus in the spring of 1945 gave added popularity to tennis for Albright students; especially the female sex. Only two matches were scheduled for this first season.

The one, with Drexel, played at Philadelphia, found the Albright maids losers to a 3-2 count. Marie Bonner, Madeline Gable, Tennis Leader, and Joyce Moyer, held down first, second, and third singles respectively; while Elaine Schwartz filled in fourth position for doubles.

The second match, scheduled with Ursinus, was cancelled due to inclement weather.

However, this season brings forth more matches and more candidates. To fit the places vacated by Madeline Gable and Joyce Moyer will be Jeanne Flickinger, new Tennis Leader, and other players, Elaine Huber and Jean Long.

Undoubtedly, stiff joints, sprained ankles, and "over-all" aches will be prevalent when these girls begin their spring practice for the tournaments that will be played after Easter vacation. With the power exerted behind their rackets, our tennis team shows promise of a more successful season this year.

Cheerleaders

Flashes of red and white . . . the lusty echo of loud voices . . . our cheerleaders leading the team to victory!

Come cheer Alma Mater
With song and with laughter,
And fling abroad her colors, Red and White,
O'er hill, dale and valley,
Now bid the echoes rally,
And sing aloud the praises of Albright.

Hail, hail the Red and the White,
Hail Alma Mater with a cheer.
With eyes bright and glancing,
The Red and White advancing,
We'll sing the praise of Alma Mater dear.

Each stairway and hall
And ivy clad wall,
Is a storied urn of pleasures ever new.
Each charm so alluring
Will make our love enduring
And pledge us sons,
All loyal men and true.

Hail, hail the Red and the White,
Hail Alma Mater with a cheer.
With eyes bright and glancing,
The Red and White advancing,
We'll sing the praise of Alma Mater dear.
