

150 Delegates Expected For N. S. A. Convention

Students Plan Campus Drive For Gym Goal

Executive Committee Outlines Campaign

An executive committee of eight student leaders met yesterday to discuss the details of organizing a campaign among the student body of Albright to raise pledges toward aiding the goal for funds to build the $700,000 physical education structure which is expected to be started in spring of 1950. A plan of personal solicitation of students by teams of workers under team captains to begin immediately after Christmas recess was studied.

Those students comprising the steering body are the four class presidents: Frank Bird, seniors; Jay Shenk, juniors; Vince Gentile, sophomores; and Donald Bauman, freshmen; the Daymen and Daywomen prexies, John Werley and Vivian MacLachie; The Albrightian editor, Robert Hoffman, and the Student Council president, Robert M. White.

On Tuesday the presidents and representatives from the above organizations, fraternities, sororities, The Cue, Dorm men and women held an organizational meeting at which time the proposed campus campaign was outlined as to its system, timing, purpose and co-ordination with the general drive that will begin in 1950. Examples of drives held on other campuses and their success were given by Mr. Frank Robinson. White presided over the question, answer and discussion period.

McGaw-Knox Delight Crowd With 'Peer Gynt' Portrayal

Contrasting greatly to the customary type of entertainers, a dramatic duo, Baldwin McGaw and Emma Knox, portrayed Ibsen's "Peer Gynt," December 8, in the second Albright Cultural Program.

The outstanding element of the whole performance lay in the unique type of presentation, for to have held a usually restless audience in such rapt attention, must have, in the first place, demanded a marked degree of ability. Emma Knox, especially, whose roles included a wide divergence of characters and personalities, stands out when we remember that at no time did her audience lose their attentiveness. Peer's mother, Ase, a devoted mother often greatly troubled over her immature, uncontrollable son, reversed her character repeatedly in the person of Emma Knox.

From the pure and innocent Salve, who left her parents for Peer's love, to the troll's enticing daughter, the actress also carried her audience, getting the desired response throughout. When an emotional peak was reached in the scene where Ase dies, anyone who regarded Emma Knox with skepticism up to that point, must certainly have been convinced of her profundity in playing various roles.

Mr. McGaw in the role of Peer,

Library Adds 239 Books During Past Month

During the month of November 239 books were added to the Alumni Memorial Library. The greatest number of books, 59, was added in the field of literature, additions to the field of social sciences, 38, ranking second.

First Student EUB Assembly Planned At Otterbein

The first student conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church will be held at Otterbein College, Westerville, Ohio, on Wednesday and Thursday, December 28 and 29. Albright College will be represented by Joanne Schenkemeyer and Jack Snook, Y presidents.

One of the chief aims of the conference is an interchange of methods and ideas which will help to improve the effectiveness of the campus religious groups among the students attending the 11 institutions of higher learning sponsored by the E.U.B. denomination. A growing consciousness of the unity of students of the E.U.B. Church is sought.

The delegates should receive inspiration and spiritual enrichment, so that when they return to their own campuses they will feel a greater dedication to their particular responsibilities. It is also hoped that a more unified and larger world outreach may be conceived.

Dr. J. Gordon Howard, President of Otterbein College, will serve as presiding officer at the plenary sessions. The worship will be directed by Dr. H. R. Heininger, President of the Evangelical Theological Seminary, Naperville, Ill.

Workshop periods will cover state college and university groups, Y organizations, Student Fellowship groups and full-time Christian service and Seminary groups.

This is the first conference of its kind since the merger of the former United Brethren in Christ and Evangelical denominations in 1946.

Albright's Host N.S.A. Committee

Student Life Committee Plans Leadership Training Course

A course in Leadership Training will be offered next semester to all interested students, according to a plan being worked out by the Student Life Committee of the Albright chapter of the National Student Association.

The group will meet each Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The aims of the course are to train leaders at Albright to be better citizens of the future; to acquaint student leaders with the theories and practices of leadership and to expedite operation of campus activities; to provide continuity of leadership; to propagate Albright's ideals; and to make intelligent followers as well as leaders.

An address by Pres. Harry V. Masters on the meaning of leadership will open the series. At this same meeting Robert M. White, president of Student Council, will lead a discussion.

The second meeting will feature motion pictures on parliamentary procedure. A discussion of this topic will be given by Prof. John W. Khouri at the third session, which will also include practical demonstrations. The Rev. Eugene H. Barth will address the fourth session on leading a group discussion, the role of chairman and the setting up of committees.

Mrs. Shirk to Talk

As the highlight of the fifth meeting of the class, Mrs. Annadora Vesper Shirk will talk on public speaking. Various practical details will be considered at the sixth meeting, which will include talks by Miss Marie Kleppinger and Prof. Clyde Harding on the methods of setting dates, scheduling rehearsals, mimeographing, the college calendar and the relations between organizations; by Miss Anna Benninger on proper procedures connected with the Dean's and Registrar's offices; by Dean Ruth E. Williams on chaperones; and by Mr. H. Eugene Pierce on the work of his staff and Union Hall.

The Y presidents, Jack Snook and Joanne Schenkemeyer, will tell what they have learned about channels and "red tape" involved in securing such things as food and decorations, at the seventh meeting. The eighth session will feature a talk by Mr. Charles Gordon on finances, the budget, relations with the Treasurer's Office, the allotment system and methods of book-keeping.

Judicial functions will be discussed at the ninth meeting, either by Ken Schwartz, of Swarthmore College, or by the Honorable Warren K. Hess. Mr. Lester L. Stabler will present the methods of creating

Lions Trim Hawks In 50-46 Battle

An inspired Albright quintet, led by the 17 point effort of tricky Lee Cappel, fought its way to a thrilling 50-46 upset victory over the highly touted Hawks from St. Joseph's last Wednesday night on the Northwest Junior High floor.

The win wasn't assured until the final gun sounded, for the desperate Ferguson five put on a last minute spurge to narrow the 45-35 third period margin held by the Lions. Paul Senesky, star center of the St. Joe machine, collected ten of his sixteen points in the last half drive.

With the first period score a 9-9 deadlock, Cappel and Bobby Ruoff gained 13 and six points respectively before the initial half ended with Albright in the lead, 25-23.

The Hawks came on the floor with a rush for the second half play, but were promptly rebuffed by the bucket-dunking of Eddie Anlian, who maked six of his ten points. In the home stretch Danny Beiber, Ossie Mogel, who replaced Cappel, and Ruoff staved off the final Hawk drive, headed by Tommy Frein and Phil Brady.

Heckman Named Radio Workshop Student Director

The Albright College Public Relations Office has announced that Nan Heckman, a junior, will be the new student director of the college Radio Workshop when it begins its new series of weekly radio dramas on Tuesday, January 17, over station WEEU, Reading, Miss Heckman will succeed W. Walter Hayum, who recently resigned in order to give more time to editing the senior Cue and academic work. Art Wade, a member of the radio staff, will act as assistant director.

At present Miss Heckman is radio news editor of The Albrightian, which position she will relinquish at the beginning of the second semester to assume her new position. She is a member of the Phi Beta Mu sorority and has been on the workshop staff for three years.

The Radio Workshop last week concluded a series of 10 plays, produced in successive weeks and supervised by Public Relations. Try-outs were held during the last month's broadcasts.

Jay Shenk Resigns DP Chairmanship

Jay Shenk has resigned as chairman of the D.P. Committee due to his additional duties in the Y.M.C.A., and Student Council last Tuesday approved Pete Bohren as the new committee head. The motion to consider bringing new D.P. students to the campus was withdrawn since a majority of members felt it more beneficial to continue aid, for some time to come, to European students already on campus.

Council approved the recommendation of the Social Committee to hold an informal dinner for the February graduates. The next Friday night dance will be January 13 and will be sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association.

... McGaw-Knox presented a dramatization of "Peer Gynt" in the December 8, Chapel as the second in the Albright Cultural Program series.

though his part demanded less versatility, succeeded admirably in his job. Governed only by impulse, Peer's character was ably brought out, even down to his wild, animal-like gestures, indicative of this quality of character. Though some may remark that the apparent age of Mr. McGaw was distracting, we can only say that it took far less imagination to think him young than it did to appreciate the play. One needed only to observe Mr. McGaw's gleaming eyes and nimble actions to picture the young man Ibsen created.

If there is anything destructive to be said of the play, it would certainly concern the content of the revision, for all apparent reaction to the players on the campus was favorable.

We Welcome You, NSA

For the second straight year Albright College will be proud host over the week-end to the Regional Assembly (Pennsylvania) of the National Student Association. We welcome to our campus delegates from more than fifty state colleges and universities. What they accomplish here can be of much benefit to the students they represent and Albright students as a whole. With the help of our local college committee we are being geared to realizing the actual and potential advantages derived from having an organized agency for voicing student opinion and ideas on a local, regional and national scale through NSA. A lot has been done and more remains to be done in the future.

From the Staff

After last classes tomorrow (and maybe before) Albrightians will be trudging home to spend an enjoyable three-week vacation from hard work. Some by necessity will take more hard work (term papers and reviews) along with them. By January 4, 1950, they will renew their college activities, ready to meet the challenges of the New Year.

To the student body, the faculty and the administration, the entire staff of The Albrightian wishes the warmest Holiday Greetings. May the true spirit of the season prevail in your lives.

Ghosts From Christmas Past

Once upon a time, there was a college; it's name was Albright, and it published a paper called The Albrightian. Yes, we've got records in print of The Albrightian that used to be, and in the Christmas issues for past years, we get a glimpse of what the students of this institution of higher learning were doing.

The 1933 issue had a prophetic note in it. The annual Senior Christmas program was presented in the form of a broadcast, and believed it or not, "The broadcast was concluded with the children's hour in television." The 1934 Christmas calendar featured a Christmas Cantata by the Y's and a fire-side hour in the dining room. Maybe that's a real fireplace, after all.

In '35, the German club presented a Christmas play, "Ein Weihnachtspiel Aus Alten Zeit", directed by Dr. Gerrit Memming. This was not incidental, by the way, for in the 1939 issue, we find the front page headline "Annual German Play to be Presented."

1936 was the hundredth anniversary of Selwyn Hall. The music department took top honors during that Christmas season, presenting the Cantata, "Glory to God", conducted by Rob Roy Perry the composer. Oh yes, there was a senior that year that was elected "All-Around Student", and "Most Likely to Succeed". His name was Eugene Barth.

The 1938 Albrightian for Christmas showed the Domino Club working on Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night". The faculty had just presented "Fireman, Save My Child" featuring Prof. Harding as the villainous villain. The dean's mid-semester report showed that 95% of the seniors had received all quality grades. My, how we've changed!

In 1941, we were at war and the WSSF received $85 for their fund. There was a feature article called "Pacifism Still". For Christmas, German students presented a cantata, "The Virgin Mary," under the general direction of Dr. Memming.

The 1942 Christmas issue had an inquiring reporter column with the question, "How do you feel about going to eight o'clock chapel?" One illustrious student answered, "I wouldn't miss it for anything—I need the sleep." Approximately ten boys and ten girls attended the annual children's Christmas party. At the formal dinner, the lighting of the Yule log was instituted as a custom. Custom?

Professors and students were leaving to join the armed forces and the pages of The Albrightian were filled with accounts of missing men and imprisonments of Albrightians that were still familiar names on campus. The September issue showed 120 on the service flag.

Now it's another season of cantatas and parties and holly and pine branches. We're doing things on a bigger scale now, but the Peace-On-Earth part is still resting on the old foundations. Shouldn't that be done on a bigger scale too?

Dandy Lion

If you chanced to see a little brunette streak past you this week laden with papers, train schedules, committees, and term papers, you were fortunate, because this week's Dandy, Doris Chanin, is at this moment submerged in the Fifth Pennsylvania Regional N.S.A. Convention which starts here today. The vice-presidency of this region's N.S.A. organization has been Doris' major occupation this year, and she has ably represented Albright at two National Congresses. Albright's position in N.S.A. is an accomplishment of which Doris can be truly proud.

Of course, there are a few other duties that this particular gal from New Yawk manages to fit into her over-stuffed schedule. Student Council has, in its vice president, a representative of the student body who is vitally interested in their welfare, and who will see to it that the organization is more adequate, or bust!

Doris is managing editor of The Albrightian, vice president of her sorority, Pi Alpha Tau, treasurer of Sigma Tau Delta, and an active member of the Y, having been a cabinet member for two years. You've seen her on stage in Domino productions, and the times you didn't see her, she was back-stage working just as hard. Pi Gamma Mu and I.R.C. also fall on the list.

During the twenty-fifth and twenty-sixth hours of the day, we find our heroine studying her sociology and English, major and minor respectively. Future plans are indefinite. "There's so much to do," she said as she ran past, and she was talking about the future. Doris is looking over applications to the Columbia University Graduate School, and also occasionally mentions studying art upon graduation, art being just a hobby now. She graces the dormitory with short concerts of "interpretive" dancing now and then, and her record collection is one of the few cultural elements in Selwyn Hall.

All kinds of talents lie within this small Dandy, and if her accomplishments at Albright are any indication of what we can expect of this 1950 graduate, you can look for her anywhere from the White House to Carnegie Hall.

LIONS, RAMS TO SCRAP TOMORROW NIGHT

KTX Topples Pi Taus, 30-29; Kappas, Joyboys, 16's Win

Albright's Intramural basketball season rolled into its second week with the Zetas, Kappas, and KTX all racking up victories in the six-team Fraternity wheel while the Joyboys, Nohawks, and 16's emerged victorious in the Independent loop.

The battling KTX fraternity, which last week suffered a 48-29 defeat at the hands of the Kappas, turned the tables on their opponents by nipping the Pi Taus, 30-29. Dick Stinson accounted for half his mates' points on seven field goals and a charity chuck while Johnny Frymoyer, Pi Tau forward, contributed 14 points to the losing cause.

The closest fracas in the Independent league was the Joyboys' 44-35 victory over the Aces. Floyd Rightmire paced his losing squad with a big 16 points, while Jay Sherlach and Dick Moyer headed the winners' scorecard with 12 tallies each.

Kappas Win Second

Kappa Upsilon Phi, after being held to a 15-11 lead at halftime, got rolling in the second half to dump the Red Rockets from the unbeaten class by a score of 38-23. Joe Czutno and Joe Ward led the victors to their second win without a defeat as they tickled the tassels for 12 and eight points, respectively.

The 16's took their second contest largely through the efforts of Frank Maurer who racked up a grand total of 15 markers, 14 of them on field goals. In his team's 32-22 conquest Maurer was seconded by Ed Serfass who dunked four field goals for the 16's.

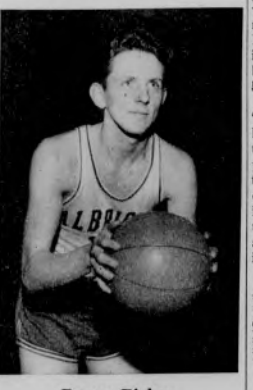

The Zetas earned their first victory in the fraternity loop and roared into a second place tie with the Pi Taus, KTX, and Red Rockets by running roughshod over the winless APO's, 43-24. Pete Rothermel led his winning squad with 14 points while "Easy Ed" Loder and Lefty Leitham followed him up with eight and seven points, respectively.

The APO B's also suffered their second loss when Bob Herman and Norm Tetra amassed 32 tallies between them to spark their Nohawk team's 38-28 victory. Harry Nelson was the big scorer for the losers with a total of ten points.

GUARD EXPERT

Lions Top G-burg Again in 58-57 Hardwood Thriller

Anlian, Mogel, Bieber Clinch Final Lead

In a game that gave the fans thrills galore, and the coaches heart failure, our fighting Lion dribblers, led by the amazing Eddie Anlian, nosed out the Gettysburg Bullets, 58-57, and won their second game in two starts. Even as the final gun sounded, the ball was bouncing ever so gently away from the rim of the Bullet basket, a last second shot which could have reversed the decision had it been true.

The Lions came up with a bit of a surprise for both the fans and the G-burg sharpshooters by springing a two-three zone defense on the Battlefield Boys. The relentless chasing of Anlian and Danny Bieber reduced the effectiveness of all but one of Hen Bream's set artists while the rear three of the zone kept the Bullet ace, Bucky Harris, well bottled up. Harry Pure was the one fly in the Albright ointment all evening long. Besides taking the scoring honors of the game with 26 points, he played a beautiful defensive role, stealing Red and White passes time and time again.

Anlian started things rolling for the Cats with a sweet hook shot, but Gene Coder and the aforementioned Pure decided to match goals and fouls in that hectic first quarter to provide the Bullets with their scoring punch. Along with Anlian, however, Pat Bieber and Lee Cappel kept the Lions abreast of Gettysburg, and it was a Cappel goal and foul that put the Red and White in front at the close of the first quarter, 17-15. Trying desperately to regain the lead padded during the second session by a couple of whistle-clean set shots from the hands of Danny Bieber, the Bullets finally succeeded in overtaking the Lions to lead at half time 30-29.

Ruff Takes Over

With the third quarter underway, Bobby Ruoff decided to try to relieve the nervous tension produced by the nip and tuck battle and promptly proceeded to throw in eight big counters. Ozzie Mogel, having replaced Cappel, who was under threat of being fouled out, showed his varsity style with a bang-up pivot performance. Regardless of the Cats' talented shooting the determined Gettysburg dribblers stayed right on the heels of their game opponents with the help of two set shots by football-famed Ross Sachs.

Still the Lions had the lead going into that hair-raising last quarter, 45-41. As the final quarter began Harry Pure went on a rampage, pushing his team into the lead. But while the clock killed the remaining minutes of play Anlian, Mogel, and Pat Bieber saw fit to sink those all-important 12 points and give Albright a great basketball victory, 58-57.

The scorekeepers do not mark "x's" in their wide black books for headiness or fight, but these qualities, just as much as shooting skill, produced last Saturday night's victory. Anlian's coolness and confidence, along with the great fighting spirit displayed by the whole team will prove to be immeasurable assets as the club wades through its coming outback schedule.

27 Cat Gridders Receive Letters

Election of Captain To Be Held in Fall

Twenty-seven football lettermen attended a meeting held last Wednesday afternoon at 4 p. m. in which they decided to postpone the election of a 1950 football captain until just before the opening of next year's gridiron season. If the two-platoon system is still in use both defensive and offensive team captains will be named. All lettermen will be eligible to participate in the voting next fall.

Arrangements for the lettermen to obtain their sweaters and blankets began Monday in the office of the Faculty Manager of Athletics, Eugene L. Shirk. Eligibility for becoming a letterman was determined on the basis of having played twenty quarters, or two above half the total number scheduled.

Those seniors listed on the letterman's roster are Captain Bernie Koskultz, Dick Koch, Jerry Pedota, Frank Bird, Cal Cizevski, Fred Rosen, and Al Harnly. Junior lettermen are Jim Boaman, Bob Bernhardt, Andy Hydock, Bernie Janis, Dick Lee, Billy Krohto, and Johnny Krouse. Sophomores listed are Dave Lattanzio, Charlie Martone, Joe Czutno, Kenny Kohl, and Tom Savage. Those earning first year letters are Don McCarty, Rod Shippe, Pete DeMarco, Al Weidman, Earl Gernert, Bill Locher, Floyd Rightmire, and Walt Tenley.

Dunkle, Haag Top 200 in Bowling

Professor Laurence N. Haag held sway on the faculty bowling alleys for the second straight week by rolling an average score of 161 and racking up a grand tally of 202 in his last game of the day. Ten faculty rollers participated in the contest for the week in which the entire squad posted a fine average of 145.1.

Top individual scorer for the week was Prof. Edwin R. Dunkle, who brought the math department into the running with a fabulous 207. Top history roller, Prof. John W. Khouri, for the second week remained near the top of the ladder with a 191 score for his third game. Prof. John B. Douds also continued to roll his "English curve" to stay consistently at the top with a second place 157 average.

Gulian Looks for Another Victory Over Experienced Quintet from West Chester

Scranton, Muhlenberg, Dickinson on Tap For Red and White Until January 10

Heading the list of opponents on the busy Lion basketball schedule for the next four weeks are the talented Teachers of West Chester, who appear on the Northwest hardwoods tomorrow night at 8:30 p. m. On January 4, after the Christmas recess, the fighting Cats make their initial away trip of the season to the courts of Scranton. The highly rated Muhlenberg combination then comes into the home den on January 7, and the Gulian men take the road to combat the Red Devils of Dickinson on the following Tuesday.

Also out for win number three, Coach Emil Messikomer brings an experienced Ram quintet into the Front and Spring gym tomorrow evening. Leading the physical ed. majors are big Earl Voss, the team's high scorer, and slippery Ed Mallokowski in the forward slots, six-foot-four Art Nazigan at center, and Issy Osherow pairing with home-bred Max Missbach, a Reading High graduate, at guard.

The future pedagogues licked Baltimore University in their opener and took a hard fought game over Moravian last Saturday, 51-40. The Greyhounds led at the half, 27-24, but the sharp-shooting of Voss and Nazigan on their home court overcame the visitors. Last season the Lions split with the Teachers, taking the first 65-53 and losing away, 59-46.

Royals Sport 2-1 Record

Under their new coach, Doug Holcomb, former pro Reading Keys player, the Royals of Scranton as of now have a two and one record. They slipped by Le Moyne, 56-53, in the initial fray and bowed to mighty St. Bonaventure by a 66-48 score. Lock Haven protected a four-point halftime lead to take a 66-62 victory last Saturday night. Shining in the scoring column were sophomores Joe Foster and Tommy Rittenhouse with 18 and 17 points respectively.

Back on the Purple and White squad is last year's high scorer with 262 markers, Jack Leighton, sharing with Rittenhouse at forward. Six-foot-six "Jumping" Joe Sadowski handles center, and lanky Joe Foster teams with seasoned Walt Stocknick at guard. Charles Tully, a graduate from Central Catholic of Reading, is a sophomore member of the squad.

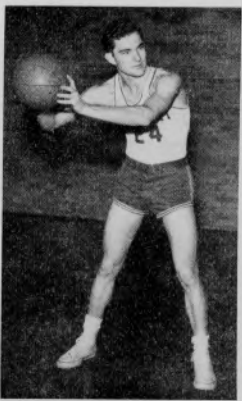

The reappearance of the Mules of Allentown on the Lion schedule brings back an old rival into the basketball fold. The Mules lost to Temple, 56-49, but seem to have uncovered a new scoring threat in Marv Jaffe. Jaffe made seven out of nine shots from the field and three for seven at the foul line to garner 17 points. The Allentonnians led by almost three quarters of the game with margins of up to ten points. Temple didn't beat Muhlenberg by outscoring them from the field, but from the foul line, where they converted 16 out of 22 free throws. The Mules may have lost the service of Harry Donovan, their high scorer of last year, through graduation, but Elmo Jackson, the runnerup with 220 points, is back, plus the ace Leo Martini, Dick McGee, Al Seammer (he had 15 markers in the Temple game) and a host of other seasoned ball players.

Chick Kennedy and his Carlisle Devils entertain the Lions and are out to ring up another victory over the Reading Red and White quintet on their floor. Last season when Gene Evans led the way with 19 points, Dickinson won 56-44. Later our fiery Cats reversed the decision, 61-42, at home. Leading the Kennedy men is Weston Overholt, team captain, who last year ran up 298 tallies with an average of 17.5 per game. Jack Slike, Jim Abbott and sophomores Dick Zilling and Bill Kinsella will probably make up the team.

ECAC Votes to Ban Sports Television

In action announced last week eighty-three members of the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference voted unanimously for a resolution recommending that the National Collegiate Athletic Association bar the use of television broadcasts at all college athletic contests. The resolution was made in the interests of reviving attendance figures especially at football games.

Frosh Defeat RBI; Face Junior Rams In Next Contest

Continuing its winning ways, the Albright Frosh aggregation drubbed Reading Business Institute, 35-26, in the preliminary fracas last Saturday night at Northwest. Don McCarty, Bill Locher, and Pete Albert led the Baby Lions' attack in the rough and tumble battle with 11, 8, and 6 points, respectively. Speedy Locher and brawny Earl Gernert were stand-outs on defense for the victors.

Tomorrow night on the local Northwest court the Kittens will face the Jayvee squad from West Chester State Teachers College. Following the Christmas recess the Frosh will go on the road to Scranton University on Wednesday, January 4, to battle in the preliminary there. At home again on Saturday, January 7, the Baby Lions will face Muhlenberg, and at Carlisle on the following Tuesday will battle the little Red Devils of Dickinson College.

'A Child Is Born' Awakens True Spirit of Christmas

Those of us who each year at this time say Christmas has lost its original spirit cannot help acknowledging that this year through the play, "A Child Is Born," presented Tuesday and Thursday in Chapel we have come to realize some of the full original feeling of the celebration of the Nativity.

This modern drama by Stephen Vincent Benet was excellently staged by Mrs. Voss, who with her cast deserves laurels for producing such a spirit-arousing drama with so limited an amount of time and facilities.

Heading the list of "star performers" is Judith Goodman, who, in her first Albright play, captured the audience with her dramatization of the barren innkeeper's wife who leads all to realize the awe of Christ's birth in the stable of her inn.

The cast of supporting players was unusually well-picked and acted entirely in character, from Deone Dupre, the sultry servant girl, to John Gingrich, the reformed thief.

Hats off to all connected with this production which gave some much needed "real" Christmas spirit.

Reading Children Honored by Y At Christmas Party

No words can express the Christmas joy that was present in the hearts of both the givers and the receivers at the annual Y Christmas party on Sunday, December 11. The 90 "parents for a day" took their children first to dinner and then to Union Hall for the big event, the annual Y Christmas Party.

The first sound that rang throughout Union Hall was that of the children's voices singing "Jingle Bells". After Jack Snook concluded the caroling, Bob Van Houten introduced "Red the Wizard" who held the children spellbound with his magic tricks. Next their attention was turned to Chief Thunder Cloud, Frank Bird, and Little Johnny Beaver, John Savage, Chief Thunder Cloud kept the children stary eyed with his fire eating and rope tricks, while Little Johnny Beaver took the children on an imaginary hunt and also drew pictures for them. The Indian act came to a close, as any Indian affair would, with the native dance, in which many children participated.

Then all of a sudden Santa Claus appeared with his pack full of toys. The children all greeted him with "Merry Christmas, Santa Claus," and then settled down to receive their gifts. They all waited very impatiently for their dolls, trucks, books or skates, and after receiving them, tore open the packages with eager anticipation. The cheers of joy that then descended could be heard everywhere and still remained in the hearts of the "parents" after the children had been taken back to their homes.

40 Enjoy Y Caroling

The Christmas spirit was truly awakened in all the students who went caroling with the Y on Tuesday night, December 13. At 9:30 p. m. 40 carolers gathered in front of the Chapel where they started their caroling by singing to those faculty members who live on campus. Then they went to the homes of various faculty members living in the surrounding district.

Many professors showed their appreciation for the singing by giving the group cookies, popcorn, pretzels, candy and other good things to eat. After the caroling the group returned to the Lower Social Room where they enjoyed the gifts of food.

Originals by H. Kousaros Highlight Local Art Exhibit

Today will mark the closing day of the Union Hall Art Gallery. Probably the first exhibit of its kind, it owes its existence to some Albrightians who are willing to show their talents to their fellow-students despite any possible criticism. Exhibitors were Beverly Bressler, Lillian Boyer, Alice McLoud, Lois Gehris, Harry Kousaros, Sam Santasprit, Robert White and Rod Horning.

While there were some good oil copies, outstanding among the originals was undoubtedly Harry Kousaros with several modern portraits. His color scheme was impressive and created room for much personal interpretation.

Sam Santasprit exhibited a water color sketch which merited the praise of all visitors, and various comments passed through the crowd of co-ed's as to who in the Science Hall may have been the original model. Sam's etchings were delicately warm and of a type that will always warrant interest. Another one of his water-colors showed extreme sensitive perception and creation.

Alice McLoud had a pleasant oil painting exhibited, possibly the study of someone's Walden Pond—1949. More of her talent should be seen for an over-all conception, and she might have titled her picture.

All exhibitors have helped to create a trend of encouraging student and faculty "after dinner" artists, as well as those professionally interested in the field. It is to be hoped that this trend will continue. Incidentally, the artists' works should have had much better lighting. That, titling of pictures, and numbering them instead of naming the artist, may help the gallery visitor on his future visits to our own college art-exhibition. —W.W.H.

Davis Appoints Geil To Civic Position

The appointment of Dr. Milton G. Geil, head of the department of psychology, to the newly-created Reading Redevelopment Authority was announced December 7, by Mayor John F. Davis.

and interpreting public opinion, at the tenth session.

Prof. Lewis Smith will discuss the importance and construction of constitutions at the 11th session. The 12th meeting will present a discussion on the rights and responsibilities of students and the relationship of students, faculty, administration and trustees. At the 13th session the relationship between leaders and followers will be considered, as well as the benefits to be derived from better coordination between organizations, the place of student council, and the question of representation.

The 14th session will feature an address by the regional NSA president, followed by a discussion on student government and NSA. The final meeting will be in the nature of a review of the course with suggestions for a similar one next year.

Various materials will be distributed to help students with their study of leadership. Since faculty approval of the program has already been given, only final arrangements need to be made.

Members of the committee which planned the Leadership Training program are Larry Bott, Beverly Bresler, Doris Chanin, David Roland, John Scholastico and Joyce Thompson.

The course is open to all students. The committee particularly urges that it be taken by those who are in positions of campus leadership now or will be in the future, and by those who will be working in positions which will require leading people after graduation.

Cigars Evident As Gates Celebrates

Cigars were in evidence on campus this week celebrating the birth of an eight pound, seven ounce, blue eyed, curly black-haired girl born to Mr. and Mrs. William Kelleher. Mrs. Kelleher was formerly Betty Gates of the library staff and daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Donald Gates.

Mary Ellen, who was born December 12 at noon in Scranton, was formally registered for the class of 1971 by proud Grandpa Gates, who also reported the mother and baby were doing fine and the grandparents were recovering.

Letter To The Editor

"Dear Editor:

The following resolution was unanimously adopted by the members of the Zeta Omega Epsilon Fraternity at their meeting held December 5, 1949:

"Whereas, the Student Council of Albright College is at present debating a change in the representation of Student Council which would eliminate the Social Fraternities' representation on that Council and

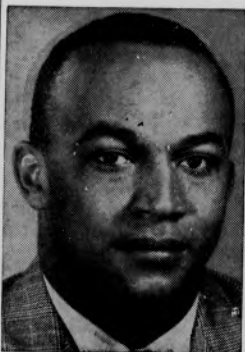

"Whereas, the active members of the Zeta Omega Epsilon Fraternity deem such an amendment as contrary to their beliefs and well-being and injurious to fraternity prestige,

"Therefore be it resolved, by the Zeta Omega Epsilon Fraternity of Albright College, that the said Fraternity hereby goes on record as bitterly opposed to any change in the representation of Student Council which would deprive the Zeta Fraternity or any other social fraternity on campus of its representation on Student Council.

"And be it further resolved, that the active members of Zeta Omega Epsilon do hereby direct the present Zeta representatives on Student Council to resist and oppose any such proposed change in Council representation."

Presented by: Richard A. Bausher
Seconded by: Jack Miller
Passed unanimously
John J. McKenna Jr., President

Editor's Note: The above resolution was passed the day before the proposal for a new system of representation in the new constitution was voted on successfully but not unanimously, December 6, 1949.

Ted Perry, vice-president of the United States National Student Association, will speak at the assembly of the Pennsylvania Region NSA, to be held on the Albright Campus from December 16 to 18. He is a senior majoring in accounting at Temple University.

The final plenary session will convene at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. At this time reports of the workshops will be continued, special committees will report and the Regional Advisory Board will be elected.

Albrightians Thanked

At the meeting of Student Council held last Tuesday, Miss Chanin thanked all Albrightians who had helped to make arrangements for a successful conference. This is the second successive year that Albright has been honored by being chosen the site for the semi-annual PRUSNSA sessions.
