The master of ceremonies was Anthony D'Apolito. Jerome Lengel, in charge of the affair, expressed disappointment in the number of contestants and urged the students to show a greater interest in next year's show.

Martorana Wins Kelchner Prize In Contest

Jerome J. Martorana, '56, won first prize of $15 Wednesday night in the annual Kelchner Oratorical Contest held in White Chapel.

Second prize of $10 was awarded to Lucy R. Schuman, '57, and third prize of $5 was awarded to William T. Curley, '57. Judges were Dr. John B. Douds, Clyde A. Harding and Dr. Samuel B. Shirk.

Speaking on the general topic "Predictions for the Future," Martorana said he was a "pessimistic optimist." He cited reasons for both a bright future and a dark future. He made generalized predictions about man, science and government.

"Man's progress is on a horizontal plane while science's progress is on a vertical plane," Martorana said.

Lester J. McMackin Jr., '57, was chairman. Other contestants were Jan A. Musser, Ruth E. F. Hotz and C. Jonathan Kurtz, all '57, and John E. Sudol Jr., '54.

Each of the participants was elected from speech classes taught by Mrs. Annadora V. Shirk and Benjamin E. Brown.

At 6:00 p. m. a banquet will be served in Krause Hall to the parents and friends of students. Robert Brown, '56, will act as Master of Ceremonies. Dean George W. Walton will give the invocation and Dr. Harry V. Masters will address the group on behalf of the faculty.

Thompson Will Be Soloist

Richard Smoker will play a piano solo, followed by a soprano solo by Miss Jean M. Thompson. Her selection will be "Gloria," Buzza-Peccia. The combined choirs will then sing "O Love Divine," Thompson; "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings," Brahms and "Praise the Lord," Franck. The program will continue with the piano duet, "Marchi," (Love for Three Oranges) Prokofieff.

The next four numbers of the program will be given by the glee club. The group will sing "With Love My Heart Is Ringing," Hassler; "Madame Jeanette," Murray; "On the Trail," Grofe and "We Kiss in the Shadow," (King and I). Another two-piano duet will be played, entitled "Eugen Onegin," Tchaikowsky. The festival will conclude with the combined choirs singing "I Believe," Wilson; "Anywhere I Wander," and "Wonderful Copenhagen," both by Hans Christian Andersen.

Notice

Schedules of examination dates are now available in the Registrar's Office.

I-F Council Discusses Plans

At the last meeting of the Inter-Fraternity Council the question of whether a special Inter-Fraternity weekend could be held some time after Christmas holidays was discussed.

The proposal outlined the possibility of having a special dance the Friday night of the weekend, with individual fraternity house parties on the next night.

Also discussed was the possibility of establishing formal rushing rules for all fraternities on campus.

At the next meeting of I-F Council on Monday, May 17, election of officers for the coming year will take place.

Chess Team Enters Triangular Match

Two Albright Chess teams will participate in a triangular chess tournament with Elizabethtown and Gettysburg Colleges at Harrisburg tomorrow.

Six members will leave at noon to take part in the first such tournament the club has ever entered, announced Adolph Butkys, president.

Commencement Exercises To Be Outside

At the last meeting of the senior class, it was decided that commencement exercises will be held outside, as is customary.

Jack Fetterman, senior class president, announced that all seniors who have not paid their class dues are requested to pay them before buying tickets for the senior dinner-dance, which will be held at Galen Hall.

Hats Off To The Boys

Quite often in the discussions which come up around campus, the question of Albright's dying school spirit is brought up. It is pointed out that many of our sports have poor attendance, and that fraternities often are more interested in competing with each other than in Albright's competing with other schools.

In opposition to this train of thought, we would like to cite the example of the cooperation between fraternities, sororities, and independents which was apparent in organizing and carrying out plans for the recent Mardi Gras. Anyone who attended the fair knows that it was a big success. Intra-mural competition helped make it a success. Naturally, each group wanted its booths and shows to be the biggest and the best, but everyone was even more anxious that the Mardi Gras as a whole be a success for Albright.

The teamwork between fraternities, sororities and independents was not only demonstrated the afternoon and night of the Mardi Gras, but also the next morning. When a few stalwarts stirred from their beds at 7:00 a. m., fully expecting to spend a good six hours straightening up the grounds, they witnessed a rousing example of school spirit. Suddenly car loads of boys and groups of three and four began to arrive at the "Fair Grounds." In an hour, that lot was cleaner than it had been before the Mardi Gras. At one time, there were twenty-eight boys working, representing the independents and all but one fraternity.

Cooperation like that is what makes us proud of our Albright school spirit.

When In Doubt, Don't

When are we proudest of our campus? Parents' Day, of course. The grounds are at their prettiest, the weather is (usually) beautiful, and the Albrightians are on their best behavior.

This last point bears a little inspection. Just what is our "best behavior," and why aren't we on it all the time? The answer to that is fairly obvious. We "crazy mixed-up college kids" have our own codes and customs. To us, they are all right. They don't really vary much from the codes and customs of our parents, but they just look a little different.

The thing to remember in presenting a good impression of Albright to all the visitors we will have on campus this weekend is that we're going to be judged mostly on standards of behavior that may be different from our own.

So "best behavior" means that we must look at our speech and actions the same way that our parents—and other peoples' parents—are going to see them. None of us needs to be told what the right things to do are. We're in college, and if we don't know by now, we never will. We just need to remember that expressions that our set uses so frequently that we do not even consider them slang may jolt visitors.

As Albrightians, we want to collectively put our best foot forward for Albright. Let's all THINK before we speak or act this weekend.

On Lack Of Imagination

Spring is sprung,
The grass is riz;
Wonder where all
Our ideas is.

Patron's-Eyc View Of Midway: Y'All Done Came

To suit your taste, whether for burlesque, water-balloon throwing, a charcoal hotdog, or seeing "Mimi, Fifi, and Tietge," all of the fraternities, sororities and many other campus organizations banded together for Albright's big Mardi Gras night.

"Real crazy, fabulous, gone" says that well known professor of music, Bruce Jug McLeod who played for the APO show during the Mardi Gras. That pretty well sums up the feeling of everyone who attended Albright's annual fair held last Friday night.

There were several interesting incidents that this author was able to note. One was that several of the stands should have been arranged differently. At one time, KTX was french frying a basketball and charcoal a baseball.

Who is this girl calling Lenny "papa?" My goodness, did you see those pretty legs? That was a dollar well spent! I was walking along the midway when I spied a certain professor throwing darts. He was doing rather well, so I followed him. You know, he's a dangerous man to have around. With three darts he broke three balloons, won an ash tray on the second pitch and looped a leg three times out of four. To you, dear Professor, I thank you for a real gone look!

Did you ever wonder what really happens when the Merner Pfeiffer SPCPM* cult gets together? Well, meet this week's Dandy Lion, Curt Zillhardt, president of Skull and Bones Society, who can let the rest of us in on the difference between a centrifuge and a centipede and also many other mysteries of that Science Hall.

Curt's four years at Albright have been spent looking for paramedica, watching tadpoles, tracing genes, and coddling microscopes. If you have not already guessed, he is a pre-veterinarian student and would just not be the same without the above and (lest you...)

Much Ado About Nothing

Spring . . . that "sad, mad, bad" time of year, when a hillside becomes Prof Reppert's classroom . . . when Voltaire, Shakespeare, and a lost inhabitant or two of Miss Raeppe's domain wince just a bit at the audible silence of the library . . . when the sap's really running in Maple Lane—in the direction of les jeunes filles . . . and then, the deluge, unfortunately not apres nous . . . term papers, Mardi Gras, May Day, fraternity and sorority weekends, Graduate Records, finals, job-hunting, ad infinitum (not to mention forever) . . .

Some took last weekend to "think it all out" (and maybe to discover just where they're going in such a hurry) at Y Retreat. Yours truly found a few answers at a bargain table in the book section of a local department store. And thereby hangs a tale (or a tail—if you're one of our opossum reading friends).

Unabashed Plagiarism Dept.
We can't remember when these found verses so timely as we've from "Pencil in the Air," by one Mr. S. Hoffenstein.

For example, how about this quote to describe the current TV circus starring the disappointed evangelist and witch-hunter from Wisconsin . . .

"What is so rare as a day in June?
Decent behavior

From a popular savior."
—or this comment on "Progress:"
"They'll hop to the moon and skip to the stars,
But what'll stay put are the lids on jars.

The mighty telescope looks far,
But finds no place to park a car."

And of course for spring and love and that curious melancholia that sulphur and molasses can't get at:

"When in the course of time you see,
In place of an illusion, me,
Please remember that you cozen'd
Me into the man I wasn't.
He by that time, being dead,
Give your heart to me, instead;
You may find, to your surprise,
A faint resemblance in the eyes!"

Thank to Doubleday and Company. Address all suits to Me c/o "The Albrightian," corner of 12th and 13th Streets, Reading, Pa. (This may disillusion the crass materialist in the crowd, but the cost of said volume was $3.00, including tax.)

P. S. To the non-poetry lovers in our midst: If you're still with us, please excuse this column and chalk it up to spring—that "sad, mad, bad" time (what's the rest of the line? Oh, yes—) "but, oh, how it was sweet!" . . . Thank R.B. Unquote!—J.F.Z.

Exchange News

From the Muhlenberg Weekly:
Lover, by Dave Miller
Of course I love you, darling,
I've told you that before!
You know I think of you alone,
How can you ask me more?

What do you mean, the other girls? You're different, they're the same I'm hurt to think you doubted me. By the way, what IS your name?

From the Boston University News:
Point of View by Joe Driscoll

" . . . The female animal has a natural talent for becoming possessed with the ridiculous. In a department store, she'll buy anything that is not nailed down as long as the tag, SALE, is affixed. And if the dollar price is reduced to $3.98 or $10.98, it makes no difference. She wants it.

"Can you imagine that cute little blonde as president of the U.S.? At a conference table she would probably trade Nevada and California for Bermuda because so many American women want to honeymoon there . . ."

Now there's the thought of the week!

Retreat Weekend Hits The Spot

Thirty-two Albrightians, plus Miss Benninger and Dr. and Mrs. Douds—five cars—and another Y Retreat was under way last Saturday morning. A brief but hectic ride, and the gang piled out in front of the big Blue Mountain Lodge.

Lunch on the porch was first on the schedule, and to the starving retreaters, box lunches tasted almost good enough to eat.

Rev. Charles M. Fitz of the Mt. Penn Presbyterian Church next talked to the group about "Optimism versus Pessimism" in an informal afternoon session.

For rest and recuperation from the rigors of life academic, the gang headed for a nearby lake. Canoes and rowboats provided a background for several harmonica concerts, while the dock served as an improvised sun-bathing pavilion. A few hardy souls displayed a fine, although slightly blue, swimming form. Volleyball, ping-pong, archery and badminton shattered the last clinging vestige of

Baseball Team Defeated Twice, Down Dutchmen

by Dave Widland

Congratulations Are In Order

Congratulations are in order for two present Albright coaches, Eddie Gulian and Gene Shirk, and for Bobby Hicks, ex-Lion mentor, all of whom figured in the news this week. Gulian was named to serve on a committee to pick the Middle Atlantic District baseball champs this spring, while Shirk is to serve on a similar committee to pick next season's basketball champions. Hicks at present is head coach of the Muhlenberg College baseball team. His proteges are belting the ball at a .343 clip, a high average in any competition. Bobby has also accented the position of head football coach at Juniata College for next season. Congratulations to all three of you.

Intramurals

Last Monday the Pi Taus, behind the pitching of Lew Hallock, defeated the Kappas, 16-2, for the championship of the first half of the season. They will meet the winners of the second half in a playoff game to decide who will get the trophies.

More On Scholarships

It has been called to my attention that I made an error last week when I stated that it is the policy of the school not to give scholarships to baseball players. Actually, the school is limited by the Middle Atlantic District as to the amount of money that may be used to help athletes, the amount being in proportion to the enrollment. That is why schools such as Bucknell, Lafayette, and Gettysburg give out a much larger amount of scholarships than we do. Most money here is used for football players, for that is the sport that draws in the most revenue and has the greatest number of participants.

Diamondmen Seek Win Number Five Against Pirates

Albright College's baseball team, seeking to regain its winning stride, journeys to South Orange, New Jersey, tomorrow afternoon to take on Seton Hall University. Eddie McNeill, with two wins to his credit, is expected to hurl for the Lions, who have four wins and five losses so far. The Seton Hall starter is as yet unnamed.

During the 1952 season, the Pirates ended Albright's five-game winning streak, 12-4, while last year they edged the Lions, 2-1.

This will be the second of two games for coach Eddie Gulian's Lions this week. They met Muhlenberg, coached by Bobby Hicks, a former protege of Gulian, on Tuesday.

Thinclads Win Again

Coach Gene Shirk's track and field team scored their fourth straight win in dual meets by chalking up a convincing 75-51 win over Dickinson College last Wednesday; however, a powerful St. Joseph team put an end to Lion cinder domination by outscoring Albright 85 2/3 to 45 1/3 with Juniata taking 23 points in the first triangular meet of the season.

Tuesday the Lions beat Lebanon Valley's Dutchmen 102 1/2-17 1/2 in a dual meet on the home cinders. Tomorrow afternoon the Shirkmen will engage in another tough triangular meet with Bucknell University and Ursinus College as their guests. The third and last home meet should prove to be a real battle and the victor probably will be determined by the points acquired by Ursinus, since Bucknell and Albright appear evenly matched. The Lions outscored Muhlenberg 81-45 and last week Bucknell U. downed the same foes by an 84-42 margin.

Against Dickinson the Roaring Lions rolled up twelve first places and made a clean sweep of firsts in the track events. The Red Devils took first and second in the pole vault and made a clean sweep of three places in the broad jump. St. Joseph's Hawks showed real class by breaking three Albright track and field records while they rolled up nine first places and two other ties for first. Pace setter Capt. Jim Croke scored the only Albright first by taking the 220 yard low hurdles in 25.8 seconds, his best time effort of the year.

Croke took three first places against the Red Devils for 15 points in the high and low hurdles and a 5 feet 10 inches effort in the high jump. Ken Greenawald took the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Greenawald's time in the 100 was 10.2 seconds which was the same time turned in by Don Byrnes of St. Joseph in winning the 100 in the triangular meet.

Bill Shirk also registered a double in the Dickinson meet by nabbing the one and two mile runs for the third time this year. Rudy Becker captured the 880 yard run and Mahlon Frankhouser took the 440. Bob Krize was the third Lion to register a double. Krize tossed the shot put 42 feet 1/2 inch, and the javelin 154 feet 7 inches. Jack Huntzinger won the discus with a 131 feet heave.

Jim Troutman registered a tie for first in the pole vault in the triangular meet, and Croke did likewise in the high jump. Krize captured two second places in the javelin and shot put and a third in the discus. Huntzinger placed second in the discus.

In the track events Hal Kretzing finished second in the 440 and tied for fourth in the 220 yard dash with Jack Fetterman. Shirk took third in the two mile event and fourth in the mile. Croke finished second in the high hurdles and Becker finished third in the 880.

The summaries follow: 100-1, Don Byrnes, St. Joseph's; 2, Joe Huver, St. Joseph's; 3, Ken Greenawald, Albright, and Edward Doherty, St. Joseph's, 0:10.2. 220-1, Philip McClosky, St. Joseph's; 2, Byrnes, St. Joseph's; 3, Huver, St. Joseph's; 4, John Fetterman and Harold Kretzing, Albright, 0:22.6. 440-1, McClosky, St. Joseph's; 2, Kretzing, Albright; 3, Manion, St. Joseph's; 4, Mahlon Frankhouser, Albright, 0:50.5. 880-1, Frank McLaughlin, St. Joseph's; 2, Conrad Wrause, St. Joseph's; 3, Rudolph Becker, Albright; 4, Robert Flory, Juniata, 1:55.8 (meet record, previous record 2:00.2, by Corey, St. Joseph's, 1947). MILE-1, Krause, St. Joseph's; 2, Thomas Duffy, St. Joseph's; 3, James McDade, St. Joseph's; 4, William Shirk, Albright.

Leopards, Bisons Beat Albright, McNeill Gets Win

The Leopards of Lafayette downed Albright's baseball team at Easton last Tuesday, 12-0. The loss was Albright's fifth in nine starts, leaving Lafayette with their eighth win of the season. Four pitchers, Goldman, Pollock, Ridell and Krick saw mound duty for Albright. Goldman was charged with the loss. Howie Fredricks of Lafayette led the Leopards' attack with three of his team's thirteen hits. Tony D'Apollito paced the Lions with two safeties out of their five hits.

Last Friday the Bucknell Bisons handed Albright their sixth loss for the season, 12-1. Again four Albright pitchers were tagged for 14 hits. Dan Richards went the route, surrendering four hits and fanning 18 batters. Starter Duane Goldman, who hurled the first two innings for Albright was labeled with the defeat.

Saturday Albright defeated Lebanon Valley, 5-3, for their fifth triumph. Dragon's three hits paced the Lion attack.

Ed McNeill and Duane Goldman shared the pitching spot for the Lions, McNeill going the first six innings for the victory. Flawless fielding by the Lions helped their pitcher hold the Dutchmen to six blows while they collected 11 hits. The Dutchmen of L. V. scored first when a walk, fielder's choice, and singles by Dick Shorer got a run off McNeill. They tied the count in their half of the third on another walk, a sacrifice, and a single by Larry Mentzer.

The Lions went out in front to stay in the seventh when Chris Wenger, hitting for McNeill, singled and took second on Mentzer's overthrow. Dragon's walk moved him to third, and he scored on Capt. Tony D'Apollito's fly to center.

Dragon added the insurance run in the ninth when he got his third hit with two down and came in on D'Apollito's long triple.

Netmen Drop Four Matches

Hoping to recover from four straight losses the Albright tennis squad began this week's warfare by meeting Muhlenberg and Franklin and Marshall on the home court on Tuesday and Thursday. Tomorrow the Lion netmen will travel to South Orange, New Jersey, to take on Seton Hall. Last year Albright downed the Pirates 8-1 to acquire its first win of the year, however, F & M gave the team a 7-2 loss earlier that year.

The Leopards of Lafayette and the Bisons of Bucknell duplicated the identical shutout scores administered the opponents to the Lion golf teams by downing the tenniseers 9-0 and 7-0. Albright's netmen acquired their fourth straight loss against two wins when Ursinus scored a 6-3 win at Collegeville on Saturday.

Jack Rosen and Johnny Schiavo copped victories in the singles against Ursinus over Ted Radomski and Charley Kenney respectively. Johnny Schiavo and Mike Daugherty teamed to capture their second doubles win of the year against three defeats. In the six matches thus far Rosen and Schiavo have compiled a four and two record.

Next week the Red and White will play hosts to Moravian and Juniata on Tuesday and Saturday, and they will travel to Gettysburg on Thursday.

Busy Week Ahead

Albright College's spring sports are in for another busy period this week with no less than eleven events being scheduled in baseball, track, tennis, and golf. One of the feature events of the week will be the golf team's journey to Huntington to compete in the Middle Atlantic States Championships tomorrow.

The Lions will meet Bucknell and Ursinus in a triangular track meet here tomorrow, while the baseball and tennis teams travel to South Orange, N. J., to tangle with Seton Hall. Action will be resumed Tuesday when the netmen and tossers take on Moravian at home while the thinclads journey to Gettysburg for a triangular meet with Haverford and Gettysburg. On Thursday the baseball and tennis squads travel to Gettysburg.

The baseball array will try to improve on its current record of five wins and six defeats while the golfers are winless in seven starts. The track team has been most impressive so far, winning five while losing only one. This week's schedule: Tomorrow: baseball, Seton Hall, away; track, Bucknell and Ursinus, home; tennis, Seton Hall, away; golf, MASC championship, away.

Tuesday: baseball, Moravian, home; track, Haverford and Gettysburg, away; tennis, Moravian, home.

Late Sports News

Last Tuesday Albright's cindermen defeated the Lebanon Valley College track squad, 102 1/2 to 17 1/2, in a dual meet at Albright. Henry Greenawald, Jim Croke, Hal Kretzing, Rudy Becker, Bill Shirk, Bob Krize, and Jack Huntzinger all scored first places for Albright.

At Kelchur Field, the Muhlenberg College baseball team defeated the Gulianmen, 3-1, by virtue of a two-hitter hurled by Tony Saddler of Hillside, New Jersey. Tom Pollock was tagged with the loss. Revenge was sweet for Bobby Hicks, Mule coach, who is a former protege of coach Gulian.

Linksmen Yet To Win Match

Coach Paul Matten's unhappy cuffers entered this week's action still searching for their first win after six consecutive defeats. The Lion golfers lost 8-1 to Bucknell for the seventh loss on Monday at the Berkshire Country Club and took on St. Joseph's away yesterday. Tomorrow the linksmen will travel to Juniata to compete in the Middle Atlantic States Conference Championships at Juniata.

Albright suffered its fifth and sixth matches via the shutout route by 9-0 and 7-0 scores to Juniata and Lafayette. The team consisting of Ernie Broadbeck, Jack Lewis, Mike Depaul, Bruce Mengel, Bill McHugh, and Joe Czutno failed to register a single victory against Juniata, and the first five failed to come through against Lafayette.

Jim Ferguson, Bill Parr, George DeGrace, John McDermond, and Al Wardell rolled up wins for the Leopards at the Northampton County Country Club.

Next week the Lion golfers will take on Moravian at home on Monday and LaSalle away on Thursday.

Classical Records Added To Library

The latest additions to the library are ten long-playing classical records, all classic theater guild performances. Included in the series are "Uncle Vanya," by Anton Chekhov, "The Way of the World," by William Congreve, and "All For Love" or "The World Well Lost," by John Dryden. This classic is an attempt "to rise above himself," and his play is considered to be a worthy piece of drama in its own right.

The fourth in the series is "She Stoops to Conquer," by Oliver Goldsmith. Others include "Ghosts" and "The Master," by Henrik Ibsen, and "Dr. Faustus," by Christopher Marlowe. "Dr. Faustus" is regarded as one of the greatest plays to emanate from the Elizabethan era, Shakespeare not excluded. "Lady Windermere's Fan," by Oscar Wilde, is perhaps truly representative of Wilde at his best, neither deeply philosophical nor unduly dramatic, but brilliant in its sparkling wit. The series concludes with "The Doctor In Spite of Himself," by Molieri, and "The Rivals," by Richard Brinsley Sheridan.

All the classics are adopted and directed by Elaine Carroll and Robert M. Culp, a veteran in the acts at the age of 22, studied at the University of Washington. He has played in, directed and/or produced 57 stage productions. Early in 1952 he was called to New York by Phillip Morris to co-star with June Allyson on their intercollegiate Acting Competition. He won 2,000 and a gold medal reading "the finest collegiate actor in America . . .," as well as the personal plaudits of Helen Hayes.

forget) those crazy "mixed-up" rats with which he and his colleagues have been working all semester.

Next to studying, of course, Curt likes nothing better than horseback riding, for which all his Sundays are reserved. Then, naturally, because he is a loyal Pi Tau Beta member, he finds time to participate in intra-mural sports and to help to put the lowly pledges through their paces. Curt is also a member of Delta Phi Alpha, honorary German fraternity, and was vice-president this year.

Now should you ever want to find him, you might try his home at 1254 Perkiomen Ave., his uncle's store at Kenhorst, the seven blocks between Albright and Reading High (where he deposits two lazy student teachers), or, of course, in one of the Merner Pfeiffer labs among the CHE2 stained equipment. But graduation day will not mean the last Curt will see of Bunsen burners, test tubes, and dissecting kits, for next year he will continue his education at the University of Pennsylvania where he will be cutting up cadavers instead of capers.

May 20 Date Set For S. S. Tests

Selective Service National Headquarters has announced that a special administration of the College Qualification Test will be given Thursday, May 20, for the benefit of students prevented by illness or other emergency from attending one of the regular tests given twice during the past year. May 20 is the last date upon which the College Qualification Test will be held during the present academic year.

Although applications post-marked May 10 or earlier will be accepted, students wishing to apply should obtain, complete, and mail their applications as soon as possible. Early filing will insure a test and other necessary supplies for the student at the center he selects or at a nearby center, according to Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the College Qualification Test.

When filling in the application, available at local Selective Service boards, the student is asked to cross out "April 22" opposite the space reading "Center No." and write in "May 20."

ice, and everyone was ready to function as a group.

A clang and a clatter announced dinner. Singing from table to table preceded dessert, and all hands lined up assembly line style to polish off the dishes. When the last dish towel had been hung up to dry, Rev. Fitz spoke on the second half of his topic to a now-united group, with the setting sun and deepening shadows adding a note of solemnity to the little service on the porch.

John and his guitar, songs around a campfire by the lake shore, reared dogs and marshmallows, and the forming of a friendship circle ended the evening.

Another clatter and clang woke everybody up Sunday morning. Before breakfast, a Galilean service was held by the lake. Ted Tietge preached from a boat anchored just off shore, while Mary Jane Wolfe, Lucy Schuman, John Bubel, and Paul Hetrick sang hymns from the boat. The rain that had been falling at the beginning of the service cleared up, and just as the voices of the quartet faded away, the sun came up over the lake.

After breakfast, there was free time for sports or studying or attempting to persuade Rev. Barth to postpone his religion 1b exam scheduled for the following week. Braving insects and poison ivy, a group hiked to a clearing in the woods, where Rev. Barth held a brief, impromptu worship service.

Fishing for wary catfish kept some people busy, while Laurie tried to pick up what turned out to her surprise to be a very live frog.

Following the noon meal, a communion service was held in the lodge. This service, in which a common cup of wine and piece of bread was shared by all, marked the climax of the retreat and will never be forgotten by any of those present.

Packing and squeezing all the retreaters back into the cars that had brought them ended the retreat.

Pi Gamma Mu will elect officers at the final meeting of the year to be held Thursday, May 13, at 7:30 p. m. in Selwyn Parlor.

Bids have been extended to six seniors: Robert Beller, Kenneth Bright, Andrew Janiszewski, Nancy Lou Walker, Jacqueline Zwoyer and Annjeannette Innis.

The six juniors who will receive bids are Frederick Ardito, William McHugh, James Rogers, Roland Roth, Jeanne Walker and James Zaferes.

Delta Phi Alpha

Eleven new members were initiated and officers elected for the honorary German fraternity, Delta Phi Alpha, at a recent banquet meeting.

Gordon R. Anke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph G. Anke, 1308 Orchard Road, was chosen president to succeed Phyllis Gruber, of Robesonia.

Speaking on the German school system, Margaret B. Wieschebrink, at present undergoing a trainee program at the Berkshire Knitting Mills, was guest of honor.

The new members include Rodney Bentz, 226 Reading Avenue, Shillington, who was elected treasurer; Shirley Schaeffer, 535 N. Ninth Street, secretary-elect; David Blecker, 1613 N. 11th Street, John Delp, 1214 Spring Street; Gene Schaeffer, 349 Linden Street; Helen Schoener, 4300 Seventh Avenue, Temple; Robert Reeser, R. D. 2; Winifred Neuklis, Tamaqua; Robert Erb, Boyertown; Gerald Zaid, Philadelphia; Dorothea Lang, Japan.

Henry Greenwald, 4238 Seventh Avenue, Temple, was chosen vice president of the fraternity. German poems, written by the new members, were read by Dr. Gerrit Memming, head of the German department.

A book was presented to Miss Gruber for her outstanding work in German during the past year.

The banquet was held at Reeser's Restaurant, on the Pottsville Pike.

Pi Delta Epsilon

Pi Delta Epsilon, national non-ordinary journalism fraternity, inducted four at a meeting last night in the Alumni Room of the library. At that time election of next year's officers were held.

Those inducted include Jack Lewis and Patricia Weiherer, '55, and Rachel Kaebnick and Helen Schoener, '56.

K.T.X.

K.T.X., the fraternity of pre-ministerial students, is planning its annual spring banquet which will be held this year on May 20.

A guest speaker will be asked to speak after the dinner. J. Robert Miller, a sophomore pre-ministerial student, is in charge of making arrangements for the banquet and inviting the guest speaker. At the dinner meeting, the officers for the next year will be formally installed.

Barrett To Speak

James Barrett, a senior from Washington, D. C., will speak at the Sunday evening vesper service on May 9. Barrett, who has recently completed his student teaching, served as student council president this year. Throughout his four years at Albright he has been active in many of the campus organizations.

Leading the devotional service on Wednesday, May 12, will be Brooks Holtzman, a member of the freshman class. Both the Sunday and Wednesday evening services, which will be held in Sylvan Chapel, will begin at 7:00. These half-hour devotions are open to everyone.
