PROF. DECH GUEST OF HONOR
29th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Staff Members Show Healthy Appetites As Fine Chicken Dinner Is Consumed—Pay Tribute To Scrubs In Speeches.

With a sumptuous banquet served in the Bahney House, at Myerstown, last Thursday, the 1926-27 staff of the Albright Bulletin celebrated its official retirement from active service, after having served the students of Albright College in a faithful manner during the entire Bulletin year which began last March.

During the regime of the retiring staff, thirty-two issues of the Bulletin were published, completing the twenty-fourth year of its existence. The entire staff of eighteen, along with five invited guests were in attendance, enjoying themselves for two solid hours in a fine social time, after consuming portions of chicken, potatoes, sweet potatoes, lima beans, salad, celery, corn, olives, ice cream, and several kinds of cake—portions such as college students can be expected to devour.

After this joyous repast was completed, the period for mutual felicitation began. The retiring editor-in-chief, Cyrus E. Beekey, who has led the Bulletin through its most successful period to date, acted as toastmaster. He opened by tracing the history of the Bulletin through its twenty-four years of existence, at the beginning of its life it was little more than a pamphlet, then gradually expanded into a larger paper, finally into a regular monthly edition, then a bi-weekly, and two years ago blossomed forth as a weekly, under the editorship of Dale H. Gramley, '26, the founder of the present system of journalism at Albright. He also gave an account of the organization of the Bulletin, how well it compared with other high class college publications, and gave the incoming staff some sound advice and hints, such as experience only can suggest.

Beekey introduced the guest of honor, Prof. J. W. Dech, instructor in Greek Language and Literature at the Myerstown institution, who incidentally was celebrating his twenty-ninth wedding anniversary.

MOHN HALL GIRLS ENJOY SENIOR 'Y' PROGRAM

Miss Van Duser Gave Interesting Talk on "Health"—Senior Quartette Renders Music

All the "Y" girls were on their tip-toes with anticipation as to what the Senior "Y" program held in store for them—nor were they disappointed!

"Nenie" was "Mistress of Ceremonies" and she was equal to the task. "Ann" had charge of devotions and as usual performed her task well. A piano solo, rendered by Caroline Mowrey was enjoyed, and appreciated by every one. Then the famous (?) Senior Quartet, composed of "Katy", "Nenie", Blanche and Mildred, sang, "The Lord Is My Shepherd." Needless to say this number made a hit and the girls try to dismiss the thought that they won't be with us much longer.

Surprises! Don't you love them? This was one no exception either, be-

'Y' INAUGURATION SEES MORRIS MAKE DEBUT

New President Takes Control As Officers For Ensuing Year Are Installed—Wilkes Vice President

On March 29th the Y. M. C. A. met in the college chapel. The purpose of the meeting was to elect officers for the rest of this school year and for next year.

The meeting was called to order by the Vice President, Glyn Morris. The boys entered into a hearty song service which was enjoyed by all. Sentence prayers were offered by members of the association.

"BOOM" FROCK CHOSEN FOOTBALL CAPTAIN BY MATES AS LETTERS ARE AWARDED TO 22

Last week twenty-two coveted "A's" were awarded to the members of the 1926 football team of Albright College, which enjoyed one of the best seasons in the history, under the tutelage coach, "Jakie" Weller. Letters were awarded to Captain Angle, Griggs, Snyder, Gasull, Frock, Loucks, Wissler, Brown, Clemens, Asper, Garrett, Watson, Weaver, Kerns, Sherrid, Gunther, Gibbons, Soroshinsky, Enright, Reisinger, Kunzler, Burns, and Manager Glosser.

Frock Unanimous Choice

Immediately after the awarding of letters, the letter men elected a captain for the coming year. Harold Frock, '28, of Harrisburg, a varsity tackle for three years, was elected by an unanimous vote. After starting with the championship Tech teams for two years, Frock entered Albright in the fall of 1924, and immediately clinched a tackle berth, which he has held down in great style ever since. In the last two Lebanon Valley games, "Boom" was one of Albright's best performers. "Boom," a giant in stature, and a stalwart on both offense and defense, should make an ideal captain, being long since noted for his fighting qualities.

1927 Prospects Good

Prospects for next year look bright, only five of the boys above being lost by graduation. They are Angle, Griggs, Snyder, Gasull, along with Manager Glosser. All of these boys are veteran letter men, and their absence will be felt keenly next year. However, "Uncle Jake" can be relied on to develop worthy successors for these stars. Although next year's schedule is not yet complete (Continued On Page Three)

ANN BENFER WILL OCCUPY THRONE IN ANNUAL MAY DAY FETE; OTHER ELECTIONS TO FOLLOW

Ann Benfer, '27 is to have the honor of being Albright's Queen of the May this spring. In an election held in Mohn Hall, the popular Baltimore girl was elected by a large majority of the girls. This is the crowning achievement of Miss Benfer's active college career. Besides being a leader in curricular affairs, Miss Benfer has taken a very prominent part in extra-curricular activities also.

Varsity center on the girls' basketball team for four years, Miss Benfer has taken an active part in athletics, lending services which were very valuable. In addition she has been an associate editor on the 'Y' Handbook for two years, was literary editor of the 1927 Speculum, and retires this week as president of the Girls' student government. Besides this, she has been a sub-

GIRL DAY STUDENTS RENOVATE AND BEAUTIFY ROOM

Extensive Improvements Made And More Will Follow In Near Future

The room of the day student girls presents a changed appearance, due to the efforts of the girls themselves. The walls have been given a coat of yellow alabastine. There are bright yellow curtains at the windows, and to complete the scene there is a bridge lamp and a victrola. The girls expect to shellac the floor and grace it with rag rugs. The room now so bright and cheery presents a comfortable place for the commuters.

Men's Glee Club Renders Concerts Par Excellence On Trip Over Week-End

Capacity Crowds At Port Carbon And Aristes Greet Boys—Adverse Weather Encountered—Goes West on Easter Trip

Last Friday afternoon the Men's Glee Club left Albright for a week-end trip into the coal regions. The Club travelled in the parlor bus of the Lebanon Auto Bus Company. The first concert was to be given in the Odd Fellows Hall in Port Carbon, a small town about two miles from Pottsville.

They arrived in Port Carbon about five o'clock in the afternoon and were shown to their temporary homes. After partaking of generous suppers the members congregated at the Hall about the time the concert was to start.

The audience was so large that hardly a seat remained unoccupied. Elaborate programs were distributed and served as good advertisements for the Glee Club. The concert was a success as usual and greatly appreciated by the audience. The feature numbers especially were popular with the audience.

About two o'clock of the following day, the boys left Port Carbon for Aristes and they surely had their ups and downs in life for the country through which they travelled was nothing but hills and valleys. They finally reached Aristes which was on the top of a mountain. Once again they were shown to their temporary homes and once again they were fed sumptuously.

The concert was given in the High School before a fine audience, considering the fact that it was snowing outside. After the concert, the boys were entertained at the homes of their new friends and some very royal good times were enjoyed. Despite the fact that they were to leave early the next morning for Albright, some of the boys stayed up rather late.

It was a sleepy looking crowd that found into the bus the next day. Three inches of snow greeted them when they awoke, and that did not add to their joy. Before they reached Pottsville they had a flat tire and some other trouble and therefore an hour's delay (Continued On Page Three)

Combined Y's Sponsoring Illustrated Lecture Event

Prof. F. Treadwell Smith, of F. & M. Back From Mesopotamia, Will Show Views Which He Took Himself

On Tuesday night, April 12, the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. will sponsor an illustrated lecture in the College Chapel. Professor F. Treadwell Smith, of Franklin and Marshall College will relate his experiences in Mesopotamia where he spent several years. The slides are colored views from pictures which he took himself. The lecture should prove to be very interesting as Professor Smith spent some time in the desert near Baghdad in 1918-19 in a great camp of 50,000 Oriental Christian refugees, and later went across Persia to Armenia in a Ford car.

Professor Smith is gifted with a very pleasing personality and his lecture is sure to be a treat. Everyone is cordially invited. There will be no admission charged.

NEW LEADER IS COLORFUL DIAMOND PERFORMER

Students Rooting For Team As Lid Is Pried Off Ushering In Heavy 1927 Schedule.

Henry R. Gasull, hard hitting shortstop of the Albright nine for the past three years, was elected captain at a meeting of the lettermen last week.

"Shorty" as he is generally known, has been one of the most colorful players on the diamond that Albright has had in many a season. Being small of stature, handicaps this player to a big advantage, for he does not have to stoop far to reach the ground balls that come his way. He is a dead shot on a ground ball, and possesses a powerful throwing arm. "Shorty" is a real go getter and ranks high as one of the leading run getters for the Red and White.

Being full of pep and chatter, Gasull is sure to make an ideal leader for his mates, who have thus honored him for his three years of diligent work. He has the confidence of his co-workers, so great things are looked for in the future from the "stocky" little captain of 1928.

The first game of the season was scheduled for last Saturday with Lafayette, at Easton, but the awaited day dawned cold and cloudy. A few hours before the team was to leave, a letter was received from the Lafayette manager that there was hail and snow in Easton, and that the game would have to be postponed.

Later arrangements were agreed on, which provided that the game would be played the following Wednesday. The Bulletin went to press before the game was played, and the results can not be published, but the students were rooting hard for their favorites, as they were to pry off the lid of the season.

Red and White will play Western Maryland in the first home game of season to-morrow.

Neos-Themisians In Championship Debate Monday

Will Vie With Each Other For Years Possession of Keller Cup—Date At Last Definite

CANCELLATION OF GERMAN REPARATIONS IS QUESTION

Although the inter society debating teams had a little difficulty in getting started to decide the debating championship for this school year, at last everything has been decided except the champions.

Several weeks ago the Neocosmian debating team defeated the Excelsior team by a three to nothing decision. The question was: Resolved, That the Volstead Act should be modified to permit the manufacture and sale of light wines and beers.

By this decision the Excelsiors were eliminated from the contesting for the I. C. Keller Debating Trophy. The debate between the Themisians and the Neocosmians will decide the championship for this year. This debate is definitely scheduled for April 11th and must be debated then or the contest will be forfeited.

The question for this debate is a new one, although it is a very live problem in world politics. It is: Resolved, That the Allies should abandon (Continued On Page Three)

WE DEBUT

With this edition of the Bulletin, the new staff makes its official debut. It is under a full conviction of service to the student body, which in the final analysis supports the Bulletin, and for whom it is primarily published, together with a sense of duty of Alma Mater, for whose interests we pledge to work faithfully and fearlessly at all times, that we take over the reigns handed us by the retiring staff.

It is our purpose to carry on from the point where they handed over their charge over to the present incumbents. We shall try to catch the torch—and hold it high. During the twenty-four years of the publication of the Bulletin, there has come down to us of the present day a certain amount of tradition and policy which we are honor bound to maintain. This does not only apply to the connection with the Bulletin, but to a much larger extent to the college itself. Albeit, it is not our purpose to be bound down by the shackles of tradition. Progress, inventions, and discoveries are making their presence felt, transforming the old into the new. It is with this spirit of progress, then, that we wish, and shall endeavor to keep pace.

But for an explanation.

The real purpose of a college weekly is a two-fold one. First, it is the official college newspaper. The paper does a great service to its clientele if it recounts faithfully and truthfully the student events as they occur from week to week. In this sense it is a typical newspaper. The better it covers its news, and reports it in an interesting and vivid manner, and in some detail, the paper is naturally that much more valuable from a reportorial standpoint. This is one great function of the college newspaper, and at first appearance, by far the greatest.

But there is another important function which the student publication dare not overlook.

This function, it is claimed by many critics who are experienced in inter-collegiate journalism, is even more important than the first—that of its news standpoint. This function is the moulding of an undergraduate thought and opinion. This viewpoint has come to be regarded by college editors, almost universally, as one of the greatest importance. Concerning the moulding of this thought there are two definite theories. First, there is the one that maintains that the college weekly should be a mouthpiece of the student body. That means that the paper, in addition to recording the events record and reproduce thought also. In the strictest interpretation of this theory, the paper will bring out very little that is original—its editorials, articles, etc.—its general content will be nothing new—merely warmed over, to use that expression, and put down in black and white.

The other conception is one of originality and antecedence, on the part of the paper.

Instead of being a follower in current undergraduate thought, the publication is to be a leader in this respect. It is to submit definite and carefully formulated ideas to its readers for their consideration and reaction, whatever they may be. The purpose is not to take sides with any one particular group, for it is to be a STUDENT paper—of the students, by the students, and for the students—all the students. Its subjects should rise above the interests of any individual or party, except where it is affiliated with the whole group. Its purpose is to challenge the attention of thoughtful students to the really important and momentous questions now confronting the campus which the paper represents, or, in a large number of cases, intercollegiate problems, which to be solved intelligently, must be treated with honest and intelligent consideration by the several student bodies. To submit high and noble ideals to the student body for intelligent consideration then, becomes an important phase of the college paper. For this purpose the paper is admirably fitted.

In a number of respects, it is unrivalled in this respect. It has no end to serve except to fulfill her obligation to its Alma Mater. The editors of college papers, as a general rule have been students of problems on their own campuses besides those of others. In addition, there is the benefit that he acquires from intercollegiate newspaper conferences, and from the papers of other schools, which he surveys rather carefully. They read each others EDITORIALS, learn their problems, their solutions, and their applications to their own colleges.

The Bulletin has been a follower of this principle for some time. It has been trying to create student thought and opinion as well as to stimulate and voice it. It is our purpose to follow in this wake, and try to lend all the assistance to the student body possible in this respect. WE WILL TRY TO MAKE THE BULLETIN MORE THAN A MERE NEWSPAPER.

OUR POLICIES

Accordingly, we have formulated a code of policies by which we will govern, organize and operate our paper. As will be noticed, the policies which appear in the box above have been changed somewhat from those of the last two years. Some have been kept, others changed somewhat and incorporated into our new ones. None of the old policies have been abrogated. We reiterate and reaffirm them. We wish we had the space to go into a somewhat detailed account of the progress made along these lines during the last two years they have been the BULLETIN's goal, but we can not. Suffice to say, progress has been made along most of them, but there is still much to be done, we have still far, far to go to see their ultimate achievement. Some can never be achieved. Sorry as it may appear, we have fallen down in a few. Look over the old policies in a former edition, and reach your own conclusions.

Now for an explanation of the new.

1. Fair Treatment For Everyone. In other words, a square deal for everybody. It will be our purpose in the ensuing year to record all events in a strictly truthful and unbiased manner. As mentioned before, we have no interest other than those of the highest service to Alma Mater—expressed in our policies themselves. WE WILL MAKE CRITICISMS. But we pledge ourselves that they will be fair and just, and for the greater part, constructive, except where exigencies demand otherwise. We will treat every organization in a manner appropriate and becoming to it. The same applies to individuals. Nor will we, ourselves, be afraid of criticism. We admit that the apex of perfection is far from reached. We promise to do our best, yet will often fail. Any criticism given in proper and earnest way will be heeded and appreciated, and be made a source of improvement if possible.

2. Full Support of All Student Enterprises. The Bulletin's past attitude to all worthy student ventures and honest attempts for improvement along any line have received the thorough support and help from the Bulletin. Review, for the moment, the attitude we have assumed to such movements as the MOHN MEMORIAL, WOMEN'S STUDENT GOVERNMENT, and more recently the MEN'S SENATE. All of these have received encouragement and moral support, and in some cases physical support from the Bulletin. These are merely examples which are the most tangible. Hosts of others have benefited from the Bulletin's support, and will continue to do so. We will do all in our power to help any worthy cause—regardless of its nature, and furthermore will encourage others to do likewise.

3. Athletics For All. The Bulletin will welcome and support any system or means whereby athletics can be placed on such a plane at Albright where everybody can participate in at least one kind of a sport, and receive regular instruction in it, whether he is a varsity man or not. This has been achieved—plus among the girls, but this step must still be taken on the boys' campus. We hope that present conditions will be ameliorated in the near future.

4. Progress In All Respects—Curricular and Extra-Curricular. The Bulletin is and has been a strong advocate of a happy medium between these two phases of college life, which are too often conflicting. It is a common question, "Which is more helpful, curricular or extra-curricular activities?" We believe that that question should be entirely out of place on the college campus, and that every student should devote the proper attention to both, and effect a good working combination. Our advocacy of the POINT SYSTEM is a demonstration of our platform in this respect. Regulated activities, which will preclude any student from indulging in too many outside activities, and neglecting other affairs at their expense—and which likewise will encourage the student who is not doing his share to take such an interest, is our policy. This will insure real progress in both fields, we are sure.

5. Increased Student Initiative And Honor. Here is a field, we believe, where Albright can improve. There is a noted tendency in the American Colleges and Universities today for the student to participate in his own education. Many colleges are granting university cuts to Seniors of an advanced grade, who can devote more time to spending their time as they deem most profitable. Although we do not recommend that course of action yet, we do believe that the students could benefit greatly by more self initiative, without being compelled to do certain things. The Bulletin stands for 100% HONOR IN ACADEMIC WORK. And that means more than cribbing in examinations.

6. An Albright Individuality. In this age of standardization, we would not have Alma Mater lost in the whirl, but want to see her keep her individual identity. In many respects Albright is unique—different, and we would have her remain thus—and not copy after other colleges, just because there are other colleges, with perhaps more famous names. But the most honored name to an Albrightian is ALBRIGHT, who wants her to retain those individual characteristics which made her so. One thing we refer to is CLASS DISTINCTION. Albright has had that to a modest extent, and let us not remove the ancient landmark for some "new fangled" substitute.

It also means BOOST ALBRIGHT.

In Conclusion

We hope that we have stated our platform which we will honestly endeavor to live up to in the coming year. We will try to make our editorials, one of the vital parts of the college paper, more interesting and valuable to the student body. We will try to have them mean more to our readers.

At times, there may be occasions which will cause us to add new policies to cover new exigencies. Wherever it is advisable, we shall do so.

THE BULLETIN STANDS FOR PROGRESS AT ALL TIMES.

IT PROMISES TO WORK FOR THE BEST INTERESTS OF ALBRIGHT.

CHAMPIONS

The Seniors sprang a surprise on the Freshmen team when they defeated them, thereby becoming the champions of the Inter-class Basketball League. The present Senior team has as good a record as can be attained by any other class ever to enter Albright. Last year the series was dropped through lack of interest so that no team could claim championship honors. The present Senior team (then Junior) was just getting into its stride when the series ceased to function. As Freshmen, Sophomores, and Seniors, the Seniors have carried off the honors of having a championship team.

This surely upsets the dope, for usually the Senior team is the weakest of them all. Well, we take off our hats to this crew, which this year did not have one practice and yet won out. Too bad they cannot remain another year to win another championship.

ty-ninth wedding anniversary. Prof. Dech has been at Albright many years and has seen the Bulletin grow from its infancy, and even remembered an ancestor of the Bulletin, which was published a half century ago, almost, for the first time. He paid his compliments to the present staff for the work it has been doing, and was given a rousing cheer at the conclusion of this speech. Mrs. Dech and Cathryn Dech '29, were also guests.

The Seniors on the staff were subsequently called on to contribute their respective parts on the program. The first was Ward Hosterman, retiring circulation manager, who gave an account of the progress in the business department of the Bulletin. The greatest achievement of note was the purchase of a new addressograph, to assist in the circulating of 650 papers every week. Homer W. Holsley was the next speaker to be called on. In a short discourse he related some funny experiences in securing advertisements, having been advertising manager.

"Cy" then called on his two associates, Miss Blanche McCauley, and Neiman Hoffman, both of whom he commended for their work in writing editorials, the most important, and most significant part of a college paper. Both responded in humorous clever talks, relating funny and odd experiences of the past year. The last Senior on the staff, Jason S. Snyder, the witty sports editor, then had his turn. "Sn" in his humorous way acclaimed the real worth of the sports department to the Bulletin.

The retiring editor then introduced his successor, Ernest L. Heckert, formerly managing editor, who promised to try to equal the high standards of the passing staff in behalf of the incoming members. Leon C. Hood, former news editor, and new associate editor followed. He thanked the assistants and scrubs on the staff for their parts, which are often overlooked. Miss Virginia Zener also associate editor, former feature editor also spoke briefly, expressing her enjoyment of the Bulletin work, leaving Russell Gottshall, incoming business manager as the last speaker.

The joyous evening ended as Beeky made a few closing remarks, mentioning the value of the Bulletin both to the college and the students as well as to the members on the staff, who gain much practical experience during the course of a year.

Then the Alma Mater was sung, the group filed out of the banquet hall, marking the completion of another year of Bulletin service.

cause Miss VanDuzer was on the program to talk to us.

"Neenie" expressed in a few words the love and respect we all have for "Miss Van"—she has somehow become a part of us and the senior girls have received a finishing touch to their education this year—the influence of one so wholesome and sincere as "our coach."

"Miss Van" spoke interestingly and intelligently on "Health." She stressed temperance and balance in our physical, mental and spiritual lives if we would have perfect health.

Somehow, we girls feel that "Miss Van" hit the weak spot in our life-programs. There is a tendency among us to neglect that necessary part of a healthful, balanced life, namely, health. "Miss Van's" talk surely created a desire in us to live properly.

pleted, it is conceded to be one unusually hard, Muhlenberg, P. M. C., Temple, Brown, Schuylkill, Gallaudet, Western Maryland and Lebanon Valley will be met definitely. Several other games are pending.

The boys next year will have something to work for to beat the record the boys this year made. In nine games Muhlenberg, Juniata, P. M. C., F. & M., St. Joe and Temple were defeated, Albright scoring over twice as many points as her opponents.

don all further claims on Germany for Reparations. The girls team will uphold the affirmative side of the question while the boys will endeavor to defend the negative side.

In order for a society to win the cup permanently it is necessary for it to be the school champion of the school for three consecutive years.

Both teams are anticipating a very interesting debate and the winners will not be decided until the last word is spoken.

ELEPHANTS

The elephant is man's most intelligent helper. But—consider this interesting comparison:

An elephant is much larger than the electric motor of a "yarder" or logging machine. The "yarder" has the power of twenty elephants; it handles clusters of logs; it works dependably, twenty-four hours at a stretch, if necessary.

Twenty elephants would eat daily 10,000 pounds of green food, which a corps of attendants must gather. A motor "eats" nothing but electricity, supplied at the throw of a switch.

Power used in the modern industrial world is applied through electric motors—tireless "iron elephants" that are relegating antiquated machines to museums, along with such oldtime household articles as wash-tubs and ordinary irons—and stuffed elephants.

Two million elephants could not do the work now being done by General Electric motors. Whatever the work to be done, whether it needs the power of an elephant or the force of a man's arm, there is a General Electric motor that will do it faithfully for a lifetime at a cost of a few cents an hour.

COMPLIMENTS OF*BANBURY BAKING COMPANY*MR. LUBOLD REVIEWS CHINESE SITUATION IN CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

Part of Program of "What Is Real Christianity?"—Says Gap Between East And West Must Be Bridged.

"What is Real Christianity?" was discussed intelligently by a small audience of thirty in Christian Endeavor on Sunday night. Grace Poff, the leader in the evening's discussion group presented the topic in a very concise way, and explained its meaning and relation at the present time.

The problem was discussed more in detail as about a dozen members of the audience aired their views on questions handed to them previously by the leader. Some of the principles brought out were that to be Christians, it is necessary to follow and accept the teachings of the Master. It was also demonstrated that Christianity means actual relation with men.

Two of the interesting features of the program was a solo by Kathaleen Miller, accompanied by Grace Maurey and a discussion of Christianity as it is concerned with international problems by Mr. Lubold. In treating this broad, and almost omniscient subject, Mr. Lubold gave his small group of hearers plenty to think about as he reviewed the present situation in China, and emphasized the attitude of the Chinese, that if this is Christianity that the civilization of the West is bringing to them, then they emphatically do not want Christianity.

The popular librarian went on to say that the great achievement which Christianity must accomplish is to bridge the gap, wider than the Pacific ocean, between the East and West. He reminded the group of Kipling's famous "East is East, and West is West, and Never the Twain Shall Meet," but also quoted the great author's solution as the "two meet around the Judgment Seat." "That is our problem," said Mr. Lubold, "bridge the gap, and the victory is won." In his short discussion, Mr. Lubold got right down to the point, and handed out plenty of condensed facts, along with their meaning.

MOHN MEMORIAL RECEIVES BENEFIT OF LECTURE

Rev. Hotchkiss Shows Beautiful Pictures of Rambles Thru Pacific Northwest in Behalf of Girls' Drive For Funds

On Tuesday evening Rev. A. B. Hotchkiss, a native of New York, state entertained a comparatively large audience of appreciative college students and town folk with beautiful colored scenic slides in an illustrated lecture on "Rambles Thru The Pacific Northwest."

Snow capped mountain peaks, covered the year 'round, tall trees of old Oregon, which were standing when Columbus discovered America; wonderful sunsets on the Pacific Ocean—all of these were merely a sample of the beautiful scenes of the great West, which were shown in the chapel, apparently transforming it into a great vista of nature herself. They were joys too exquisite to last, yes, but even more exquisite—when past. The lecture was educational as well as delightful and entertaining and educational, and was thoroughly appreciated by the audience.

This lecture was held for the benefit of the Mohn Memorial drive which is now being undertaken with new

: Who's Who At Albright :*HAROLD B. FROCK

"Boom" is the name that everyone recognizes, just to call him Harold would keep many in the dark as to the true identity of the person referred to. Frock hails from Harrisburg Tech where he made an enviable reputation on the gridiron and since coming to Albright has lived up to it, and then some! Outside of his freshmen year, when his ankle was broken, he has played in every gridiron contest Albright has participated in. When he plays it is with his utmost strength to do all in his power for his team and Alma Mater.

By a unanimous vote of this year's letter men "Boom" was elected Football captain for next year. We congratulate him because we feel that he is the man for the position. He is well liked, a whole-hearted worker and seems to have the qualities for leadership.

This has all been of football so far. But besides football he plays on the Junior Team in the Interclass Basketball League. His usual position is center, and he plays it well, being both tall and able to jump quite well. His above-mentioned characteristic of entering into his work comes to the front in this respect as well as in his school work, and in fact, everything he does.

"In the spring—", you know the rest. Well, not placing too much emphasis on "In the spring", but more on the latter part, you have Frock's situation lined up fairly well. In other words, at times we see "Boom" out walking with his lady-friend—the not so often since she lives a little distance from town, and because this has been going on for quite some time, we draw our own conclusions and you may draw yours.

Best of good fortune is what we wish for you, "Boom!"

force to insure the purchase of a piano.

Rev. Hotchkiss donated his services for the evening entirely for this worthy project. Being a regular subscriber of the Bulletin, he saw that the Memorial was encountering pecuniary difficulties, and offered to come to the rescue. His offer was immediately taken up by the Memorial Committee, which made extensive efforts to have the occasion a success.

Rev. Hotchkiss also stated that he has a son who will enter college next year, and who through the Bulletin became interested in Albright, and was anxious to come here and look the place over.

The committee wishes to make a public announcement of its sincere thanks to Rev. Hotchkiss for the aid and entertainment he afforded, and hopes he enjoyed his brief visit to Albright. The contribution which Rev. Hotchkiss made to the Memorial is one of real note, and should stimulate the Alumni of Albright so many whom have been indifferent to the project into action.

MINNICH TRANSFERRED FROM JUNIOR TO SENIOR CLASS

Dr. Gobble, Evaluating Credits, Finds There Are Enough For New Classification

Eugene Minnich has recently been transferred from the Junior to the Senior Class. When he came to Albright at the beginning of the second semester Minnich was classified as a Junior, because the credits then offered were only enough to rate him as a third year man. However since then Dr. Gobble has received additional credits and after evaluating them finds that they are sufficient for him to be classed as a Senior. Minnich is a candidate for the A. B. degree.

HELP THE MOHN MEMORIAL!*Editorial.

For some time we have been watching the girls of Mohn Hall struggle under a great undertaking. Perhaps we have been watching in a manner too non-partisan, for the committee of the Mohn Memorial Fund needs our concerted help to finish their project by the end of this year. As we understand it, the Fund lacks just one hundred dollars to purchase the piano, despite the fact that almost that amount has been contributed or earned since last September.

It seems that somewhere interest is wanting, and it certainly isn't in the committee or those who have so willingly given their aid in this worthy project. But surely it is advisable to urge everyone to remember the Mohn Memorial Fund in a helpful way before Commencement time. Must this splendid dedication be delayed another year? We know that next year's Seniors were Freshmen during Mrs. Mohn's last term of service with us, and to give the fund into their charge means that the present committee has failed to accomplish their end due to lack of support from the students, alumni, and friends of the college.

Now, however, we propose to be as optimistic as possible and predict that, with hearty good-will and best support, both moral and material, the Mohn Memorial Fund will prosper thru the successful endeavors of the committee as to be able to place the piano by Commencement. Let all Albrightians answer this appeal and prove their interest in such a worthy cause as this one, for every quarter, nickel, or dollar means success.

EXERCISES*Editorial.

The fine, warm, spring weather has brought with it the spring Sports. The ball team is daily going thru their drills on the athletic field, couples are seen playing catch, throwing the discs, long walks are taken, and every where an effort is being made to get back into shape after a long winter of comparative inactivity. And now eyes are being turned to the tennis courts and hoping that soon work will be begun in getting them in shape for use.

Tennis is a first class game and is truly the most popular and best sport of all for the majority of our students. More participants in it than in any other one sport. It is the only one sport. It is the only real exercising activity that many fellows and girls indulge in. Lacking the physical training classes, tennis fills the gap very well for those who can secure the use of the courts.

It is a game that is just as much fun for the beginner as the adept player, and there is no limit to the skill that may be acquired by playing it. Tennis is most conducive to good sportsmanship, to consideration and courtesy toward an opponent, a fact which in the minds of some has branded it as effeminate, but really these qualities make a gentleman. When wishing to play only two persons are necessary, so making it easy to play at any time provided a court can be secured. No one who has played will question tennis as exercise. In spite of the poor condition of our courts during the playing seasons and the fact that there are only two courts available the merits of the game have caused more to play it than any other game on the campus.

Tennis, the most deserving, happens to be the least supported activity on the campus. Should there not be more than two courts? Or should the two we now have at least be well kept? Let the student body and the faculty get together and see that tennis is given a fair shake.
